Editor's Notes

... February made me shiver
With every paper I'd deliver.
Bad news on the doorstep
I couldn't take one more step.

I can't remember if I cried
When I read about his widowed bride.
But something touched me deep inside
The day the music died.
-American Pie by Don McLean

Record cold and snow covered much of North America and Europe as winter winds howled and the mercury plummeted. Even Thailand experienced extremely cold temperatures and arguably the coldest Bangkok Monday Hash ever. You can tell it is winter in Bangkok because the dogs are wrapped up in T-shirts and the locals break out their winter jackets, gloves and scarves for a few days. This never lasts long before the sun warms everything up, and the temperatures soar over the next several months.

The passing of David Bowie aka Ziggy Stardust, and Glen Frey of the Eagles leaves us with countless memories of past decades. A Hash Legend in his own right, Johnny "Condom" Johnson also left us for that great Hash trail in the sky, where he's probably sharing a Beerlao with his old friends Eddie "Kuntfoo" Chung Gon and Hans "The General" Kumpel, while reminiscing about their many good times together. Johnny Johnson's memoirs of his life in Laos are a must read in this edition.

Speaking of good times on trail, Gina Lolobrigida, aka Slut Machine ventured north to penetrate the all male bastion of the Puget Sound H3. How did the men of Seattle welcome her? Read her expose to discover the dirt on these guys' shoes.

It is not too early to make plans for Eurohash next year in Vienna. This city so rich in culture and history is located at the crossroads of the Ottoman and Roman empires. Follow in the footsteps of The Third Man along the Blue Danube for this Eurohash extravaganza.

The mysteries of the Full Moon Hashes and the Hong Kong Friday Hash House Harriers are revealed in this edition.

I hope you enjoy the February edition of Harrier Magazine and that I'll see you on trail soon.

HASHING IN USA

Now that Interam 2015 is over and memories are fading like a dull hangover, Portland is on the map for traveling hashers. One thing that's unique about Portland is that there are 12 kennels up north in and outside of Seattle, Washington.

One of those hashes is the Puget Sound H3. This is an all men's group that runs on the first and third Saturday mornings during the Winter months -- and on first and third Thursday nights during the Summer months. These dedicated wankers are strict about bimbos "just showing up" to hash and it's invitation only for any lady who likes all the attention on them. Well, that sounded a lot like a Slut to me. So, I emailed the GM "Just Can't Get it Up" and with my reputation and credentials with Harrier Magazine I was formally invited.

I looked at the Washington calendar of runs and picked the PSH3 #936 on Thursday October 15th. Word was sent out to PSH3 that the notorious Slut Machine and Stinkfinger, OH3 Tyrant were going to bless them with our presence. Luckily with my connections, I landed crash space with a very good friend of mine, Pocahomo.

With the sunny Summer nights gone and the long dark evenings ahead, I anticipated my trip and looked forward to meeting some new faces.

We pulled up to a parking lot and were greeted by 13 local wankers, and a visitor from Corvallis H3 who stumbled upon PSH3 by pure coincidence. I talked to Fucking Crazy, a familiar face who told me that the Puget Sound Hash is one of four all men's hashes in the nation, and from my understanding the first established hash in the Pacific Northwest. There were rumors of an all men's hash in Los Angeles, but nothing confirmed.

As far as hash history goes, PSH3 was started in 1981. The founders were Boeing ex-pats who returned from Tehran when the Ayatollah took over (Groper, Rotten, et al). From there hashes started springing up including the Seattle H3 and the Tacoma H3. Within two years (83' to 85") hashing opportunities grew from about 17 hashes per year to about 72. Pretty impressive.

So back to the trail. It was shitty and I ended up DFL but had a wonderful time and was quite honored to be there as the sun slipped into the Pacific Ocean.

We ended (I believe) at the hares' house overlooking the Pugetopolis skyline with cold beer, a fire, hot dogs and religion run by RA Muddy Balls. Stinkfinger and I were both honored and given PSH3 patches which I proudly wear on my Happi Coat.

Being the gracious visitor I am, I bestowed a gift to the group. It was a "drinking cloak" made with blue velvet and faux fur. It became a hot topic and there were discussions on how they would decorate the cloak.

All in all, it was a great night to hash. Thanks go out to Just Can't Get It Up, F*cking Crazy, Dick in a Box, Midget Molester, Muddy Balls and Pocahomo.

EUROPE

By Julie Burgess

The Vindobona Hash House Harriers are pleased to welcome hashers from around the world to Vienna for Eurohash 2017. Registration opened Friday, 20 November at 18:00 CET, and it took only 43 minutes for the first 100 registrations to go. By the end of the weekend, the event already had 250 registrations. This will also be VH3's 35th birthday party, and there is of course no better way to celebrate a milestone birthday than to host a EuroHash. It will definitely be the biggest birthday celebration of the year!

CONTENTS

Vienna, conveniently located in the center of Europe, is rich in culture. Its long history is reflected in the diverse architecture, ranging from early Medieval to Modern like the Kunst Haus Wien. Vienna has been the capital of the Austro-Hungarian Empire as well as the cross roads of the Ottomans and the Romans. This city is where East meets West. And so it is only natural, that one of the trails on EuroHash weekend will demonstrate this by crossing the Hungarian border where Western and Eastern Europe physically meet. There will be a variety of runs, offering trails through vineyards, rolling hills and along the grand Danube River. Some of the more challenging runs will venture over alpine trails

In honour of the 35th Birthday, there will be a full week of events. Hashers can plan a hashing and sightseeing holiday in Vienna and the Austrian countryside. Pre-Rambles include the Red Dress Run and the Third Man Event. The Third Man Events are unique to Vindobona H3. The Third Man is a film noir playing in post war Vienna, when the city was divided into sectors by the victorious allies, and where a shortage of supplies led to a flourishing black market. It tells the story of Holly Martins, who comes to Vienna to meet his ex-school friend, Harry Lime. Harry has allegedly died, yet it soon turns out that this is not necessarily true. The Vienna Hash has been leading Hashers on the infamous footsteps of Harry Lime for many years, a mystery which winds its way through the ruins of a half destroyed Vienna, down the dark back alleys, as well as underground and into the Viennese canal system. On the Wednesday before EuroHash, as it says on the much sought after vintage Third Man T-shirt, they will again be "Checking for the Third Man".

Vindabona H3 was named after the Roman settlement which is now modern day Vienna. The first run was set by a couple of hashers named Hans and Lan, who were stationed in Vienna at their respective embassies. Hans Saxinger hashed with the Carthage Hash in Tunis, and Lan Yarbrough hashed with Hong Kong H3. They both encouraged their colleagues from the embassies to join in on the hashing fun, and in 1982, the Vienna hash was born. Here is an extract from the First Re-Hash; "There was an Irish terrorist who was sent out on his first job. He was told to blow up a government car... He burned his lips on the exhaust pipe!" Over the last 35 years, the humour at Vindabona remains unchanged and is alive and well. For more history of VH3, check out <http://www.viennahash.org/history.html>.

Eurohash 2017

July 7-9

<http://eurohash2017.feosc.org/>

The Vindabona Hash has been busy over their 35 years of existence, producing daughter hashes in European cities like Munich, Strasbourg, Graz and Ljubljana. The club has even become the parent to North American hashes like LAFFTER H3 in Ontario and the White House H4.

History of the Hong Kong Friday HHH

by Mark "Hopeless" Hope

HASHING IN HONG KONG

CONTENTS

Some of the best (hash) ideas are hatched in a bar after a run, some say.

So it was to be that the Hong Kong Friday H3 (HKFH3) came into existence. Sat in the hash bar of Hong Kong, The Queen Victoria, Hopeless and Thermal Dick considered life. "This Friday is the 29th February, we've no hash chapters in Hong Kong on a Friday, why not do a Leap Year Hash?" quipped Thermal Dick, sipping his 6th pint of Carlsberg. "Great idea, we only need to hare every four years, let's do it!" replied Hopeless.

So it was that at 7pm on Friday the 29th February, 2008, the inaugural run took place in Tin Hau, with a keen pack of 16 hashers completing 8km of trail and an entertaining Circle which ended up in a small room at the back of a Thai restaurant. HKFH3's first naming took place that night, with Piss Perfect naming "Community Chest" much to the amusement of the waitress as beer was poured over her head.

