Besides providing news about HHH events around the world, one of the missions of Harrier Magazine is preserving the history of the Hash House Harriers. As hash members grow older and pass on to that great hash trail in the sky, terrific tales and faded memories of our glorious past will surely be lost unless they are preserved for new generations who carry on the traditions of the hash.

In the April edition of Harrier Magazine, Howard 'Dances with Dogs' McKay reveals the inside story of how the first Interhash came to be in Hong Kong in 1978. Surely nothing as grandiose as Interhash as we know it today can boast of such unabashed and unlikely beginnings. Africa correspondent

'Bad Dog'

by Jay "HOPS" Hopkins

Longtime Washington, D.C. area hasher "Bad Dog" joined the Kennel Eternal on March 14, 2017 at age 57. Known in the nonhashing world as William (Bill) Severe, he met Gispert just 23 days after completing his 2,500th trail with Washington area Hashes in the company of more than 300 well-wishers (see his interview in the March 2017 issue of Harrier Magazine). Bad Dog was deeply devoted to hashing and valued the company of every hasher he met. In his last days, he generated not only an outpouring of affection, but stirred local hashers to recognize and cherish the bonds that connect them with one another.

The History of Pan Africa

by Julia Stanton some pics by Higgins

In the run up to this year's Pan Africa Hash in Lagos next month, Julia Stanton aka Head Mistress investigates just how this event was born 21 years ago in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

Addis Ababa is my current hash kennel and the founder of the regional African event now known as Pan Africa. This is not surprising as Ethiopia is the only African country that has never been colonized and is home to the African Union. A2H3 is currently 35 years old and many of the locals have been hashing for years. I asked Short Cutting Bastard, one of the old farts if he could shed some light on its origins and one day he showed up at the regular Monday Howling Hyena

Hash hangout 'Ride On' with a bag full of photos, emails, programmes and a DVD from Pan Africa 2007. In his most treasured possession, was the original programme from the first 'East African Interhash' as it was then called. Rather old with child scribbles on it, the two page document outlines the programme and costs with the option to pay to join single activities to encourage the local hashers to join.

The East Africa Interhash was conceived by Marty 'Garfield' Hanratty and Mike 'Sister Michael' Fotheringham over a beer at one of the hash pubs in Addis Ababa. Evidently Garfield, GM of Addis Ababa Hash asked 'Why the hell doesn't Africa have a Pan Africa Hash'. Sister Michael replied 'Why the hell not' and the idea was put forward to the rest of the hashers who all thought it sounded a good idea.

The first hash was held in Addis Ababa from 2nd - 5th May 1996 with 136 hashers from Addis Ababa and 6 other East African and Middle East hashes. The weekend started with a trip out to a local brewery with a 2 hour trip back as the hashers from Nairobi and Dar kept demanding piss stops. Next day, the first run was in the beautiful and scenic Entoto mountains at 3000 metres, the tallest in Addis. The second was around a crater lake with tej, the traditional Ethiopian honey-based alcoholic beverage being introduced at the circle and before it was finished Nairobi Hash House Harriers had already put their hand up for the next one and the second East Africa Interhash.

1996 Addis Ababa The Original full of beer which of course was Tusker and plenty of hash songs were sung on the way.

1997 Machakos, Kenya

Led by GM David 'Beer Slut, Muchane, in the land of Kenya's proverbial sex stars, Machakos. This time 220 hashers came from 8 countries to enjoy the Tusker beer.

1999, Victoria Falls, Zimbabwe

After this Pan Africa became a biennial affair. By this time one of the original founders, Garfield had moved South and became GM of Harare hash in in Zimbabwe. He decided to inflict the event on hashers in the south and helped by Shawn 'Tinkerbelle' Burges and Shelia 'Flier' Jacobs, they chose the mighty Victoria Falls as a location. The event had now grown to 470 hashers from 18 countries who were the first guests at Kingdom Hotel. Robert 'Bwana' Walker recalls setting a pre-ramble to the Vic Falls from Harare and Mbinga before hashers took a ferry the whole length of Lake Kariba. He also ran the circles in the bush where elephants and

1998 Dar es Salaam, Tanzania

The third Pan Africa Hash was held in sweaty and humid Dar es Salaam, Tanzania with trails evidently lasting 2 hours with plenty of Safari Lager, the local beer which is considered by the Kenyans to be inferior to their Tusker beer and what was even worse it had been sitting in the sun for hours. According to Gun Slinger from Nairobi H3, one of the hashers was a pilot so some of the Nairobi hashers chartered a plane to Dar. The aisles were evidently buffalo were encountered on the hash trails. Due to plenty of Marula fruit, the elephants were just as drunk as the hashers. One hasher was evidently even collecting their dung as it was good for her garden.

2001, Durban, South Africa

Evidently Durban hash were coerced into hosting the next one and 300 hashers showed up. The biggest event was a train Hash organised by Bwana from Durban to Cape Town and a post ramble to the Natal game reserves and north to hash with Maputo H3.

2003, Mombasa, Kenya

Pan Africa moved back to Kenya and this time to the coast of Mombasa. Numbers were a little down due to recent terrorist activity in Kenya but nothing happened to the hashers who attended. This time Bwana organised a pre-ramble from Nairobi through to Tanzania for 80 international hashers. Highlights were hashing in the Rift Valley and Lake Manyara and Maputo Hash performing the “Hat Dance” on stage in Arusha and Mombasa which is still hailed as the best hash act Africa has ever seen.

2005, Cape Town, South Africa

The hash moved back to South Africa. The highlight of this was the 9-day Africa X—press from Joburg to Cape Town led by Bwana. A 13 carriage train sleeping 150 hashers was hired for 8 days. The train had two bars and two diners and starting with a hash in Soweto hashers hardly slept as they partied on the train from Maputo to Swaziland, Durban, Ficksburg (Maseru H3) and onto Gareip Dam and Knysna before a triumphant arrival of nearly 50% of the participants in Cape Town. The legendary Nairobi hasher Father Hen evidently ended up running 9 hours of a ball breaker run since he got lost and went up a mountain forgetting his hotel was at sea level.

2007, Maputo, Mozambique

After the success of his train hash, Bwana moved the hash to Mozambique. Following the success of the Train hash, there was a fantastic support from international hashers with 60 countries, 3 of the 4 hashers in the world who had been to every Interhash and 49 Malaysians who had never been to Africa before. Care arranged a pre-lube trip for them to several of the offshore islands and made himself world famous in Malaysian hash circles. The weekend went brilliantly, and ended with a post-ramble to the deserted and wild Maputo elephant reserve. The biggest story from this was the explosion of left over bombs from the civil war as hashers were returning to the city which meant they were stuck for hours as the ferries were not working. This did not worry the hashers as there was plenty of beer and bars and they continued to party.

2009, Kampala, Uganda

KH3 moved the event back east in 2009 and hosted the first Red Dress Run during a Pan Africa event. This was flagged off by the Mayor wearing a huge red wig. The main run started from the source of the White Nile and the Addis hashers ended up being the front running bastards.

2011, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

Pan Africa moved back to its birthplace and a second Red Dress Run was held with 250 hashers. This would have been revolutionary for the Addis hashers since they don't normally partake of Red Dress runs in the true hash sense.

2013 Cape Coast, Ghana

The first Pan Africa Hash to be held in West Africa attracting 300 hashers hosted by the late Eric 'Digit' McGaw, chariman and GM 'Highland Fling'. Short Cutting Bastard remembers setting a very wet and swampy trail with water up to the chest. Other highlights were the music, food, Digit's son's restaurant by the beach and the university accommodation catering to all budgets with the most expensive rooms being those belonging to professors.

2015 Malindi, Kenya

Pan Africa 2015 was originally won by Freetown Hash House Harriers, Sierra Leone and was well promoted with lots of registrations. Unfortunately due to the Ebola Crisis it had to be cancelled with the Nairobi Hash House Harriers stepping in to take it back to the Kenyan coast and this time, Malindi.

Hashers evidently had a lot of fun in Malindi with a full red dress run and lots of partying. In fact they had so much fun that many of them ended up extending their stay.

2017 Lagos, Nigeria

The original plan was for Sierra Leone to host it in 2017 but as the hash mismanagement were busy dealing with Ebola they were unable to attend Pan Africa in Kenya. This resulted in Lagos Hash House Harriers in the words of Sierra Leone hashers 'stealing' it for 2017. Lagos H3 are promising the best event ever so let's see if they live up to their words.

Many thanks to Short Cutting Bastard from Addis H3, Bwana from Maputo and Gun Slinger from Nairobi H3 for sharing their memories and the written record left by the late Digit in the souvenir book for Pan Africa 2015. Also thanks to Higgins for some of the photos and checking the dates.

Brussels 2014 wrap-up (part 1) - Genesis

A long time ago in a Brussels bar, bar away I caressed the idea of hosting another large international Hash event in the capital of the European Union. This was back in April 2004, a mere 3 months before Cardiff World InterHash. My logic was if 4,500 hashers were willing to leave the sunny shores and beaches of the usual InterHash venues for Wales, Belgium was not such a far-stretched idea.