Word quickly spread that there was a hash on a Friday. "Why only every 4 years?!" was the cry from the hashing fraternity, hungry for more. Under pressure, Flounder Hopeless then set run #2 five weeks later, declaring that HKFH3 would be a monthly hash, with hares choosing which Friday of the month they wished to set trail.

Seven years on and HKFH3 is thriving with an average pack size of 31, with 104 different hares having contributed to the monthly fun.

January 1st marks HKFH3's 100th run, to be hared by Hopeless and Lost In Translation which is sure to be well attended with the attraction of a beach venue, mince pies and mulled wine! Prior to this momentous occasion HKFH3 is also this year's host of "Santa Hash" – a gathering of all the Hong Kong hash groups for the single purpose of raising money for Operation Santa Claus, a charity for children in Hong Kong.

HKFH3 has, like any other hash chapter, ebbs and flows with numbers, with run themes and events. Run #8 was The Olympic Run where hashers took turns front running with a replica of the Beijing Olympic Torch. Lamma Island is the venue of the annual Easter Friday Run. Run #69 tee shirt was extremely popular, only to be upstaged by Run #83's shirt. Run #83 was the (possible) Scottish Independence Day Run, with shirts made prior to the election result, depicting a possible new flag for what would be left of The United Kingdom.

Run records show 477 different hashers on HKFH3 since its start, not a bad result from a late night idea at the back of a bar!

Laos through my eyes

- Johnny Johnson

pics by Dayak, Jimmy Wilkins, others

This article is part of a series of guest blogs contributed by Brits who have lived and worked in Laos, or who have other interesting links to Laos.

Having been in Laos over 47 years, both before, during & after the Revolution in '75, I suppose I must be one of the oldest residents still around in a country that one would expect to have changed a great deal over this period but in reality, it has only in the last ten or eleven years.

LAOS

LONG TIME VIENTIANE (LAOS) HASHER JOHNNY "CONDOM" JOHNSON PASSED AWAY PEACEFULLY LAST NIGHT AFTER A LONG ILLNESS. CONDOM ORGANIZED MANY EVENTS INCLUDING THE 2011 INDOCHINA MEKONG HASH IN LIANG PRABANG. HE MOST RECENTLY ATTENDED THE IMH EVENT HELD IN YANGON, MYANMAR (NOVEMBER 2015) WHERE HE AWARDED SEVERAL DOWN DOWNS AND TOOK A SEAT ON THE ICE. OUR CONDOLENCES TO HIS FAMILY AND FRIENDS.

CONTENTS

When I arrived in Vientiane in September 1966, Vientiane was completely submerged (as was Nongkhai & Udon Thani) with the exception of KM3 – Thadeua Road, That Luang and the Patouxay, then known as the Vertical Runway. British involvement in Laos was quite extensive at that time – Co-Chairman with the Russians of the Geneva Conference on the Neutrality of Laos – complete with a light aircraft for monitoring incidents breaking the ceasefire, it was a member of the five countries supporting the Lao currency, over 25 Voluntary Service Overseas workers working as teachers & engineers, the construction & personnel support under the Colombo Plan for Lao Radio in Vientiane, Luang Prabang, Savannakhet & Pakse. It also had an active Lao-British football club, participated in the rugby and had enthusiastic male & female boat racing teams.

The Embassy was housed in what is now the 'Save The Children' building, the Security Office was opposite, with the Ambassador's residence around the corner, currently occupied by the Australian Ambassador, there was a British Club with a tennis court & pool beside the embassy, with 'fish & chip' lunches on a Sunday with a movie at night.

My first job was as a barman at the Lane Xang Hotel, the staff were all Vietnamese who spoke only French and with the continuing influx of Americans & other English speakers, the director Michel Theodas required someone who spoke English – so as a Scouser, I felt that I might qualify. He had originally run the old Settha Palace Hotel and on the completion of the Lane Xang, the government asked him to take it over, incidentally he was the father of the current director of the revamped Settha Palace Hotel – Billy Theodas.

Over the period of the next ten years, I worked for a number of companies, the infamous Third Eye Bar & Restaurant, financed by a New York psychiatrist, who also opened the alternative American Embassy at That Dam, flying a black & white Stars & Stripes which was a must-see for Russian journalists amongst others.

Later, I was at the Settha Palace Hotel, both at Monty Banks's (a member of the UK's Magic Circle) little bar there & also then for the two Americans that ran it, leaving there to work at the first Vientiane International School as a jack-of-all-trades. Further on, I worked for a German owned packing & shipping company – Van Service Worldwide (VSW) at That Luang, whose principal owner had a picture of two vultures over his desk covered by curtains, however whenever a customer or other irritated him, he would press a button, the curtains would open on the vultures, with one saying to the other –“Patience my arse, I'm going to kill somebody!” The situation was diffused pretty quickly especially when he pressed a bell, which with the requisite rings, would inform the coffee shop next door to bring the required number of beers. It rang pretty often during the afternoon sessions.

After the sale of VSW to a Thai entity, I ran a shipping company in Samsenthai until after the coalition government was established and on their pull-out from Laos, I joined Virachit Philanphandeth (ex secretary of the Lao British Association) in the take-over of his father's furniture manufacturing company at KM5, Road 13 North. His father started one of the oldest Lao companies after WWII and supported the Lao Issara in their fight for independence against the French.

Virachit had a contact for building the main camp for the Nam Ngum 1 Hydropower Plant Extension and we made the windows & doors for the project and furniture required for the revolutionary forces until he was sent for reeducation in 1976.

At that point the company was forced to close due to the lack of wood, the government having banned all logging. Having been arrested as a suspected saboteur, though subsequently released (I was also arrested by the previous government for being a suspected communist), my wife decided that we should take an extended holiday abroad, which included the UK, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Cyprus & Thailand, during which time we visited Laos numerous times to see the family and check out the opportunities, eventually returning full time to Vientiane to work with Virachit again at Connell Bros (KP) Co., Ltd, the Lao distributor for Unilever, Kimberly Clark, SiamTyre & Bridgestone.

Since then, I worked at Sepon for Lane Xang Minerals, then Australian owned and Phu Bia Mining, also Australian and both times at the construction start-up – an excellent & fascinating intro into the beginnings of the Lao mining industry and learning to work at a very high level of modern industrial safety & productivity compared with the norm.

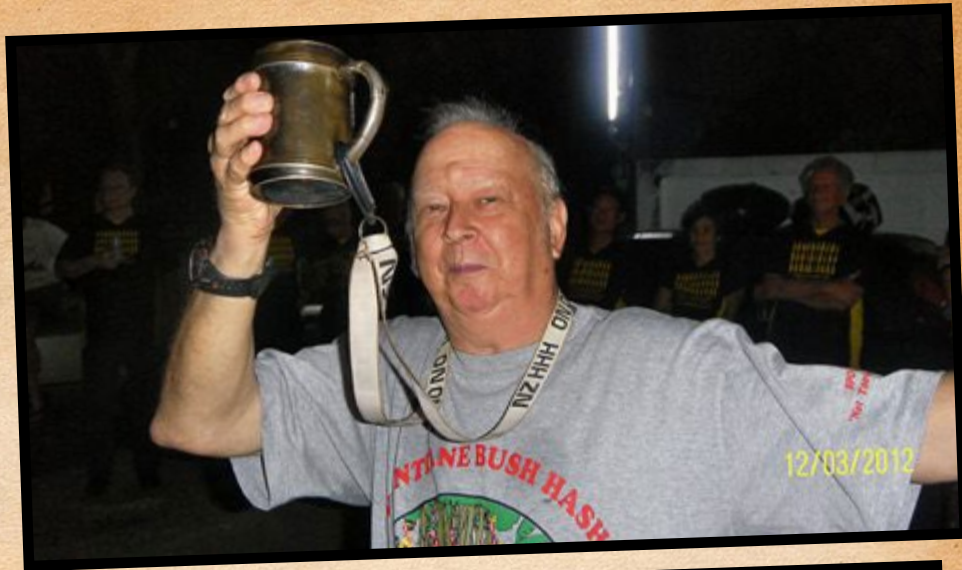

Finally for the last seven years, I have headed SPS Export – Import Co., Ltd, otherwise known as Specialized Products Supply, a wholesale & retail distribution company representing various companies in the Lao PDR – Cormix International (Construction Chemicals), Lohaprateeep Industry (Shelving & Racking), Jenbunjerd Company (Materials Handling Equipment), Stihl (Power Tools), Dormer Engineering (Drilling Augers & Equipment), Pelican Products (Flashlights & Waterproof Cases), Pangolin (Safety Boots, Shoes & Equipment), plus Spill Control Absorbents and various other odds and sods.