Local hashers immediately went into hiding, not wanting to be sucked into another EuroHash 1997-style enterprise (666 pax), yet Yark Sucker decided I should be temporarily renamed “H4” and given a personalised T-shirt just for the Cardiff trip instead. She had no budget but lots of idea - as usual - so “recycled” an Air France T-shirt. Little did she know my dream would eventually become reality and she would be involved knee-deep in it.

Cardiff 2004 turned out a big success and after a “maturing” period of 2 years I decided to put some thoughts on paper, produced 5 slides and scheduled a meeting with the Brussels city convention bureau. My idea was to finalise a feasibility study and check out what type of support we could possibly get from the local authorities, my expectations being very low at that time.

Yark Sucker was all for it looking at the prospect of a mega 4-day party in Brussels while Dr PP was much more reserved to say the least, thinking there were nowhere enough hotels rooms to start with (“Where will all these hashers stay? Camping on the roof of Central Station!?”). The 21st of August 2006 we met the Brussels convention bureau director who welcomed our project, confirmed feasibility during the summer holiday season and told us we’d probably need 2 years to organise such an event. We then revealed considering either 2012 or 2014 depending on which country would host the 2012 Olympics, prompting her to command our preparedness so many years in advance.

In typical hash fashion we immediately convened a quick debriefing in a bar, splurging on the sunny terrace of Le Roy d’Espagne on Grand Place. That’s when Dr PP uttered those immortal words: “Oh shit, it’s feasible and I’m already involved!”.

Totally unrelated I discovered being in dire need of a pacemaker a few weeks later which my cardio decided to fast track so I could leave on time for Chiang Mai 2006 - cool! That probably explains the high energy vibe when Mr X and myself decided, slightly drunk and without any script, rehearsal or props, to improvise a skit announcing on stage the Brussels bid for InterHash 2014. Probably our best double act ever, complete with Belgian chocolates thrown in the crowd for good measure, and a great way to grab attention.

Since I didn't have any promotion material even for stage presence I recycled one of my many Cardiff 2004 T-shirts while attending the Cambodia pre-lube. I even managed to sell another one for $1 to Termite who was expecting some quick high-quality local job. From there arose the idea of spending the money on the event and not on freebies for the bid, especially after the Wellington bid a few years back unfortunately proved that one hasher grabbing a free T-shirt would not necessarily convert into one vote for the same bid - sad but true.

Teaming up with other seasoned hashers keen to reduce the piles of various hash T-shirts filling up their cupboards we then accumulated enough free "promotional" material to last for 5 years.

Eventually we got stencils made so we could fasten the "production" process using spray paint instead of textile markers. We even organised a couple of recycling parties. Our goodies proved very popular and we made space in our cupboards for new hash T-shirts so everyone was a winner!

Moving swiftly along we decided to collect bid seed money by selling debentures then pledges the same way the Cardiff bid did but on a much larger scale. We sold 125 debentures at €50 from August 2006 (my 42nd birthday) to 2008 for which signees eventually received an exclusive Ambassador polo shirt and 2014 foot patch; then an overwhelming 2,000 pledges ranging from €25 to €45 from February 2011 (Aussie NH in Hobart) to May 2012 (World InterHash in Borobudur).

While the pledges were a good way to measure the actual interest for our event we also wanted to promote the fun factor. So we sold 450 raffle tickets and made 9 hashers very happy to secure a registration for a mere €5 - beat that for a deal after the subprime crisis!

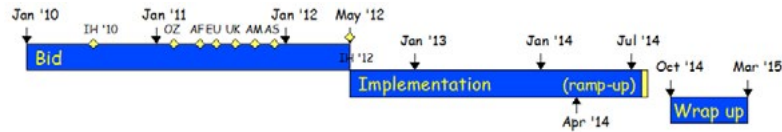

In terms of "brand recognition" our initial impromptu announcement on stage during Chiang Mai 2006 resulted in many hashers enquiring if it was a joke... or not. This prompted one sleeve of our blue Ambassador polo shirt to display "A serious European bid". So serious that Charlie Brown printed 5,000 mailing labels sporting our 2014 foot logo and handed these to his kids for having fun at Perth 2008 venue. Those low-cost stickers would be duplicated years after years.

For Kuching 2010 and beyond we upped our marketing game, now having an extensive reliable team of 200 Ambassadors. Being done with recycled T-shirts we produced T-shirts for sale at PanAsia 2011 and Borobudur 2012 (thanks to Hardy Boy, one of our top Ambassador) as well as long-sleeve shirts for sale at EuroHash 2013.

The only actual freebies ever produced were Atomium patches (thanks to Neptunus, our original Ambassador who introduced the concept), drinking cups given to visitors of our sponsored bar at EuroHash 2011, headbands and wristbands donated during the final week in Borobudur.

In retrospect I can proudly say we did the utmost to win the World InterHash 2014 bid. At least there was no acrimony between contenders and little known to anyone I had purchased an Early Bird for Hainan 2014 during PanAsia 2011 then Ma Hai bought a full rego for Brussels 2014 during the vote count, filling his form on top of the last unopened ballot box.

Following the proclamation of the vote results VD Viking sent a message mentioning myself bringing hashers to Brussels regardless for what would be A beer odyssey. I liked the sound of it and the rest is hhhistory...

The "grand old man of hashing" has been referred to as the Hash House Harriers' Christopher Columbus for bringing hashing to America in 1972. In many hashing circles around the world, he's called "Tumbling Bill." But the members of Washington's DCH3 men's hash affectionately refer to him as "The Founder."

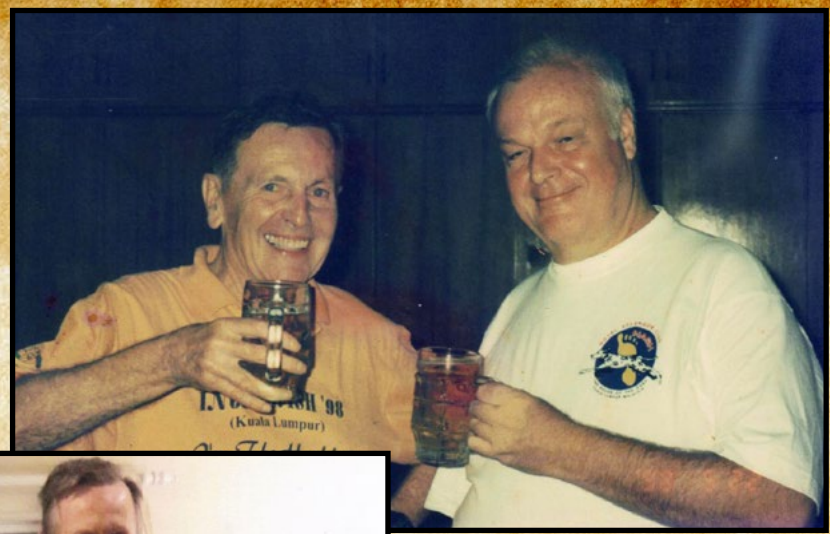

It was 1954 when young Bill Panton hailing from Yorkshire was sampling soil from the jungles of modern-day Malaysia when he was asked to join the Hash House Harriers, then the only club of its kind. The run through the jungles outside Kuala Lumpur were the first steps in his lifelong enthusiasm for the sport. "I enjoyed the camaraderie, of course, and I'd been a bit of a cross-country runner when I was in school," he said.

On May 22, a special celebration will be held near Washington, DC to commemorate both Panton's 90th birthday and the 45th anniversary of his founding of the Washington, DC Hash House Harriers (DCH3). The 1972 inaugural run consisted of just five men, all of them British.

Panton's work with the World Bank allowed him to hash everywhere his assignments took him, including Bangkok where he established a Hash in 1976. Not only did he help proliferate hashing around the world, but he documented the global expansion of hashing through his Hash Genealogy project (<https://sites.google.com/site/hashhousefoundation/home/hash-directory/genealogy>).

Tumbling Bill Panton says he doesn't run anymore but adds, "I enjoy a beer with a hashman now and then." He is philosophical about the state of the hash today. "Individuals who start hashes may fade away like old soldiers, and sometimes something suddenly goes wrong within a hash and it expires." Despite that, he remains upbeat about the Hash House Harriers' future. "Every now and then a new hash starts. I think hashing is very well rooted in many places in the world now," he said. "I can't see the Hash House Harriers disappearing as a sport. I think it will go on forever."

Puerto Rico Rum Runners H4: Inaugural Hash, 4 Feb 2017

A Friday evening get acquainted meeting of San Juan Hashers and visiting hashers met up in La Taberna Lupulo, one of the GM's recommended watering holes with their 40+ beers on tap. Enthusiastic conversations lasted well into the evening and gave everyone an opportunity to sample the available brews and exchange tales of past hash trails.

On noon, Saturday 4 February, the Inaugural Hash for this new San Juan Hash took place, with 17 participants. Annie "Missionary I'm Possible" (PR3H4's GM) excelled in her duties by bringing Virgin Hashers (Just - Joe, Vanessa, Eva & Rhonda) to their first hash. Three Hashers that had previously hashed with the original Puerto Rico Hash (Dead for over 5 years now) "Saigon Sally", "Ankles for Earrings" and "Dipping the Wick" were welcome additions. "Pixie Gets Around" and "Gay Day PayDay" from Oregon were on hand along with "Yuron Weed" of Atlanta and "Shamcock" from Columbus, Ga. "Tig ol Bitties" and "3 Licks" of White House were there. Mount Vernon hashers "Bronco Buster", "Slippery When Wet" and yours truly "Quick Drawers" rounded out the group.