THE HISTORY OF FULL MOON HASHING, HOW WE GOT OUR OWN NASH HASH AND A BUNCH OF OTHER STUFF . . .

. . . according to Smartarse

It was 1989 and a few of us were sat having a beer along with Martin 'Ringpiece' Pooley. He had this idea that he wanted to start a weekly hash in the north Essex area. He had just relocated from Saudi, where he'd hashed quite a bit, and we'd got together to work it out. Always the positive one, I told him it wasn't going to work as there were already many weekly hashes and we needed to think of something different. 'Ok, smartarse,' he says, 'what have you got?' (Just a note here: this was not my hash name at this point.) He was calling my bluff. The full moon idea hit me when I ran in the States in July 1988. I ran with Boulder H3 and the sight of the moon rising over The Rockies that night was pretty amazing. The next week I hashed in San Diego, where The Original Full Moon Hash started in October 1987. It was Mr Spock, Manhandler and Van Go who were responsible for getting it all going. Spock tells me: "At InterHash 1986 VanGo heard tell of hashes held on the night of the full moon. Sounded like a good idea. There was only one Hash in San Diego we could go to and that was not

The man to blame
- Mr Spock

enough. So we invented a reason to hash more. Voila FHM3. About 30 of our friends agreed and we were off and running." I'd been hashing in Singapore in 1987 and heard the same thing, but it seemed to be regular hashes that were running on a full moon rather than a dedicated hash doing it once a month. I decided to check with Horn-E, another luminary of the full moon world, who's been hashing in Chicago for many a year. He says: "I have always believed the Spock San Diego story. A hasher named Downwind, originally from Hawaii, came back from a business trip with the Full Moon story."

THE DEVON LUNATICS

Luckily, the school allowed camping, campers and vans, and dorm rooms. Enough choice for everyone. Make sure you have traffic direction and various Go-fers #slaves for the whole weekend. Good luck you crazy, poor Hash!!!!" Thanks for that insight Easy. Now we know. The GM's election meeting took place at breakfast on the Sunday, well, almost. It was a long weekend and picking the next hosts wasn't easy. Being geographically considerate, it was decided that the Devon Lunatics would give it a go. Okehampton was the location and the theme for the weekend would be 'The Hound of The Basquervilles.' Around 120 turned up to howl at the moon. What more can be said for hashing in Devon that hasn't already been stated. They have wonderful scenery and had ordered the right weather. Even for a fledgling full moon chapter, they got it pretty well sorted. However, a feeling of being in the wrong place at the right time overtook me and I said to Tops that we probably needed to do the next one. She agreed. There was a meeting of lunatics, and we made sure that Mr X was the one who was taped to the table. Job done. It has been an interesting two years in the making, but here it is The Blue Side of The Moon.

FULL MOONERS REMEMBER

We're all of an age where we've had to deal with losing a number of great hashers, and I don't mean losing them on trail. Let's cherish the memory of some great friends.

FUK Full Mooners:

Max Boyce

Goose

Hairy Fairy

Titanic

Specky

The founding father of the Ebley Full Moon Hash Phensic, sorely missed by many hashers in the Cheltenham and Cotswold area, as will Deep Shite.

Riding the Full Moon Hash would like to raise glass to Jack Tar who helped organise the first Riding The Full Moon run, and Wonkey Donkey who designed the logo.

RIDING THE FULL BROOM IN YORKSHIRE

My main recollection of the next FMNH, in Yorkshire, was that it was wet, but that's not the most informative of reports, so I asked Easy Access to flesh it out a bit. Here's the word from up north . . . 'So, you've "volunteered" to do the next Full Moon Nash Hash. You fool! How have you got yourself into that predicament?! Better get on with it then.

First, find a chef! Beer would seem to be the most important but oh no! Feed hashers well and they will follow you on the worst trail imaginable. You only have to discuss the Nash Hash (that shall remain nameless) to understand the depths of hash stomachs. We were beyond lucky to have Chef Smuttars in Yorkshire who masterminded every morsel from wholesaler to your plate. And, get yourself some kitchen slaves who will remain on duty throughout. The kitchen at Malsis school had to be left spotless after the weekend. You could see your bloodshot, bloated face in every surface by Monday morning.

Next, have a good GM. Lick it Up was the silent assassin of delegators! If you took one too many breaths per minute in a meeting, our GM gave you a job! And, don't let that lost, older hasher look fool you; she is lethal. Lick it Up knew minute to minute what needed to done.

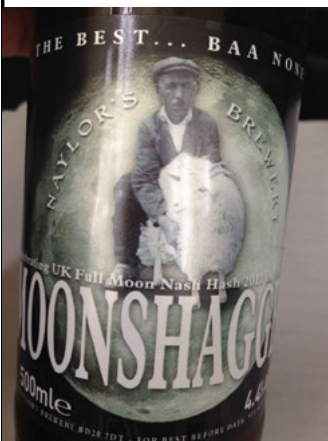

A venue, a venue, my kingdom for a venue. For Lick it Up and D'dog wandering aimlessly around Yorkshire worked amazingly. They found an old, established stone prep school that would fit the Hogwarts theme. They ambushed the headmaster and he gave it away for the weekend for a song.

Candyfloss organised a full on bar with pumps from the local Naylor's brewery. They relabeled a bottle for us with our MoonShagger label. Smuttars and Candyfloss had stockpiled a variety of wine boxes from some regular trips to France. The choice was amazing! Lagers and ciders were also well represented.

The hares set a long distance pub crawl for the Friday. Saturday dawned wet, soggy, and a bit chilly. Perfect for a long run on the mountains of Yorkshire. Vote for wettest beer stop ever occurred that day!

The sun hinted at an appearance during the circle. It peeked around the curtains a bit more for the ferret racing in the afternoon. It was taking off its Mac for the band in the evening.

The theme was Hogwarts and Harry Potter which the school was perfect for decorating. Creamy Ring and HRT were in control here. We had Hufflehash, Slytherhash, Ravenhash, and Griffenhash. We had a little train and fireworks to open the weekend on the Friday.

Rain God Maddog in his element

FULL MOON HISTORY

"So we started ours in 1987. He and I were Co-Hares. It went well and we even had a mason jar with some Moonshine on a hill in a park. The next one was a total washout after laying trail in the rain. Unfortunately it was two years later before Downwind, Cosmo and myself restarted it."

"I took over as GM in 1991 and in the last year I finally passed it off to a young guy who was better able to bring in fresh bodies. When we started ours, there was only one hash in Chicago and we started it to just add some hashing." So it sounds like the same story, regular hashers looking for another opportunity to hash. I tried to find out a bit more about these occasional chapters who were hashing on a full moon and talked to Hazukashi. He's been keeping us up to date with his Go To The Hash website for a number of years. The Singapore FM Hash seems to be the first recorded example on 31st Dec 1983. This was followed by Christchurch on 30th March 1984, then Chicago, 13th Feb 1987, and then the Original FM in San Diego.

Anyway as I was saying, I saw this advert in the local paper in 1989. We gathered at a pub near Stansted airport, where he used to work, called The Ash in Burton End. It was our home for many years. All of the committee meetings were held there. We had a kind of unwritten rule saying that wherever we ran, we would be near enough to get to The Ash in time for last orders. It was ok until one day I'd ordered a beer for Little Ted, to be picked up when he finished his current pint, and they thought we were trying to short change them, or something. How many times had we been there and how many beers had we bought. Amazing. We never went back. So the first r*n was in March 1990 and Martin wrote an article to go in the same local paper which read: Hash Dash from The Ash.