A well-marked hash trail was set by "3 Licks" and "Saigon Sally" thru the Old San Juan area, passing quite a few prominent historic landmarks (including the San Juan Cathedral and Castillo San Felipe del Morro - one of two World Heritage sites in Old San Juan), along the way. The group welcomed the 1st of two drink stops during this one hour leisurely hash and its opportunity to partake of tasty Mojitos, in a local bar. Kathy "Ankles for Earrings" welcomed the pack into her apartment and provided some of Puerto Rico's finest Rum, at the 2nd drink stop. It wouldn't be a Rum Runner Hash without Rum at some time, right?

"Saigon Sally" was volunteered to serve as Religious Advisor and conducted an entertaining and comprehensive Circle, to the enjoyment of everyone. "Missionary I'm Possible" was rewarded with her Down-Down, for bringing active hashing back to Puerto Rico. The Virgin hashers were also introduced of course and nearing the end of circle "Just Joe" was Named "Rum Guzzler", due to his enthusiasm at the second drink stop! Yes, the Hares were not overlooked and “3 Licks” and “Saigon Sally” both received their well-earned rewards. Everyone managed to get at least one or two rewards bestowed upon them during the lively circle.

As circle was concluded and everyone chorused, “May the Hash Go in Peace, May the Hash Get a Piece”, personal contacts were exchanged and vows made to return to San Juan, for the PR3H4 1st Year Anniversary Hash Bash.

Annie “Missionary I’m Possible” invited anyone interested in riding out to the former Naval Station Roosevelt Roads, which closed in 2004, on the following day - Sunday, for a picnic and water activities. Six visiting hashers accepted her offer. Joe “Rum Guzzler” also drove his vehicle to help accommodate everyone. Most of the afternoon was taken up with snorkeling, kayaking, swimming and enjoying the Picnic treats, before heading back to San Juan, as evening approached.

If you ever need a place to hide out and become homeless this former Naval Station is a place you can do it. It’s surprising to see the vast number of buildings and infrastructure just allowed to deteriorate. The gates are open during the day and anyone desiring to enter for fishing, swimming, picnicking or similar purposes may do so.

THREE HASHERS THAT HAD PREVIOUSLY HASHED WITH THE ORIGINAL PR H3, “DIPPING HIS WICK”, “ANKLES FOR EARRINGS” & “SAIGON SALLY”.

What started out as an expected traditional Hash Day turned into being an entire fun filled Hash weekend, thanks to "Missionary I'm Possible" and each of the Hashers present over this weekend. It's remarkable when the hospitality and close personal relationships formed reaches this level of comradery, normally unequaled at much larger hash groupings. At Inter-hash type events, it seems everyone is occupied with renewing hash friendships, formed over the years, at hashes just such as this one.

PR3H4 contact information can be found on the PR3H4 Facebook page. It's also available on "Ra's" - Half-mind.com site and will soon be added to "Hazukashii's" - gototheshash.net site as well.

A big Thank You to "Missionary I'm Possible" and all of the participants, for a very enjoyable Inaugural Hash in Old San Juan.

Jim Edens, Harrier Magazine:
EMAIL: JimEdens@HarrierMagazine.com

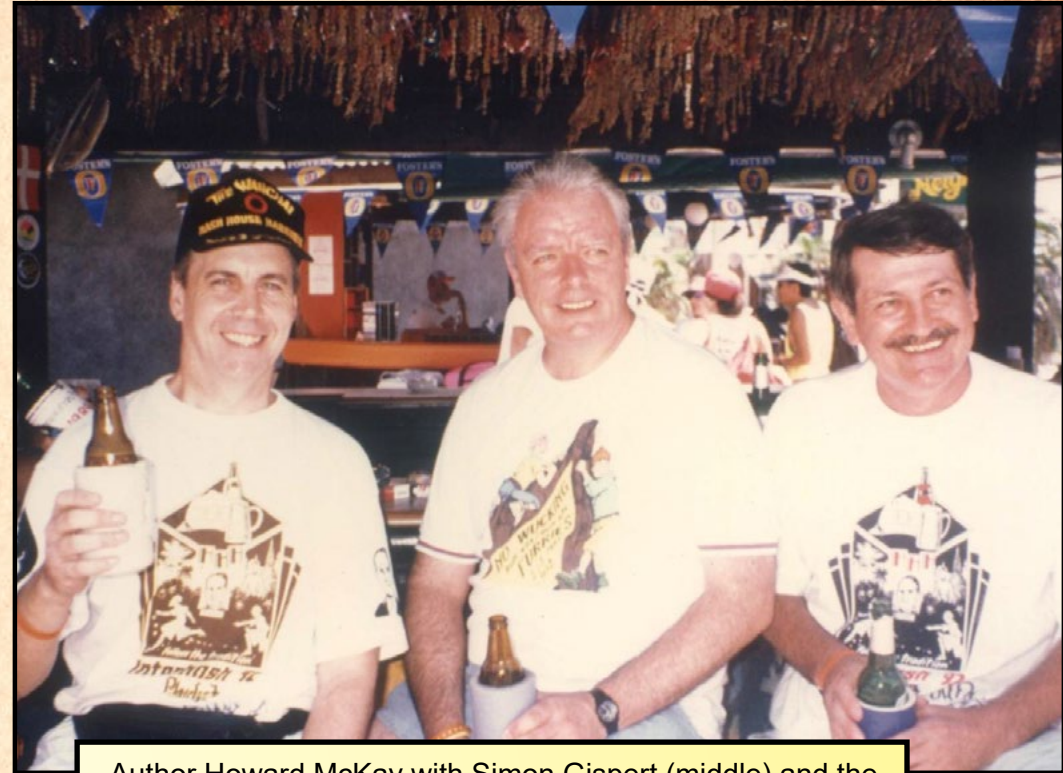

by Howard "Dances with Dogs" McKay

In 1994 at the New Zealand Interhash I made a presentation to bring the event back to Hong Kong before the final British handover. We were beaten by Cyprus. Nevertheless, we decided to put on our own special event, to be called the "Sunset on the Empire Hash". It was held in early 1997 and was attended by around 1,400. Many folks say to this day that it was one of the best large hash events they ever went to.

One of my jobs was to put together the event magazine and with an article in mind I met with four individuals who first came up with the idea of "Interhash" and who were instrumental in organizing the first event in 1978. I then wrote the article using the information they gave me. I thought it about time to air this again for the benefit of many hashers who, some 39 years after the first Interhash event, have no real knowledge of its origin. The original article as contained in the 1997 "Sunset" magazine (slightly abbreviated), follows:

Much has been written about the origins of the Interhash. Much is true, such as the fact that it originated in Hong Kong, however, as with the origins of the Motherhash, occasional inaccuracies creep in so I decided that I would have an evening of beer and curry with four of the original Interhash committee members, all still active hashers and living in Hong Kong, to hear the story at first hand. The evening was arranged in February this year (1997) with Wes “Festering” Parfitt, Barry “O’Grief” Griffin and Stuart “McTool O’Tool” McDouall, all of the Kowloon Hash and members of Hong Kong’s ‘finest’, together with Roger “Flacdem” Medcalf from the Hong Kong Hash.

Whose idea was it? Who started it? Well, as advised by these chaps, there is absolutely no doubt that these three Kowloon Hashmen came up with the original idea and then sent out the first invitation letters to invite overseas hashers to join them in the first Interhash held in April 1978. “Barry Griffin and I were sitting in the San Francisco Bar getting pissed,” says Wes Parfitt, “when we came up with the name ‘Interhash’. Being sensible fellows we reckoned we might forget the next day so we wrote it down on the white formica bar top. Sure enough, I phone O’Grief next day and asked if he could remember what we had called it? He couldn’t so we had to go back to the bar that evening to find the name amongst the rest of the scrawl on the bar. It was still there and the name is still in use today, ‘Interhash’.”

“So how did you go about getting the hashes together?” I asked.

“Well, I had to buy a typewriter – no PC’s in those days, and type every letter by hand,” McDouall advised. “We got a snotty reply back from KL saying ‘how dare we do such a thing – charge fees, commercialization, bah, humbug, etc..’. I wrote back a reply in which the capital letter of each paragraph on the left side read ‘FUCK OFF KL’ and signed it in HK Government style.... ‘I remain your obedient servant’.” Guffaws all round and we all swig a beer.

“What were the highlights of the organization of the event?”

“We lost the money,” Barry Griffin noted. “We had HK$32,000 from the sale of T-shirts and other items and Frank Tainsch, who was assistant treasurer, put it in his suit –pocket. He got pissed and arrived home to slump on the sofa fully clothed. His dear wife undressed him, hanging the suit up in the wardrobe. Next day Frank couldn’t remember a thing and nor could anyone else. Panic and blame flew around for a few days until Frank’s wife took the suit to the dry-cleaners and was surprised to find HK$32,000 in the pocket.”

“Then there was “Wee Hig” parking in the Police Commissioners space at police HQ remembered Wes Parfitt. McDouall took up the story.