That was 25 years ago. Panda Fact: did you know that Kebab was born on the same day as FUKFMH3? One at 6am and the other at 6pm. You may also be interested in knowing that Little Ted, (left, white shirt) had hashed in Athens a few years earlier and told me they used to sing that Rule Britannia song, you know, the one with marmalade and jam.

FULL MOON HASHING SPREADS

At the end of the verse, he said, they came out with the 'How Would, You Like' bit that you all know and love. Yes, that was us, and that's how it started. Not an original, as Likk'mm knows, but one we are majorly responsible for spreading. Actually, it was not going anywhere for a while. I'd be standing there in the circle asking you know what and the pack would be off into the pub until Flapper joined us from Cambridge. Not that we needed any encouraging, but his input helped us to take it to the next level.

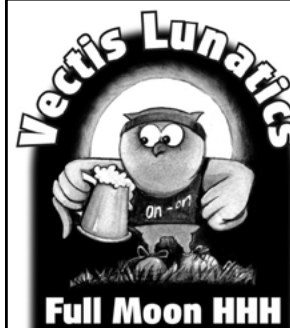

So that's my bit about full moon hashes. A number of them started popping up in the UK and one day I was standing next to Borange at the Cheltenham & Cotswold Nash Hash and we got to talking about events and stuff. 'This nash hash thing is ok,' I say, 'but it's a shame we don't have one for us full mooners.' I guess he talks to Mad Dog, Martini or someone down that way because in 1999 what do we see: The First Full Moon Nash Hash organised by Ebley FMH3 from Painswick. This was June 1999 by the way. Maddog tells me that Ebley Full Moon Hash was conceived in Malaysia. Phensic and Hollow Legs became regular runners with the Kuala Lumpur Full Moon Hash (which was started by two FUK Full Mooners as it happens) and immediately noticed the similarity between the climate and terrain surrounding KL and that of Ebley. Many nights they spent scheming and planning, planning and scheming and soon the plan was perfected, they must travel back to Ebley and put their plan into action.

They managed to escape from Malaysia posing as an eccentric British couple who were returning to England to start a full moon hash, it was a perfect guise. After they had been strip searched several times for drugs and recreation, or was it recreational drugs they shared a joint with the customs official and winged their way home. On return to Blighty they were immediately strip searched, beaten with birch sticks and then rolled in snow, the traditional welcome at the Old Crown, which is where the plans were finalised.

THE VECTIS LUNATICS

Hashing existed on the Isle of Wight, but Awaydays were not enough and so it was mooted the idea of ANOTHER Hash. Fracas goes on to say: "Good idea... Do It" is the time-honoured response to such ideas but, unlike others, P-Rick ('Pearson, Richard' in army parlance) did. The Vectis Lunatics Full Moon Hash was born. The VLFMH3 conventions (There are No Rules) were formed on the trainer. "I'm the GM" said P-Rick "and no Kommitee". Thus, a yearned-for status was acquired, commensurate with being an ex-army officer. The runs should be of one hour duration (changed after P-Rick's initial two-hour Rickathon). Starts 18.30 prompt (changed to 19.00 prompt so that P-Rick didn't have to hurry home from work). Benign dictatorship works. The RA is chosen on the night. This innovation unearthed a range of talent - not always a good thing. Sardine, egg, tinned fruit, milk DD's plus funny walks and jokes have been employed to amuse the proletariat. The logo, a friendly-looking owl is an alternative to the Halloween style of other FM Hashes. The Runs, all-weather, all-terrain, curry nights and good beer but mostly the enjoyment is produced by those that participate so Well Done all Lunatics. P-Rick adds: 'For FMNH0006, we chose the theme based on the Ticket to Ride tag, as folklore has it that Lennon penned it on a trip to the Island (before Hashing was invented!). The venue promises to be excellent will be a weekend to Remember. P-Rick said about if afterwards: 'On a personal note, Ticket to Ryde gave me a very proud sense of achievement particularly with the Summer Holiday Open Top Bus Red Dress R#n on the Friday. My team all came up with the goods, mainly because I let them express how they wanted it to be, not the way I wanted it to be. To be honest with our average age group, the Beatles were always going to go down well. I was personally pleased to dispense with a goody bag and produce a jacket that is still worn today. To sum it up, it was bloody marvellous for myself and the hashers of the isle of Wight to host a National Hash as August Bank could never happen here.'

THE RETURN OF EBLEY

The weather improved by the time the Hash had run down to Norchard Station on the verdant & wet Dean Forest Railway, Lemming was among those who found had fun by jumping in the puddles at the Station! The Pack got to see an old steam shunting engine called 'Charlie' & this led to many photos of Charlie & The Brewer having their picture taken before getting an old Diesel train along the line toward Lydney. The second part of the Run would be a tour around the local woodland. Here, Chuck & Vibrator made their way around with their first offspring in a special waterproof back pack that looked like it was a 1950s designers idea of a 'SpaceAge' look of the future.

While the Pack ran around the beautiful Gloucestershire countryside a very important, unscheduled, GMs meeting took place in The Fountain. A Pub that saw plenty of short-cutters pay it a visit, among the usual suspects was one PRick. The likes of Mr. X, Windsock, Twonk, Tops, MyLilSperm'ead all reminded P-Rick that he had once put a bid in to stage a Full Moon Nash Hash, before a failed attempt at emigrating Back at the site & the GMs meeting was a foregone conclusion after the meeting in the Pub - P-Rick was volunteered and, even if he didn't want to give his consent, the drinks going around soon left him incapable of resisting.

Guernsey FM still going strong

FULL MOON NASH HASH NUMBER ONE

There would be two preliminary runs from The Crown. The first was on the 13th November, 1995, a newspaper advertisement was placed, a few friends were asked and the whole of the pub was invited, the landlord Stuart was one of the keenest. Nineteen turned up in trepidation, not many had ever hashed before, what the hell was it all about? Phensic and Hollow Legs had been out and laid a trail using flour and chalk. They very carefully explained the markings and rules of hashing and then told us there were no rules. All I remember of this is tearing around the surrounding housing estates before disappearing into some fields and returning to the pub, the markings were quite simple and we soon got the hang of them. I appeared to be deliberately looking for the false trails, I have since discovered that I have a defective gene that makes me do this regularly.

The official run number 1, January 16th 1995, was again from the Crown and again set by Phensic and Hollowlegs (known from now on as P&H), somehow I had managed to get lumped with the write-up, always been a sucker. We had 54 runners, of which 37 were from C2H3, many of which soon became regular EFMH3 runners. I have varied recollections of this evening, running up and over Doverrow Hill in pitch black, looking back to see a snake of lights following. The next run, Pebbles was coaxed into doing the write-up, was from the Kings Stanley Sports club and a meeting was arranged to vote in committee/coven members. As we all know power breeds corruption and here is the evidence of that, the first coven: GM - Stormin Norman, RA - Phensic, Hon Sec/Hash Cash - Hollow Legs, Trailmaster - Borange, Hash Horn - Slugger, Beer Master - Crown Prince, Hash extras - Snowballs, FT, Badger. Runs 3 and 4 were both set from the Old Crown and there was a general feeling that the that although this was to be hash HQ we should make good use of the excellent pubs in the beautiful surrounding countryside.

Tops, Sock & Action Man at Painswick

THE 2ND FULL MOON HASH

We appreciated the support that the pub had given us, notice the name of the pub on the Hash T-Shirt, along with the other sponsor, Jonsrad Partner but if the hash was to survive we had to move on. So the hash left the Old Crown and haven't returned, yet.'

Ebley did a great job with the inaugural FM Nash Hash. Mr X recalls: 'One of the highlights was the excellent hand-painted T-shirt, designed by MadDog & Pebbles - it looked like something off of Blue Peter.'

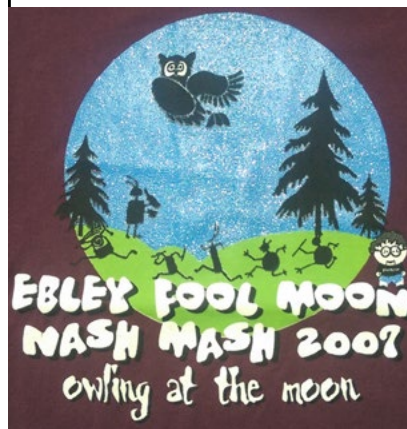

Action Man wears the glove!