“Like many of the Kowloon Hash, Bob Higgins used the police HQ carpark in the evening whilst attending an Interhash meeting. Needless to say, usual refreshments were served liberally and Bob forgot where he left his car, which in fact was a rusty pick-up painted like a “Nutty Nibble”. Next morning the Commissioner arrived at 09.00 a.m. to find this heap in his space. The next thing, the Station Sergeant was phoning me to know if I could cast any light on this vehicle – which I denied all knowledge of. I then rushed outside to see, to my horror, the ‘nutty nibble’ vehicle in the Commissioners spot.”

“Yes,” piped in a grinning Parfitt, “and when we finally got hold of Higgy it seems that he had already been to Wanchai Police station up the road to report his car stolen.” More guffaws and beer.

We chatted on about the various trials, trails and tribulations and events like the 500 cases of beer that were delivered without warning to Griffin’s tiny bachelor police quarter, the hiring of vehicle ferries to take 900 hashers to Lantau, asking the girl guides to help with cooling the beer and so on.

“It was a great final night,” remembered Griffin, “standing on the Sek Kong airstrip, looking at all those people, thinking ‘We’ve done it’.”

“So how did it go to Kuala Lumpur after that?” I asked.

“Unlike now where they have a vote,” volunteered Medcalf, “we had a meeting of representatives and it was jointly agreed that KL should host the event two years later. Despite their original objections, and after slugging us off for ‘charging’ for the event, they had the audacity to send us an invoice for advance funds.”

The Interhash concept founders, Barry Griffin, Wes Parfitt, Stuart McDouall and Roger Medcalf.

“Actually, we had about HK$40,000 surplus and sent it to KL by insured courier,” Medcalfe went on. “KL to this day claim that it never arrived and no-one really knows where it went.”

“And how do you chaps feel now about having started this monster?” I asked.

“I’m ashamed,” Medcalfe offered, “Ashamed that we started the thing which has grown into a massive commercialized and over-organised event. Hashing should get back to basics, back to the bush, no commercialisations, drink piss, fuck off.” Nodding of heads and more beer.

At this point we repaired to a curry house for a ring-stinger and more beer and finally finished off in the “Popeye” where we watched a little traditional Filipino folk dancing whilst we had a final few for the road.

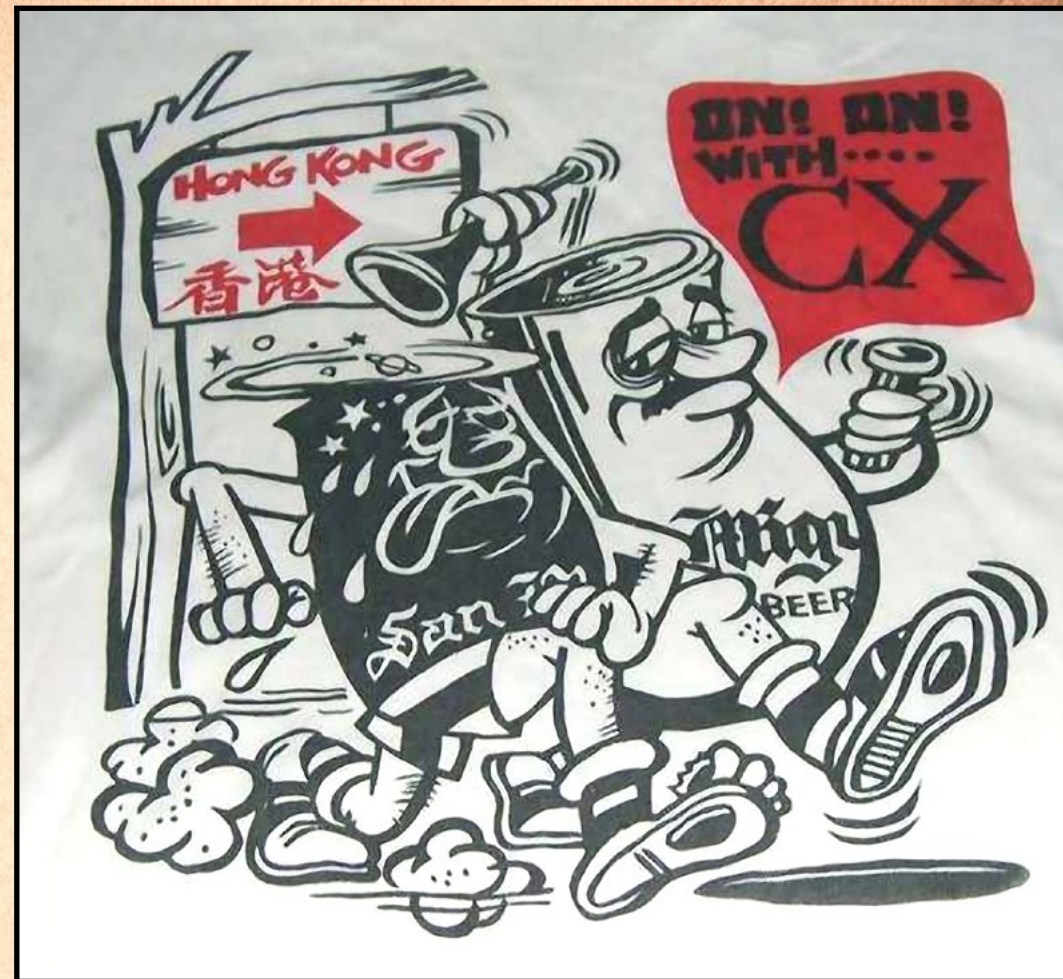

“So,” says I, “are you going to register for the Sunset Hash?”

Bottles are sucked and embarrassed looks are exchange followed by a slight curling of the mouths.

“I supposed so,” Flacdem grudgingly admitted with his inimitable stupid grin.

Post script:

Roger Medcalf still lives in Hong Kong. Parfitt, McDouall and Griffin – all former Hong Kong police officers – all retired to the UK. I expect to meet up with them at a Kowloon Hash reunion in Oxford in July.

About the author:

Howard “Dances with Dogs” McKay started hashing with the Hong Kong hash in 1979. He founded the Wanchai Hash in 1988 and now runs with the Angeles City Hash in the Philippines. In 1991 he discovered the long lost relatives of Gispert, the Hash founder, and he sponsored a trip by “G’s” son, Simon Gispert, to the Interhash in Phuket.

Nagoya H3

CONTENTS

So there I was... on the shinkansen (bullet train) cruising down the track at 280 Kilometers per hour from Tokyo to Nagoya to join the Nagoya H3 23rd Anniversary *un and what appears from behind the hill whizzing by out the window but Mt Fuji in her full majesty with a beautiful blue sky backdrop. I lean back in my seat take a sip off my Ebisu draft beer and enjoy the just over an hour ride to Nagoya.

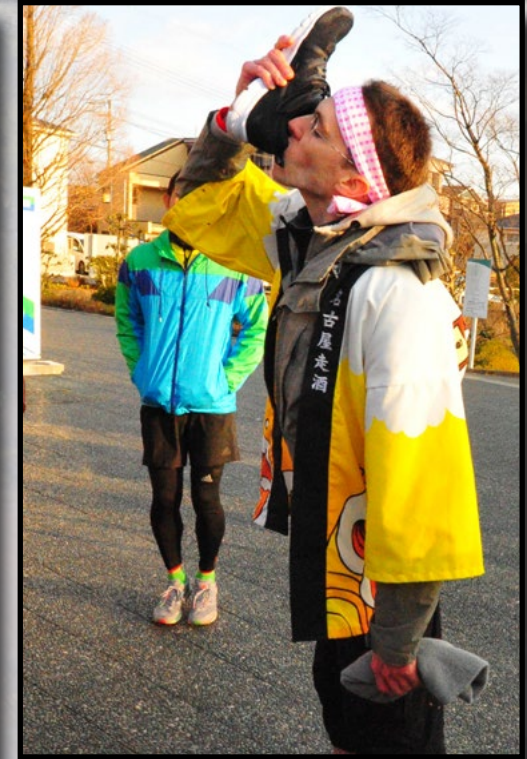

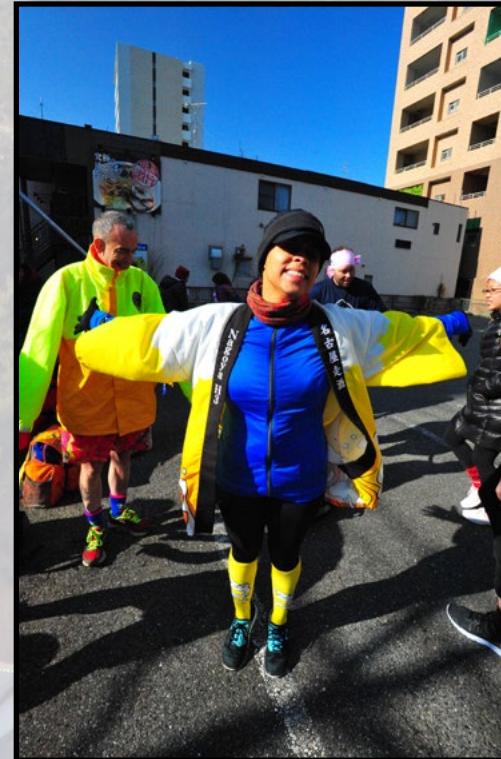

Upon arrival I checked in my hotel, dropped my bags, and headed to the local train to the hash start about 30 minutes out of the town's center. Upon reaching start was greeted by Leebedo who was happy to take my hash cash and give me my "Nagoya 23rd Anniversary Run" headband.

Soon hares were away and we were off *unning past shrines, through bamboo forests, and even by some Saturday afternoon Tai Chi in the many large city parks that are everywhere in rural Nagoya.

Soon after the beloved "Beer Near" we were greeted with a cooler full of beer and chu-hi (Japanese shochu and fruit drink) to enjoy with the Japanese snacks at the finish. Despite the weather forecast for snow and 0°C at start turnout was great and the GM had plenty of down downs to present to the pack.

After swing low the Nagoya Hash normally goes to a local izakaya (Japanese food and drinks) to carry on into the night but for this special occasion we went to the hare's house for dinner and drinks then off into the streets of Nagoya where things got a bit fuzzy.

If you ever make it to Nagoya the hash meets on every other Sunday afternoon and they are also hosting Japan Nash Hash in fall of 2017 when it will be much warmer than 0°C and the *uns will be set in the mountain foot hills. To get there you can fly directly into Nagoya or take a short shinkansen ride from Tokyo, Osaka, Kyoto, or any city on the island if you want to enjoy the scenic country side a little more. If you can't make the hash, send them a message there is always someone up for a beer and willing to introduce you to some of the local cuisine.

- A REFRESHING HASHING EXPERIENCE

Hanyang Hash House Harriers & Harriettes (H5) of Korea is proud to offer itself as host of Pan Asia Hash 2017. The fact that there has never been any large scale hashing event in Korea means that, for most of the prospective participants, this Pan Asia will be a very refreshing hashing experience indeed.

We specifically chose Sokcho City as the event venue: on the fringe of this city is the world-renowned Seorak Mountain National Park which, for many Korean soap opera aficionados, has often been the surreal backdrop. The proposed dates are similarly selected, for late October ushers in the most spectacular autumnal colours, best highlighted by the rainbow hues of the maples.

Participants will get to savour the K-food phenomenon that has been taking the gastronomic world literally by storm. Be enamored by the extensive spread of Korean delights - the quintessential Ginseng Chicken Soup; the omnipresent mouth-watering beef, lamb, and pork barbecues; the huge varieties of fresh – and often live - seafood eaten either raw/sashimi-style, or prepared in dozens of off-secret recipes unbeknownst to other parts of the world. All these, and more, washed down with world famous brands of beers, or with the uniquely Korean soju and makgoeli.

The time is ripe for a refreshing change of scenery, of style, of food and beverage, and of a completely new hashing experience. We are a new troupe of organizers, backed by the provincial government, and supported by experience from the Motherland of hashing.

Give your affirmation for a refreshing change!

The Philippine National Hash weekend – already we have registrations form (the cut of date is 20TH April 2017) and we Sunday Hashers.

19TH to 21ST May 2017 is drawing closer. close to 40 Hashers from outside Cebu expect at least 30 from our regular Cebu

We hope to attract up to 150 Hashers so there is still time for you to join in the fun and be ON ON in Cebu.

There will be a mix of “no sweat, “walk in the park” Runs; medium Runs and, if not exactly ball breakers”, more challenging Runs. Rest assured, plenty of San Miguel beers will be readily available.

The Friday Runs (19TH May)

These will be closer to the city and the “Hike” will take you up, over and along a ridge that is too steep for anyone to build on. The Hike finishes at a ridge top village that is also the start for the walkers’ Run.- a short, not too difficult, wooded walk to and from a waterfall. Both Runs will finish in time to get back for the free flowing beer Meet & Greet session. For those interested, a pub crawl will follow (buy your own for that I’m afraid).

The Saturday Runs (20TH May)

These will be at the Kan Irag Nature Park around 15 uphill km outside the City. Yes, we used the same area for our 1,000TH Run but it is big enough and open enough for a multitude of different trails.

The Walkers’ Trail will be a short jaunt to enjoy the views from a colourful flower farm. For the more energetic there will be a shortish trail around the surrounding countryside without too many obstacles. For the FRB superheroes, an almost “ball buster” trail of around 12km will be available. See also https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kan-irag\_Nature\_Park for details about the area.

The Sunday Runs

There will be two; one will be a simple, medium length “recovery run” while the other will be set with FRB’s in mind. They will be to the north of the City in a coastal area called Tayud which is partly in Consolacion and also Liloan. Both runs will start and finish at the poolside of a sub-division clubhouse.

Saturday & Sunday Parties, On Ons, etc

Free beer will be available at the end of all runs before moving on for more. To get more beer and grub for your Buck, we are holding the Saturday/Sunday circles & bashes in sub-division clubhouses.

The 2017 Philippine Nash Hash over May 19TH to 21ST

Follow the links on <http://cebuhash.org/index.php>

FEE – P4,500 per Hasher

ONLY PHILIPPINE PESO PAYMENTS ACCEPTED

Some Hashers have reported problems with our PayPal payment link. If you do not have a PayPal account, the link also allows you to pay by credit card. Should even that give you a problem, send an e <mailto:cebuhash@gmail.com> and we can sort out a suitable alternative. Remember that the final cut off date is 20TH April 2017.

For those able to pay in cash in Cebu there will be a discount – Peso 4,000 in cash payable to Dribbles Weekly no later than 28TH February 2017. NOTE – cash payments must be in Philippine bank notes direct to our Hash Cash (Dribbles Weekly) and handed over here in Cebu BEFORE the 28/2/17 cut off date.

NB – Regardless of payment method, everyone must complete the online rego form so that we know T-shirt sizes and other preferences. Separate forms & payments for each Hasher.

HOTELS Cebu City itself has many upmarket (expensive) hotels and a wide variety of lower cost (but OK) places to stay at. Those located along Gov Quenco Avenue and A.S. Fortuna Street are the best placed for access to our pick up point. We suggest you use an online booking service and search for hotels in vicinity of Banilad Town Center, Cebu, Philippines. We do not recommend staying on Mactan Island (Lapu Lapu) over a Hash weekend.

THE REAL DEAL

are MADE BY HAND

Frontera's Sizzling Fajitas

It was 1973 in Houston, Texas on Navigation street where a young tejanita named Ninfa first popularized the famous Tex-Mex dish now known as "fajitas".

We pay homage to Mama Ninfa everyday by making our fajitas the traditional way. Marinated overnight in Frontera's proprietary blend of authentic Tex-Mex spices and served sizzling hot with a stack of fresh house-made tortillas.

Real Tex-Mex only at Frontera.

The Hash Darwin Awards

Old Chaz, the chap on the right, in one of his sober moments, put forward the notion of “survival of the fittest”, a concept that implies that the removal from the gene pool (usually by death) of its weaker members, thereby strengthens the survival chances of the remainder. However, here at OTI, we do not encourage the extermination of the less able, the feeble, or the intellectually challenged. Rather, we encourage them to become hashers! Further, this column aims to be a forum where the moronic misdeeds of hashers might be chronicled in pursuit of that noblest of pastimes, namely, having cheap laughs at other people’s expense. With that in mind, I offer the following:

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

Charles Darwin

Nil. Nada. Nothing. Blob. Failed to trouble the scorer. Duck Egg. Zero. Such euphemisms equate to precisely the total number of replies to my request in the last OTI column for reader contributions on the topic of a humorous opening paragraph to a run write-up, real or imagined. I should have known better; the chances of getting a response from readers, or at the very least purchasers, of this magazine are roughly equivalent to the chances of getting paid for a column by the editor. Thus it was that I found myself at Thanaleng Station in Laos on a Saturday night about to board the toy train that crosses the mighty Mekong River to Thailand with a deadline looming and nothing more in the mind than a slight headache and that vague feeling of anxiety that having to do work of any kind always provokes in me. Of course, I had known for a week that an article was due but, as luck would have it, that erstwhile Hashman and boon drinking companion, The Duke of Puke, had chosen that week to visit me in Vientiane. Thus, while we had engaged in a series of grotesque and improbable drinking escapades, a column was no closer to being written.

Never mind, I thought, the 12-hour overnight train trip to Bangkok loomed before me. On board, free of distraction, I would be able to churn out 1,000 words of page filler, no sweat.

I was adequately prepared. The trains in Thailand now being “dry” for egregious reasons, the thirsty traveler must prepare by pre-decanting his beverage of choice into a suitably nondescript container. I had a water bottle filled, as usual, with gin, and the train staff are kind enough never to question why a strange farang purchases cans of tonic from them into which he pours “water” which he then pours over ice and consumes with an increasingly sloppy grin on his face.

CAMBODIAN HARRIETTE ON THE ICE IN SIHANOLIKVILLE

Prepared I was but inspired I was not. The muse is a flighty and temperamental character and sometimes she deigns not to visit so I eventually went to bed having solved the World’s problems while staring half-cut out the train window and the warm, dark, narcotic Thai night but with nary a word on the page.

Sunday it would have to be. I wound my way via subway and taxi through the half-light of a Bangkok Sunday morning to the monastic halls of residence at my university where in between hash runs and ill-attended lectures on 19th Century American literature I ply my “craft or sullen art” (that means writing this sort of stuff, for the uninitiated).