In the goody bag there was a rubber monster hand that was to be worn on your drinking hand. If you were seen drinking without it you were liable for a Down-Down! Somehow Action Man was wearing it and still got a down down. Who's that with the helmet? The question now was, who was going to follow that? Well, no matter what we did to avoid it, somehow we were in the wrong place to be volunteered for number two which took place in 2001. We entitled it the Second UK Moon Extravaganza (aka SUKME) and it centred around Windsock's local pub—The Prince of Wales, Stow Maries, Essex. The highlight for me was the black dress r'n on the Friday night in Burnham on Crouch. Here's the scene: one hundred hashers, many of them men, wearing black dresses crossing the road opposite the station to the first pub. One woman driving along could not believe it, forgot to brake, and ploughs into the car in front. Imagine the wording on her insurance form! So we wander along to pub number three. Sock and I are marking and setting up the beers ahead of the pack. Oh yes, pub number three is a skinhead pub. Some of the skinheads aren't impressed with two (what could be) gays in dresses marching into their pub. One of them gets all aggressive and Sock offers to take him outside. Luckily, the other ninety eight hashers are arriving at this point and he decides to get out while the getting is good. The landlord, who was ok with us going there, is laughing at some loser who probably has never heard the last of it.

At the GMs meeting, one P-Rick announced that the Vectis Lunatics would stage the next Full Moon Nash Hash. As it happens, events over took him and Ebley got the nod. Before we hand over to Maddog, Borange and crew, I need to relate a conversation I was having with Vibrator about the formation of the Guernsey Full Moon. As with Ebley (who got the idea from KL—who got the idea from us!) she tells me she got the idea from Tops and Windsock.

The Fifth Full Moon Nash Hash in 2007 saw Ebley back in charge. That's not all, it was a Blue Moon Weekend which began with a Blue Dress Pub Crawl Run around all of the two Pubs in the village, there could have been more controversy but it was sensibly dropped as this was village where three of the locals had only just been recently jailed for imprisoning a man in a garden shed & tortured him to death!

A plethora of Blue dresses hit the streets and, just to add a 'Blue Rinse' look, Lemming would add a special topping of spraying the heads of the blokes with blue spray-paint! Now, normal people would use hair dye, unfortunately Lemming's was a can of spray paint - the likes of the Herts guys in particular would be wearing it for days! Mr. X was worried the following morning while in the showers as he was trying to remove some of said blue paint from his bonce, when Panda asked if he had any nail polish remover on him? Where would he have had that secreted about his person?

Sadly our record of it being sunny and bright for FMNH was dashed as it started to rain, and rain. The scenic Saturday run started off in a down-pour and was the Wettest Run to date—until Yorkshire, that is!

GUERNSEY FULL MOON HASH

The Fourth Full Moon Nash Hash saw the event staged 'Over-Seas' for the first time, well out in the Channel Islands, on Guernsey. There were plenty of remarkable things to occur on this weekend, the joint Hashes who form the Full Moon Hash out there put on a great show - the only thing that they couldn't control was the weather - even all of the RA's could do nothing after the event had finished!

This FMNH was famed for being the one where the T-shirts were white, it's still a bone-of-contention talking-point to this day! Also, most memorable, for some, was how the Pack had to de-bus on their way out to the Saturday Run start, even then the poor tired old Routemaster needed a push up the steep incline, leaving those who volunteered out of breath, with dirty hand & stinking of diesel fumes, it was a struggle as it was pushed to the top of the hill, perhaps if Hyena had got off it would have been easier!

The Run itself took in a fair chunk of the island, allowing the Hash to view some great panoramas out to sea, as well as looking at the fortifications the Germans built during the occupation. A few stood their thumbing their noses, but mainly Mooning at any Johnny Foreigner with jealous eyes on the island as it's not under their control anymore. The Band at this event were really appreciated by the Hash - so much so that they were ploughed full of alcohol & the lead singer lost her underwear. Incidentally Digger has a thing about Guernsey Girls' underwear since he was presented with a pair worn by some of the Harriettes. You can tell when he's got them on him as he's often followed around by stray cats!

THE TURD FULL MOON NASH HASH

The Turd (Third) Full Moon Nash Hash, two years later - 13th to 15th June 2003, hosted by Bicester Bums, saw the Friday 13th Hash take over the Friday Pub Crawl, from the event staged at Buckingham Rugby Club. The T-shirt had the famous slogan "Don't kick a Fresh Turd on a warm day!" but it will be mostly remembered for the selection of Ales available, as Arseover staged a mini Beer Festival with some dozen available! Again the weather was spot-on. The Friday 13th Trail took in a few of the Pubs in the town, the Whale seemed to be the favourite and, by Saturday afternoon, the rest had been done by the likes of the Herts Hash, how good was that? Saddlesniffer, Robocop & Mr. X told tales of gore & horror as the Friday 13th Stories were re-enacted with gusto.

The ghastly tales Included an illegal bare knuckle fight, a murder at the local Manor & several horrible demises at the Town Centre's old stone Gaol House, now museum. As you can see here, they really painted the town, er, green!

One of my abiding memories is coming out of the rugby club for a breath of fresh air at one point and seeing a gorgeous full moon rising. The position was something special as it was just above the bar of the rugby posts. It would have been a great photo if I'd had a camera with me!

Up until this point the selection procedure for the next event was pretty straight forward. We'd sit in the bar on the Saturday afternoon after the main r*n and look around at who was there. 'You're a moon hash, it's your turn. Get the beer in.' And so it was this time.

"Never kick a fresh turd on a hot day."

Aloha from Hawaii

By Ed "Hazukashii" Howell

The Aloha H3 would like to extend an invitation for hashers around the world to join us for our

25th Anniversary Celebration

See all the details at

<http://hawaii.gotothefash.net/ah3-25th.html>

The main event of the celebration will be a 7 day cruise with Norwegian Cruise Lines from 15-22 Oct 2016, sailing from Oahu, with port calls on Maui, Hawaii (the Big Island), and Kauai, before returning to Oahu. There will be hash runs and various other related events on each island, as well as a few hash events before and after the cruise on the island of Oahu.

In general terms, the Hawaiian Islands Chain consists of numerous volcanic islands that extend nearly 5000 miles (8000 Kms) across the middle of the Pacific Ocean, and were formed as the Pacific Plate passed over a single hotspot that has produced up to 100 individual volcanos, many are below sea level, dating back 65 million years. The eight islands that make up The Hawaii Islands (pictured below) are the most recent, and they formed just over the past 5 million years and extend approximately 500 miles (800 Kms). The following information is provided to help orient our visitors to the islands we will visit.

Oahu: The cruise will set sail from the port of Honolulu on Oahu "the Gathering Place," and is the home of Waikiki, Diamond Head, Pearl Harbor, and infamous waves of the North Shore that support many annual surfing competitions. There are numerous other attractions on Oahu, as well as the capitol city of Honolulu. Oahu was actually formed by two major volcanos (Waianae and Koolau), and several minor (including Punch Bowl, Diamond Head, and Koko Head) which erupted and eventually merged between 2.5 and 3.8 million years ago. If you take a close look at the island of Oahu, you can clearly see the round bulge of Waianae to the west, and the long jagged line of the Koolau to the east, and how they are merged along the central plains that stretch from Haleiwa to Pearl Harbor.

Maui: The first port call will be in Kahului along the central north coastline of Maui, and this will be an overnight stay. Maui is the second largest and second most populated island, and gets the second highest number of tourists each year. Boasting the best whale watching and best beaches, Maui is home to nightlife in Lahaina, the remote town of Hana on the east coast, and the majestic Mount Haleakala that rises two miles into the sky. Much like Oahu, Maui was also formed by the merger of two volcanos (West Maui and Haleakala) and was formed between 750,000 and 1.3 million years ago. During the cruise, hashers will get a superb hash trail, followed by a trip to the Maui Brewing Company for a tour and some most anticipated libations.