Disaster struck immediately as I unpacked my bag. The dirty clothes were there as was the half-bottle of Gordon’s (the other half having been consumed as “water” the night before) but where was my bloody laptop? A pit formed in my stomach as I realized I had left the damn thing on the train.

This was grim. Not merely because I had this stupid column to write but also because I had actual paying work to do editing an unreadable article on marketing for a Thai academic. Worse, an impecunious teacher I did not relish the thought of having to plonk down a large chunk of my measly salary to purchase a new computer. This called for a drink.

Steadied somewhat by a large Gn’T, an idea began to form in my slightly addled brain. What if I tried ringing the State Railway of Thailand? Perhaps, just perhaps, honesty is not entirely dead in the big city and some kind soul might have found my five-year-old burnt orange laptop and handed it in. Unlikely, sure, but desperate times, etc.

Fortified with another drink I looked up the State Railways website on my phone which I had had the good sense not to lose and began dialing all the numbers there. Naturally, not one of them was in service. Broadening my search, I found a London-based website that listed a number for the main station in Bangkok. Lo and behold it rang...and rang...and rang. I dialed three or four more times and was on the point of giving up hope entirely when a timid female voice answered in Thai. I hastily explained my predicament and while the speaker sympathized with me she claimed she could do nothing to assist me. It seems she was the cleaner!

However, she offered a tentative possibility. She quoted another telephone number to me and suggested I try that. More in hope than confidence, I rang. The phone picked up. It was a fax machine.

I was done for. There seemed nothing for it than to set out for Fortune Tower and deplete my savings by buying a new machine. Then my phone rang. It was the same number as the fax. A Thai voice on the other end asked me what I wanted. I explained and was promised a call back. Twenty anxious minutes passed and then a new number rang me. In passable English a voice announced that it was Police Captain Jomprasan of the Railway Police and he had my laptop!

Callou, Calay, oh frabjous day! I quickly grabbed a taxi to the station to be greeted by the good Captain and Railway Officer Cherdsak

Dubai Interhash 2020

Ruenghirun. It seems the staff on the train remembered me as a frequent traveler and, finding my machine, handed it in, secure in the knowledge that I would come back for it.

Thus it is that I find myself seated opposite the train station with a bottle of Beer Chang typing out this column on my trusty old laptop with, dare I say it, a little piece of my faith in humanity restored.

So there you have it. Who deserves a seat on the ice? Me no doubt for travelling around half-pissed all the time and forgetting stuff. My hat, however, goes off to the good people at the State Railways of Thailand and the Railway Police. I'll be dropping them off some copies of this magazine when I'm back at the station and on my way home to Laos next. It's the least I can do for the smile they brought to my face.

On On to the next edition.

NEW STAR WARS FILM TO DEPICT A LIFE ON BENEFITS IN SPACE

In a surprising departure from the familiar Star Wars template of adventure, derring-do and space battles, the new standalone Star Wars film is to be a savage indictment of life at the margins of society under a bureaucratic, uncaring state on the desert planet of Tatooine.

‘Saturday Night, Tatooine morning’ will focus on the Tatooine benefits office and the everyday struggle of the workless and disenfranchised. Barry Skywalker, a distant cousin of famed Jedi Luke, is a decent man forced to enter the social security system after injury prevents him from working as a landspeeder mechanic.

“Barry’s a decent man thrown into this Kafkaesque world of unthinking benefit office droids who just make cold judgements based on their pre-set programming.

Got the price for a cuppa tea mate

“He’s having to choose between giving his son synthetic bum-bum root or heating a single room in the community dwelling. I mean, how can you expect a first-generation bureaucracy droid from M4-78 to empathise with that?”

The film’s most wrenching scene shows Barry forced to drunkenly dance for obese crime lord Jabba the Hutt in order to get the money for a tin of space beans.

“Yeah, that was tough but, you know, we’re professionals. We did the scene and then afterwards I went up to Kenneth the Hutt, who was playing Jabba, and we just gave each other a hug.”

The film is expected to be released at Christmas and will be followed up by a new Star Wars film about workers’ failed attempt to achieve a true socialist collective on the Wookiee planet of Kashyyyk.

Newcastle United 2017/18 kit to feature crotchless shorts
as Mike Ashley bids for Agent Provocateur,

Newcastle United's players will adorn high-leg crotchless shorts for the 2017/18 season, after Mike Ashley's Sports Direct look to take over ailing lingerie firm Agent Provocateur.

Ashley himself said, "This is a great day for Sports Direct, a great day for Newcastle United, but most of all a great day for me."

"The players will be proud to wear the name of such an iconic brand as Agent Provocateur on their chests."

"Obviously not literally on their chests, because that bit is cut out, and it's all sheer and see through and there's not really enough material, per se, to actually write words on."

"Also, the back is just three wispy bits of silk holding the thing together, so we're going to have to figure out how to get the names and numbers on the players."

"We could put them on the top of the shorts. Though the top of the shorts is sort of about two-thirds of the way down the bum crack."

"Oh, you know what! It's obvious now I think about it! We'll just write the players names and numbers down the stockings! Silly me!"

The Championship leader's star players Ayoze Perez, Mohamed Diame and Jonjo Shelvey are due to model the 'jezebel scarlet' home and away kits as well as the new stiletto 'over-the-knee' style football boots early next week.

Buff underwear model Gary Lineker said, "I've already done this to be honest. It's yesterday's news. They're gonna have to do something a lot more shocking to shock me."

"Buy my crisps!"

The deal will also see the stadium renamed to the Skimpypants Stadium for the foreseeable future.

ROLY-POLY GOALKEEPER WAYNE SHAW TO REPLACE CLAUDIO BRAVO AT MANCHESTER CITY

After their exit from the Champions League, Manchester City are understood to be scouting the pie-scoffing Sutton keeper as an attractive alternative to Claudio Bravo. Bravo, who let in six goals in January, is understood to be less interesting to City than Shaw, who is currently between contracts.

Fans are already changing their social media profile pictures to a pie in support of Shaw, who they believe was unfairly let go from his previous club.

Shaw is also believed to have a better chance of making it to the bench without injuring himself than Raheem Sterling, so long as it's not too far to walk.

"Shaw is a big lad and let's face it even if he just stands there, there's a better chance of the ball just bouncing off him than Claudio," said a Man City insider.

Claudio does all that fancy jumping around stuff, but at the end of the day, we reckon Shaw would save more goals by merit of sheer volume in the goalmouth. "And given that Claudio always jumps the wrong way, I think we can be sure there's no chance of Wayne doing that. Or indeed jumping anywhere."

However, the FA have indicated that Shaw may not be allowed to take a role at City as they're hopeful he'll become England Manager when the inevitable catches up with Gareth Southgate.

---onon---

Leicester City FC has taken the unusual step of sacking their match-day catering team after they failed to turn water into wine. Despite creating meals that defied all expectations last season, the fact that miracles have not literally been performed this season was enough.

Vice-chairman Aiyawatt Srivaddhanaprabha told reporters, "Last season we handed the catering team a couple of loaves and some fish and they created a series of match-day delicacies that delighted everyone at the King Power Stadium."

"But this year, no matter how many jugs of water we provided, they didn't create one drop of wine. That is simply unacceptable by the standards of Leicester City."

"They used excused like one of their most important chefs being poached by Chelsea, but frankly they should be accepting responsibility."

"Leicester is the place of miracle, and if you can't keep delivering them, we'll show you the door."

The vacant position has been advertised as seeking applicants with a solid track record of 'healing lepers' or 'walking great distances over water'.

SUNSHINE COAST HASH RUN # 1924 - THE RICE PAPER STEAK RUN HARES: WONG WAY

After some navigational gymnastics the pack found 180 Yandina Bli Bli Rd. Our hosts Sharon and Glenn allowed Wrong Way to have the ON ON at their immaculately groomed establishment hard by the Parklands Forestry.

Wrong Way demonstrated his flour conserving, Milo tin miniature arrow printing trail setting device. Only a twisted mind such as Wrong Ways could conceive of such a thing.

ON ON up the heart break hill with Weak As and daughter Jemma in the lead with Boring close behind Max, Wrong Way's hound making easy work of the ascent.

The first check took the pack down a meandering trail that Mali Bog attempted several cunt ups, followed by semi orgasmic screams of delight celebrating his deliverance.

The marvels of modern technology, not

The Nosh was a rabbits delight, with very little meat in evidence. What meat there was could be best described as tissue thin meat essence.

Stripper who has seen a fair bit of meat in her time, knew that she needed more than what was on offer to fill the emptiness inside her.

The circle was dedicated to memory loss and the correct use of the "arms of justice" correctly demonstrated by our GM!!!

All in all an entertaining night of brain cell destruction and a marvellous demonstration of meat shaving.

ON ON PONTIUS.

The plan is To hide the meat under a slice of cucumber

After several tries Sir MailBog did not get lost this week. Felcher soon came into view weaving dextrously between the gums and sweating like a horse rooting in a hot house. The GM Ratshit and his diminutive hound were soon gathered at the Rocky Rd car park for a welcome "cane cutters cordial" as was our french cultural attaché, Kermit, AKA The Cane Toad now being an Aussie..??

Nobby had volunteered his services as "brew truck" driver on account of his fucked knees, fresh from his NZ sheep shagging antics at Kiwi Nash Hash.

ON ON home via the forestry road found two old lags freshly released from "done rootin'" retirement village, Tooley and Eric, more full of excuses for missing the piss stop than a treasurer on Budget night.

BADGERS ANNOUNCE CULL OF GOVERNMENT MINISTERS

Badgers have pledged to bring the number of Government Ministers down to 'manageable levels' within five years.

According to badgers, the Minister population has 'exploded' in recent years, with 119 ministerial roles being filled by the current government and a further 101 shadow ministerial roles in the opposition.

"Ministers consistently display a clear threat to the badger community and their numbers need to be controlled," said spokesman Raymond S. Badger.

"For example, back in 2001 a 'dodgy dossier' wrongly pinned the Foot and Mouth outbreak on us badgers resulting in hundreds of thousands of deaths.

"These people are dangerous and need to be stopped."

Debate rages over whether it is more humane for ministers to be shot or poisoned, with many badgers preferring an 'up close and personal' approach with a saw-backed combat knife.

Despite complaints from Minister-supporting groups, badgers insist that the scientific consensus backs the cull, with extensive damage caused by the expanding population being cited as a key reason.

"We've got fifty barrels of gunpowder and we're great at digging. We reckon a combination of those two and we'll be in the cellars of the Palace of Westminster in no time."

"It's an old plan, but a good one."

FORD ANNOUNCES 'WANKER' DRIVING MODE FOR NEW FOCUS

Ford's new Focus ST will use Satnav to identify schools and hospitals and automatically turn up the stereo when you drive past. Executives described "Wanker" mode as being like 'Sport' mode in that it disables traction control, but also disables the exhaust silencer and the headlight dip function with a flick of a switch.

"Our objective here at Ford is to make the driving experience easier for our average driver," said Ford spokesman Simon Williams. "And extensive market research shows that our average Focus driver is twenty-three years old and consistently off his tits.

"And the car he's driving is over 80% likely to have been nicked within the previous six hours, so we've stopped worrying about things like resale value and bodywork.

"We've made several styling changes in response to demand from our core demographic, including a knicker hook and an ankle rest next to the rearview mirror.

"We don't believe they'll ever be used, but our customers want to be able to tell their mates they were."

New models will also come with a complimentary voucher for a Chlamydia test.

Other innovations include the foglamps being on continuously – unless it is foggy in which case they don't work – the indicator switch functioning as another horn, and the throttle automatically dipping aggressively when paused at pedestrian crossings.

Florists have responded with delight at news of the new Focus, and have already started laying in extra stocks of roadside flower displays in confident expectation of bumper sales.

A horny hashman meets a girl on the street. He says, "Come on, babe, lets go in the alleyway and get it on. I've got fifteen bucks."

"She says, "FIFTEEN bucks"

You're crazy. For fifteen bucks, I'll let you LOOK at it." They go into the alleyway, she pulls down her pants, and he gets down on his knees. But he can't see anything, because it's too dark, so he gets out his lighter. He lights his lighter, and he says, "My God, your pubic hair... it's so curly and thick... it's BEAUTIFUL." She says, "Thank you."

He says, "You mind if I ask you a personal question?"

She says, "Go ahead."

He says, "Can you pee through all that hair?"

She says, "Of course."

He says, "Well, you better start. You're on fire."

SUNSHINE COAST HASH RUN # 1925 -6 FEBRUARY 2017 THE PUSS PUSS KING LYCHEE RUN

NOT QUITE THE EMPOROR LYCHEE RUN BUT CLOSE - HARE: PUSS PUSS

A gain no bitumen not even on the last 5 km driving in. Some even managed to get their red Noddy car over

Good hashing territory with plenty of check backs to keep the pack bunched up. One piss stop about 5 km after the XXXX marking. Tail enders thinking – "Aw bugger. I've missed the piss stop". But "No!!" the piss stop was still there manned by the hare with an assortment of refreshments.

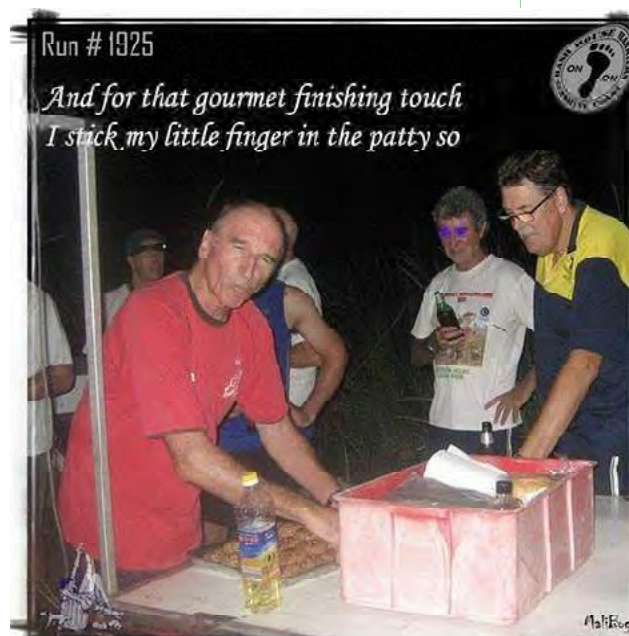

Some idiot put a bloody great dam on the last bit of the trail home and the pack and straggler went in all directions picking up markings from the walker's track the runner's track out and from the drive in.

Runners and walkers all came in after about 45 minutes. All new territory to me.

Sir MaliBog and Red Horse managed to get lost in snake country.

Nosh was hamburgers with dirty great patties that you couldn't get your mouth around and enough bread to go round. Seems 4 loaves is the minimum order.

Usual great full participation circle. Charges for navigation, piss stop too far from the marker, announcement about Jimna weekend Some lame joke about Ken - Chick-Ken crossing the road. from Wong Way which he repeated later in the week at the Moonlighters Hash with equal bewilderment.

the goat track in without managing any major mishaps. Some astute driver saw the sign on Sippy Creek Rd indicating no through road and took their chances with the other road and ended up at rubbish truck depot.

Others didn't even get close to Sippy Creek Rd, Tanawha and ended up driving up and down Sippy Downs Dve, Sippy Downs. Even if you found the right road it wasn't easy to find the sign written on the back of a postage stamp with a faint pencil indicating the turn off.

The drive in, once found, was well marked with toilet paper so all augered well for a well marked run. The smell of mozzie repellent in the air.

Puss announced a short run with an even shorter walker's track. Specific instructions were given to Knobby & Tissy. At the first 3 way check turn left and go straight though the check back". This was translated by some tired brain cell as "go straight at the 3 way check and go through any check back".

THE LATEST NEWS FROM TINSEL LAND

AMERICA'S FAVOURITE BEER RECLASSIFIED

Budweiser reclassified as fruit juice in latest round of EU regulations. Budweiser is so piss-weak it has been classified as a fruit juice in the latest round of EU regulations. The manufacturers claim that the drink is a 'beer' has been challenged by lawmakers, who insist anything which looks like it came out of a donkey is unlikely to pass muster.

Listing the essential criteria for being recognised as a beer for licensing purposes, which includes taste, appearance and alcohol content, experts conceded that it didn't meet any of them but could be added to the list of approved cleaning fluids if the brewers agreed.

Bud, which is regarded by many in its American homeland as a worryingly strong intoxicant, narrowly missed out on being recognised as an energy drink by the commission due to not containing enough caffeine.

"Budweiser is what you drink if you want to look like you're drinking, but maybe can't metabolise alcohol or suffer from chronic brewers droop or just don't like the taste of actual, proper beer," said Simon Williams of the Commission on Look Stop taking the Piss America, this Shit isn't Beer and You Aren't Fooling Anyone.

"Any liquid which looks and tastes identical coming out as it does going in isn't Beer, or even Lager. The Carling Declaration is very clear on that point.

"Until you make something which a normal, sane human being can recognise as being the product of water, hops and yeast you're going in the same column as Apple Juice, Michelob and Tizer. "Now if you'll excuse me, I'm going to get a pint of Bud Lite. Out of the kitchen tap."

SUPERHERO FILM PROBABLY OUT THIS WEEKEND

Hollywood insiders are predicting that there will almost certainly be another superhero film out this weekend. The film is expected to feature an unlikely character during an unsatisfactory stage in his life who, through a bizarre set of circumstances, finds himself imbued with the powers of something else; a stoat, perhaps, or some fungus. After a disappointing first attempt to put his new powers to use, there will be a humorous interlude where the protagonist attempts to hide his new-found powers from a family member who will be played by a reasonably well-respected character actor whose pension is looking a little light; Annette Benning or Edward Norton. He will then learn a valuable lesson.

HUGE SNOWSTORM TO HIT USA IS OBAMA'S FAULT

Huge snowstorm to hit us is 'obama's' fault insists Donald Trump

US President Donald Trump has taken to Twitter to accuse his predecessor Barack Obama of creating a huge snowstorm – Storm Stella – that is due to hit the northeast of the country later.

The President tweeted – 'Just found out that Obama used his Muslim magic to create giant snowstorm.

Sick. (And sad!!!)' – at 3.05am.