Hawaii: Known as “The Big Island” to the locals (kama’aina), Hawaii is bigger than all the other islands combined. During the cruise we will have two port calls, one in Hilo on the east coast, and the next in Kailua-Kona on the west coast. Hilo is a major agricultural center, and has many historical sites. Hilo is just 30 miles from Volcanoes National Park which is home to the only currently erupting volcano, Mount Kilauea. Kona is more for the beach goers, and also has great opportunities for snorkeling and scuba diving. As the newest island in the chain, the Big Island has been forming over the past 400,000 years, and is made up of 3 volcanoes; Loihi which has been inactive since 1996, Mauna Loa which has been inactive since 1984 but is potentially building for a future eruption, and Kilauea which has been actively erupting since 1983.

Kauai: The oldest island in the state of Hawaii, Kauai is known as the “Garden Isle” due to lush vegetation and tropical rainforests. We will make port in Nawiliwili Harbor in the city of Lihue on the south east coast and enjoy an overnight stay before returning to Oahu. Amongst the many waterfalls, cliffs, and valleys, Kauai is home to the amazing Waimea Canyon, also known as the “Grand Canyon of the Pacific” which rivals its namesake in Arizona in size, but surpasses it in sheer beauty. Kauai dates back 5 million years and was formed by the Kauai Volcano. If there is enough interest we can run two hash trails on this island, or everyone can take advantage of the extra time for sightseeing and relaxing.

KOREA

- A REFRESHING HASHING EXPERIENCE

Hanyang Hash House Harriers & Harriettes (H5) of Korea is proud to offer itself as host of Pan Asia Hash 2017. The fact that there has never been any large scale hashing event in Korea means that, for most of the prospective participants, this Pan Asia will be a very refreshing hashing experience indeed.

We specifically chose Sokcho City as the event venue: on the fringe of this city is the world-renowned Seorak Mountain National Park which, for many Korean soap opera aficionados, has often been the surreal backdrop. The proposed dates are similarly selected, for late October ushers in the most spectacular autumnal colours, best highlighted by the rainbow hues of the maples.

Participants will get to savour the K-food phenomenon that has been taking the gastronomic world literally by storm. Be enamored by the extensive spread of Korean delights - the quintessential Ginseng Chicken Soup; the omnipresent mouth-watering beef, lamb, and pork barbecues; the huge varieties of fresh – and often live - seafood eaten either raw/sashimi-style, or prepared in dozens of off-secret recipes unbeknownst to other parts of the world. All these, and more, washed down with world famous brands of beers, or with the uniquely Korean soju and makgoeli.

The time is ripe for a refreshing change of scenery, of style, of food and beverage, and of a completely new hashing experience. We are a new troupe of organizers, backed by the provincial government, and supported by experience from the Motherland of hashing.

Give your affirmation for a refreshing change!

KOREA - THE VENUE OF CHOICE

- ACCESSIBLE – round trip as low as USD200-250 from most SE Asian cities
- AFFORDABLE – conveniently located rooms could be had for as little as USD35-40
- ASTHETIC – be enchanted by autumn at its full fall colours
- VIRGINAL – hash in assuredly hitherto never-before-hashed territory
- GOVERNMENT-BACKED – the provincial government is enthusiastically supportive
- GASTRONOMIC – pamper your sensory glands with inimitable K-flavours
- INTOXICATING – infuse yourself with the full range of uniquely Korean beverages
- COMFORTABLE – experience hashing in low-humidity at temperatures in the mid-teens
- ENTERTAINING - revel in live K-pop performances and cultural shows
- PERFECTION – enjoy the Koreans' relentless strive for perfection!

Oh I do like to be beside the sea.....'
Cambodia Nash Hash 2016
Sihanouville,
March 25, 26, 27

Come join us down on the coast for a great weekend of Hashing in Cambodia's premier beach town, Sihanouville.

Located on a peninsula ringed with sandy beaches, jutting into the warm waters of the Gulf of Thailand, Sihanouville offers everything from a laid back chair under a shady tree with a thatched roof beach shack to 24 hour bars and an endless party vibe. A number of tropical unspoilt islands just offshore offer endless opportunities for snorkelling, swimming, bush walking, running or lazing about under a tree with a beer from one of the rustic bars.

DELI HASH MEDAN FOR INTERHASH 2018 IN MEDAN!

F
2
0

We have been hashing in Medan since 1973, over 40 years. We have hosted the Pan Indonesia and Pan Asia Hash events. There are more than 10 active hash chapters in Medan.

We have the experience, the manpower and the enthusiasm to host Interhash in 2018.

While we may be able to host the event, why should you want to come to Medan?

The countryside around Medan will enable us to give you outstanding hash trails. From flatter running in palm oil and rubber plantations and lowland forests, to hillier running in the foothills and peaks of the Bukit Barisan mountain range. Numerous clean rivers and streams mean that there will be ample opportunity for cooling off during your run and the generally wooded areas will provide shade while you are running.

No hash event is complete without beer, and we have Indonesian beers which are as good as any in the world. Anker, Bintang and Bali Hai are the beers that the various hash chapters drink but international brands such as Heineken and Carlsberg are readily available.

Medan is known as the "food capital" of Indonesia. It rivals Penang in Malaysia in that area. Indonesia, Indian, Chinese, Thai, etc., etc. You name it and you will be able to get it in Medan. If you're a steak or fish and chips man don't worry, they are also on the menu in Medan.

Interhash means party, party, party! But you do have to sleep sometime. When you do you can do that in accommodation to suit your budget, from 5 star International Hotels down to simply but clean budget hotels. Medan has them all and at prices that will leave you with more than enough rupiah to party, party, party!

All good things must come to an end but when Interhash is over there will still be plenty to do and see using Medan as your starting point. Lake Toba is a five hour drive from Medan and this huge volcanic lake is Sumatra's tourist jewel. At an elevation of 900 metres the climate is pleasantly warm and the lake itself rivals the beauty of the Swiss alpine lakes.

The Leuser National park is the largest area of virgin rain forest in Asia and a two hour drive from Medan will take you to Bukit Lawang, a tourist resort on the edge of the forest. Here you can trek in the jungle and more often than not see the Orang Utan which have been released back into the wild in this area. Go a little further north to Tangkahan and you can do your trekking on the back of an elephant.

Further afield Pulau Weh off the North Coast of Aceh is a divers paradise and Bukit Tinggi and Padang in West Sumatra are both popular tourist destinations.

Kuala Namu is Medan's new international airport. There are direct flights to Bangkok, Jakarta, Kuala Lumpur and Singapore, all international hub airports. Both major carriers and budget airlines fly into Kuala Namu. A dedicated rail link will get you into Medan in 40 minutes. Buses and taxis take about an hour at present but the toll road scheduled for completion in 2017 will cut the journey time to 30 minutes.

So vote for Interhash 2018 Medan, the home to the best hashing country in the world. There will be hilly runs, flat runs, runs across rivers, and runs through the jungle. We will give you ball breaker runs, easy runs, in fact whatever type of run you want, we will have it!!

And of course we will have beer, beer and more beer and it will be party, party, party then more party!

WATERGATE • BANGKOK

The 19th Annual Amari Watergate Bangkok Charity Midnight Run

Amari Watergate Bangkok will hold the 19th Amari Watergate Bangkok Charity Midnight Run on Saturday 15 October 2016. This is a race as it is hotel held at midnight, offering runners the exhilarating experience of running under the fabulous atmosphere of Bangkok at night.

Each year, the race brings together people from across the globe, with last year's run raising for 3.4 million THB. The race proceeds went to three major charities, the Chalem Prakit HRH Princess Sirindhorn School in Lampoon province, which supports the education of children who have lost their parents to AIDS; the Baan Gerda Children's Project, which supports HIV-infected orphans in Nongmuang, Lopburi province; and Baht for a Better Life, an Amari CSR project dedicated to offering educational opportunities for underprivileged children in Bangkok and rural areas.

Amari
WATERGATE • BANGKOK

The race gives competitors a choice of two distances: 6k and a half marathon length of 12k, taking place on Phetchaburi Road in the heart of the city. Runners of all ages and nationalities come together for this special event. Last year, 6,000 runners came to compete. The starting and finishing points are located at Amari Watergate Bangkok. There will be police and security crew present to guard the entire race route.

Entry forms can be purchased for 800 THB. And all racers will receive a complimentary running t-shirt, and a medal on completion of the race. And all add timing for 12 km.

Introducing One of the Most Beautiful Ladies on our Planet

DAFT AS DAFT IS

A Salford man has been accused of fly-tipping - for blowing leaves into the street.

Paul Coombes says he was astonished to receive a hand-delivered letter from the local Ellesmere Park Residents' Association threatening to report him to the local authority if he didn't stop using his blower to blast leaves from his drive into the gutter.

"We have been advised that the action of depositing leaves from private property into the road/footpath is fly-tipping, and can attract a hefty fine," the letter read.

"If certain residents persist in blowing leaves from their gardens we will have no alternative other than to report them to the local authority for fly-tipping."

Mr Coombes tells the Manchester Evening News that he was staggered to receive the letter, which followed a previous complaint from one neighbour.

"I had been out with the blower removing leaves not just from my drive but also the pavement and kerb at the entrance to my home to make sure no one slips on them, as my home is opposite a school," he says.

"To suggest it was fly-tipping is ridiculous - does that mean when trees shed their leaves in the street they are also fly-tipping?"

The letter claimed that Mr Coombes could face a heavy fine from the council for leaving the leaves in the street - although the council dismisses this idea. "It's a load of rubbish... In a court it would not stand up to allege fly-tipping for blowing away leaves," says a spokesman.

This, though, hasn't stopped other, stricter councils from making that claim. Back in 2006, Torquay householder Sandra Pote was told by council workers that sweeping leaves from her driveway into the gutter amounted to fly-tipping - despite the fact that the leaves had fallen from a council-owned tree in the first place.

And three years ago, 82-year-old Barbara Ray of Stratford-upon-Avon was also told the same - and threatened with a fine of up to £50,000 and/or 12 months' imprisonment if she didn't stop sweeping leaves into the street.

TALES FROM THE RANK

A woman and her twelve-year-old son were riding in a taxi in Detroit. It was raining and all the prostitutes were standing under awnings.

"Mom," said the boy, "what are all those women doing?" "They're waiting for their husbands to get off work," she replied.

The taxi driver turns around and says, "Geez lady, why don't you tell him the Truth? They're hookers, boy! They have sex with men for money."

The little boy's eyes get wide and he says, "Is that true Mom?"

His mother, glaring hard at the driver, answers "Yes". After a few minutes, the kid asks, "Mom, if those women have babies, what happens to them?"

She said "Most of them become taxi drivers."

MIRACLE AT THE RUE MORGE

Three Nurses working in a morgue discover a Dead Man with one hell of a hard on.

1st Nurse says 'I can't let that go to waste', and rides him. The 2nd Nurse does the same. The 3rd Nurse hesitates & explains she is on her period, but does him anyway. Then the Man sits up & the Nurses apologize saying they thought he was dead. The Man replies 'I was, but after two jump starts & a blood transfusion I feel frickin' great!!!'

ONCE MORE UNTO THE SHIGGY MY FRIENDS

The Plough, Pyecombe, B'ton Hash # 1959 - 2nd Nov 2015

Local Knowledge returned from an Aussie trip to discover he was down for the bonfire run, but it was too short notice.

Luckily Whose Shout ended up hospitalised (only messing Pete! Hope you recover soon.), so the 9th became available, so Peter postponed and St, Bernard does what he does and came to the rescue to set a live trail.

But first a reminder of a story from May 2007: The wife of one of the Brighton Hashers found out her dog could hardly hear, so she took it to the veterinarian. He found the problem was hair in its ears and cleaned both ears so the dog could hear fine.

The veterinarian told the lady if she wanted to keep this from recurring, she could go to the pharmacy for 'Immac Hair Remover' and rub it in its ears once a month. The lady goes to the Pharmacy to get the 'Immac Hair Remover'.

At the counter, the chemist tells her "If you're going to use this under your arms, don't use deodorant for a few days." The lady responds: "I'm not using it under my arms." She then says: "If you're using it on your legs, don't shave for a couple of days."

The lady answers: "I'm not using it on my legs either. If you must know, I'm using it on my schnauzer."

The pharmacist replies, "In that case, stay off your bicycle for a week."

One E's attention obviously wasn't on his driving as he crashed his way into the car park, enthusiasm for a pre-run beer presumably on the leader-board! Keeps It Up had drawn the short straw as map carrier although he'd left his reading specs at home so was uncertain.

As Charlie had been seen heading out, bizarrely, through the underpass as folk were arriving, we gave him a good few minutes advantage before taking life in our hands and following, but it was just a short-cut to the famous cycle path from which Rik got his hash name setting by bike some years ago.

That was the clue that it was unlikely to be on the tarmac so off we went up the steep hill. "Straight on at check" yelled Brent as we headed left, before a narrow prickly path down. Then "Straight on at check" yelled Brent as, this time we went right and back up. A good stretch along the track led to the drop down towards Saddlescombe and we started wondering about a sip at Charlies place.

But no, it was back up the hill to cut round the horseshoe before dropping back down to the road.

Allegedly, KIU was by now looking at the map upside down but we spotted the walkers through the mist on top so edged round below them, Ride-It-Baby keeping a careful eye on both packs but choosing central route. It mattered little as everybody got lost, except Gotlost and Auntie who'd chosen to SCB, as the fog split us into ever decreasing units each to find their own way back through the mud to the pub.

St. Bernard was outside laughing his head off as hounds drifted in from all directions between 9.30 and 10, with only Lily the Pink and Mudlark coming from the correct way.

"Another classic Wiggy hash" was the RA's accurate summation as St. B and KIU downed.

Although Wiggy wasn't actually involved he got beer for face planting not once, not twice, but several times in the mud.

Malibog only had one pair of shoes to wear home to Sweden and they had shiggy all over them leaving his muddy socks on the Pub gate as well as the story of how he persuaded Blind Pew to take his place in the Stockholm Marathon only to take the Swedish over 60's record when the lad came home in 2.33 for which they were both disqualified. RiB for her indecisiveness but couldn't make up her mind.

Roaming Pussy and Bogeymans daughter has designed a new tshirt which has insidiously been appearing on the hash over the last few weeks, the main appeal being the names on the back. Suzy fancied one of these but hasn't got a hash name. Saddlesore was too obvious and too close to Phil's Saddleshaft, so RA found one with the same meaning by mashing together two cycling related stories (above and below) and dubbed her "Numb Schnauzer".

She may not be ordering that shirt for a week or two in case something better comes along! Pirate had to take a small sip as he'd ended up as last weeks numpty by not turning up, before passing it on in one of the most considered awards yet. RiB ("I have no idea where I am") and Wiggy ("I'll get Sue to wash your hat Bouncer") both got left off, bringing it down to One E for his crash and Hash Gomi, who edged it after doing the whole hash without a torch in thye pitch black "as it's broken" only to discover as we hit the On Inn that it was working fine.

Another great hash!.....Bouncer

AFTER WIGGY FELL IN THE SHIGGY SEVERAL TIMES IN THE FOREST A BETTER NAME WOULD BE SHWIGGY

THE ABFAB THREE TITTIES HASH

THE ABSOLUT FABULÖS HASH # 735 - 2nd JANUARY 2016

Once more it was time for that great Christmas and New Year tradition. Malibog's Annual Hangover Run. Come sun, rain, sleet or snow, every year Malibog sobers himself up from the festive season to go out and lay a trail for our benefit.

This year he must have been a bit pissed off as there actually came a little snow during the night after Red Horse and MaliBog had spent a good 3 hours laying the trail. Still as Malibog usually draws on lamp-posts and walls and hangs up bog paper like Christmas decorations, snow, is not always problem!

A small problem at the start held the pack back as we had to wait for Sir Not So Clever Dick who had read the instructions wrong and found himself at the next station.

A rather smallish pack ventured out this day with but a dozen or so, the crème de la crème of the Stockholm Hash who know no weather.

As it was a bit icy, we gingerly started off following the arrows easily seen on the lamp-posts over the built up area past a school yard. Then we headed under a bridge across country and through some wooded paths over some rocks into a shaggy forest which slowed the pack as they jumped over the small beck.

This was followed by running along by an electric fence with the sole purpose, we think, of recharging any Hashers feeling a bit worn down after the Christmas jollities.

One thing you can always say about a Malibog trail is that it is always adventurous and never flat. We scrambled down a bank, and leaving the power-driven fence we found the trail leading up the old disused winding bobsled track leading to the top of Hökarängstoppen

Confusion reigned at the crown as the snow had obliterated the downward trail, so it was left to one and all to find their own way down, and this they did, some taking the hard way and some the difficult way, none of which was easy as was seen by some falling on their bums to slide and slither down the gradient. Eventually the pack found one another only to discover the trail led up the following peak, Fagersjötoppen. Fortunately, after a slippery scramble to the summit, we met up with the walkers but more importantly we met up with Pink Pony and Spike with a warm Ginger & Gin toddy and ginger biscuits stop. A most welcome greeting on top of this windy wintry peak with a marvellous view spanning the southern parts of Stockholm county.

Having quickly finished the warming drink the pack found the steep slippery track down whilst the walkers back tracked and took the easy if longer trail. There were quite a few miss-haps as various hashers lost their grips in the snow and fell arse over tit but all managed to compose themselves and reached the bottom only to find the trail led directly up the last remaining peak, Högdalstoppen, a long climb once again saw the pack at the top this time with a grand view of Stockholm in the far distance. This was the first peak to be made in the 1960's and in its prime was used as an international ski-slope and it was down this slope the pack had to descend.

All three of these peaks were constructed from the rocks and diggings from various tunnels and other excavations around Stockholm from 1960 to 1980 and are now destined to be part of a National Park.

From here it was a relatively flat course back to the On-Home where a rather quickish circle was called and down-downs given before we retired to the Chinese to partake in beers and the tasty food.

All's well that ended well and we all look forward to 2017 and the next hangover Hash.....EddyHillary

BALIBAGO RE-VISITED

Arrived at Clark a little after midnight Friday night. Caught a few hours sleep and then got up around 8 AM to go watch the Rugby World Cup games down on Fields Avenue. As I walked down Fields cold stone sober it was eerily quiet, dark, there were piles of trash (probably cleared out of the bars after the night), several gaunt, flamboyant billy boys plying their trade and Fields was not at all as welcoming as I remembered it. I had a moment of doubt and quiet reflection and asked myself what is it that I like about this place?

I found an outdoor cafe on a side street, took refuge from the rapidly warming sun under a big table umbrella and had alight lunch of garlic fried rice, prawns, fried egg and longaniza all washed down with a few SMB beers served up by some attractive barmaids, then settled in to watch the Rugby. I felt much better.

Later I sat there and did a little people watching. The sun was up, the sky was brilliant blue, much of the trash was already cleared off the street, storefronts were opening up, people were washing off the sidewalks and there were pretty ladies out and about getting started with their day.

Thinking about the next day when I will once again join up with the Angeles City Hash for one of their famous runs up the mountains near Sapangbato where in '91 Pinatubo ravaged mountainside but now overgrown with wildlife again.

I leaned back in my chair, took a deep breath and thought, it is back, baby! This is why I LOVE this place!

ZIGGY STARDUST RETURNS HOME

David Bowie has returned to his home after an all too brief sojourn amongst humanity.

The departure means that sadly it is the world that looks very different today. Just remember the world is over 4 billion years old and you somehow managed to exist at the same time as David Bowie.

He leaves behind a substantial body of work, including several autobiographical albums about the experience of being something more than human amongst mere mortals. The singer's home is believed to be somewhere in the constellation of Sirius but, like so much about him, this was left extremely ambiguous.

Bowie took up residence on this planet after falling to Earth, but it was generally accepted that no one planet could sufficiently contain him for long.

Fans are comforted with the knowledge that life continues somewhere, if not necessarily on Mars.

In response to the news, people worldwide are politely requesting that Tom Waits and David Attenborough go to bed early and take care of themselves, as there's only so much of this we can stand.

Jodrell Bank have confirmed ground control will continue to call for him into the silent, eternal void, hoping for a signal.

---onon---

ENGLISH HUMOUR AT ITS BEST

Right at the end of a programme recently, there was a discussion about the obscene cost of entry into Premiership football games, the cheapest price of between £60 and £100 per game is not uncommon.

An older chap being interviewed said he could recall many years ago arriving at the turnstiles (it was probably West Ham United) and being told: "That will be ten quid, mate". "What?!" the old chap said "I could get a woman for that!" The guy on the turnstile retorted, "Not for 45 minutes each way with a brass band and a meat pie in the interval, you wouldn't!"

THE MITEY SNOWY HASH

THE ABSOLUT FABULÖS HASH # 736 -16th JANUARY 2016

In a moment of insanity Marmite and Termite volunteered to lay a trail for the Absolut instead of Sprintosaurus who was too busy laying countless trails in Alvik.

Being a last minute decision the hares must've cum to his senses as they wisely decided to use the china restaurant near to Huddinge Station by the station as venue. (well when we say near it was in a good walking distance that had many a hasher searching the streets and by-roads looking for the venue)

Once again a rather sizeable pack gathered before the run. The usual suspects as usual but also a few unusual un-suspects doing their occasional appearances.

After the usual lies coming from Termite's mouth about the trail being easy and short without any hills we all set of down the snow covered Tingsvägen where the runners were given a loop to again meet with the slower types at Ängnäs school where we were kept busy looking for the trail.

This led us almost straight into Hömingsnäs forest but then it started to zig and zag in a most confusing way. Having shortcut somewhat in the beginning I rather wisely decided to follow the trail but a little while later I tried to second-guess the Hares and ended up off trail in the forest trying to find a way down a very steep slope. I tried to second-guess the Hares again and this time got it right and we, (by this time Clever Dick had joined up with me) caught the pack again near Balingsnäs.

A little bit of confusion could be seen as this part of the trail crossed a number of paths ideal for false trails which did indeed sent the likes of John Cleese, Little Brother, Laid Bird and Blind Pew scampering into places unknown. The trail eventually led us to the frozen Trekanten lake, so frozen that a swim stop was unfortunately out of the question as someone had forgotten the pick-axe.

As usual Silly Con Feet, exerting a Hash tradition, hid himself behind a bush on the wooden landing covering the lake only to cast snow-balls as we passed.

We all took this silliness well as it was indeed such a nice sunny day to be our running in minus 15 degrees, the sun taking the bite out of the cold.

Having entered the built up area again we found the trail leading over the railway bridge where another short cut was available given from the kind Marmite which gave us slower runners a minute or two to catch the speedier buggers. We were on the last leg now and could feel the taste of beer as the trail led us back over the railway and seeing the church spire in the distance knew we were almost there.

Having reached the finis we realized that we hadn't found the drink stop but then our anxieties were put to rest when Termite announced there wasn't one as it was too cold, boooohooo, but warm drinks were available at the circle, this was some witches cocktail of vodka and something else but it did the trick in warming us up. The Hares were given a down-down for not enough snow and far too warm. Just Janne was given the name 'The Mexican Wrestler' on account of the colourful balaclava he was wearing and duly sanctified in the name of 'G' albite with sawdust and beer instead of flour and beer. Other DD's were given including your truly but for the love of a beer I can't remember why.

The last was given to Termite for felling a tree and using the stump providing a bar for the beers, well it may not have been him but Hells Bells, why let the truth get in the way of a good down-down.

After our antics at the circle it was time for something Chinese (or at least Asian looking) and some more beers (off course!) and time for a lot of talking rubbish. Some of us ordered food while other stayed on a pure liquid diet.

The Absolutely new 2016 'Holy Hash Book' made its first appearance and everyone with writing skills wrote their name, and number.

For an après après some of us bundled into cars and made our ways to the 'Termite Stack' to avail ourselves with a bastu (sauna) and more beers.

All in all a very pleasant way to spend a Saturday afternoon and evening, arriving home a bit tipsily I settled down to fine chow lovingly prepared by my Red Horse.....MaliBog