The snowstorm could see some areas hit with 18 inches of snow and authorities are urging the public to not be homeless or poor for the duration of the storm.

White House press spokesman Sean Spicer clarified the President's remarks.

"Obviously, the President wasn't literally accusing Mr Obama of creating the snowstorm when he literally accused Mr Obama of creating the snowstorm.

"He was merely stating that owing to the conditions in which Mr Obama left the White House, i.e. winter – a snow storm was likely."

On the specific use of the words 'Muslim magic', Mr Spicer claimed that was a simple spelling mistake.

"I understand that the President meant to type 'massive magnets,' which was clearly a metaphor for 'normal weather'."

It is understood that the White House is looking into setting up a system of automated press releases that each morning could simply issue a statement saying 'That's not what he meant'.

After a middle bit that goes on too long but features a sexy lady, there will be a lot of special effects and a brief moment where it looks like the antagonist looks like he will beat the superhero before the superhero finally defeats the antagonist using the valuable lesson they learned earlier.

It is expected to get reasonably commendable reviews and spend a brief period at the top of the box-office charts.

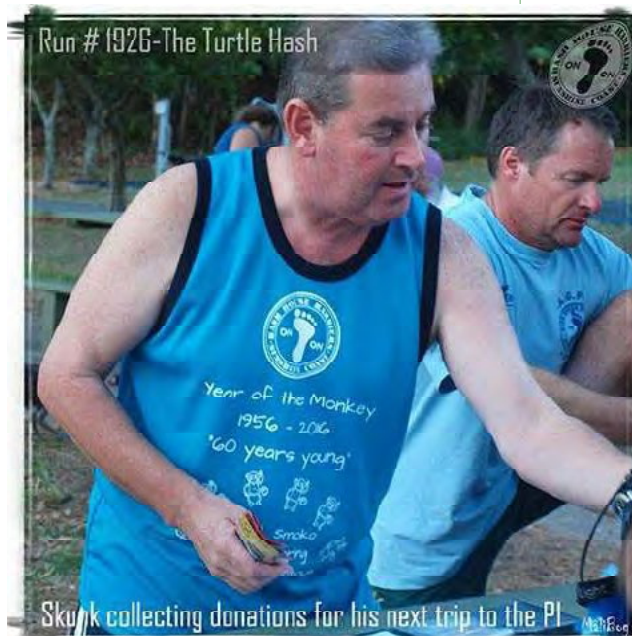

It will be the first superhero film since the last superhero film which probably came out last weekend, got reasonably commendable reviews and spent a brief period at the top of the box-office charts.

SUNSHINE COAST HASH RUN # 1926 - VENUE LA Balsa PARK HARES: STRIPPER & FLOWERY 'T'

One hasher (no names mentioned to protect the guilty) decided that even the prospect of a full moon run set by ex Moonlighter Stripper and her accident prone mate

OFTA, Tiss, Nobby and others had consumed vast quantities of those delectable edibles even before the main group had turned for home from Kawana beach afar.

Fleury was not sufficient incentive to attend this water bound peninsula.

It was déjà vu for those who had made the journey and whose expectations of a good hit out were to be sorely disappointed.

Family feuder Stripper's briefing about dune erosion trail markings etc was a smoke screen to cover up the fact that there was no trail set apart from the glorious circumnavigation of Pt Cartwright reserve.

The pack was warned not to run along some beaches as the turtles were ready to hatch and if we did would be chased by the iratut Turtle Lady 'Piss stop?? What piss stop and where?? Not at Kawana Surf Club; where most of the luckless hashers ended up in futile effort to find liquids. Some did find the piss stop only to find it was pot luck as the lables had gone missing.

Fighting fit Darkie belted back along Oceanic Drive leaving newcomers John & Brian in his wake.

Active trot walkers Twats, Tooley, Bungee & Shaggis couldn't get back to the on on in time to partake in their portion of garlic infused spuds and chicken wings.

Nevertheless a good quantity of pasta, spicy mince and bread were to follow.

Sandra and Spewbucket dont seem to have a care in the world. Golly that pair are easily pleased and have even signed up for the Jimna weekend.

Recollections about the circle vary according to whom you talk to. Fleury upset the esky from nearby hilltop.

Wrongway attempted an Irish themed joke/ rhyme/riddle that went on for so long he had to deliver in two parts.

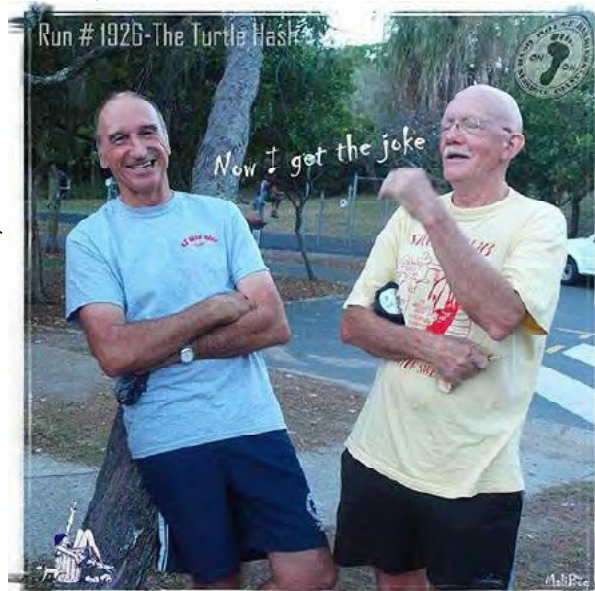

Smoko played 'musical chairs' in naming lunch venue - baffling all who were silly enough to listen in.

Sir MaliBog made the announcement to the fact that the next edition of the Trash would be issued in a hard back edition.

Wurtulla, it appears is the go to suburb. I will go to his house just in case he has forgotten what day it is.

What appeared to be an organized boot camp outing on Cartwright front beach early on was in fact a group of Full Moon gazers – I should have joined them for the duration!! On On Puss....PS

Yes. I get it Sir Mali – "Hard Back" as in Turtle –hah hah hah NOT

ARGENTINA CLAIMS NEWLY DISCOVERED EIGHTH CONTINENT

Argentina has lodged a claim on the newly discovered 'Zealandia', saying it is historically a part of their country.

According to a petition lodged with the United Nations twenty minutes after the discovery was announced, Zealandia, which is a distinct continental plate beneath New Zealand, was colonised by the British against the wishes of the actual Argentinian owners. The petition includes several historical maps to support the claim, although critics have pointed out that the ink on them is still wet.

Asking for an immediate handover of the disputed territory, Argentina has pledged that the wishes of the current inhabitants will be listened to before being completely ignored. "Zealandia, or Las Zealvinas as they are correctly known in their proper tongue, were stolen from Argentina centuries ago", Argentinian envoy Simonio Williams told the UN whilst chopping an onion.

Brushing away genuine tears of injustice, he continued, "But they were stolen – stolen! – from the indigenous Argentinian people by the perfidious British.

"Las Zealvinas son Argentinas!" he cried.

Argentina is expected to struggle to uphold their claim at the UN as other nations have also claimed the new territory – most notably China who say the new continent is actually historically a part of their country and they're building an airstrip there to prove it.

IT'S A MANS WORLD INNIT

While reading an article last night about fathers and sons, memories came flooding back to the time I took me son out for his first pint.

Off we went to our local pub only two blocks from the family cottage.

I got him a Bishops Finger. He didn't like it, so I drank it.

Then I got him a Spitfire, but he didn't like that either, so I drank it.

Finally, I thought he might like some real London Porter?

He didn't like that either, so I drank that as well.

I thought maybe he'd like to sample a short better so I tried a Sapphire Gin and Tonic on the rocks with a slice of lemon, nope!

In desperation, I had him try a rare Aultmore 15 Year Old Single Malt Scotch, one of Scotland's finest.

He wouldn't even smell it.

What could I do, so in utter despair and hopelessness I drank that as well!

By the time I realized he just didn't like to drink, I was so fookin' shit-faced I could hardly push his pram back home.

MILLIONAIRE SUICIDE BOMBER RECEIVED POOR FINANCIAL ADVICE

Millionaire suicide bomber thought to have received poor financial advice

British suicide bomber Jamal Al Halrith may have received unsound financial advice prior to blowing himself up in a jeep.

The former Guantanamo prisoner chose to close his account in spectacular fashion at an army base in Mosul last month rather than investing his money in something sensible like property.

Al Halrith, 38, is known to have approached financial advisers at Williams, Lamb and Thornton to ascertain the best use of taxpayers' money in a difficult financial climate. However, it emerged that advisors failed to inform Al Halrith that buying a big fuck-off jeep and stacking it full of explosives was an unwise investment.

Financial Advisor, Simon Williams, said "Had we know he was going to do this, we might have suggested a different course of action, like one of the government's new tax-free ISAs.

"Some of these pay a twenty-five percent bonus at the end of each year, although anyone considering martyrdom needs to read the small print.

"We also discussed a number of other options such as bonds, but at that point Mr Al Halrith's eyes seemed to glaze over."

Williams added, "Also, the jeep he used was an AUDI, which is just frivolous in my book."

Yesterday i had an appointment to see the urologist for a prostate exam.

Of course I was a bit on edge because all my friends have either gone under the knife or had those pellets implanted. the waiting room was filled with patients.

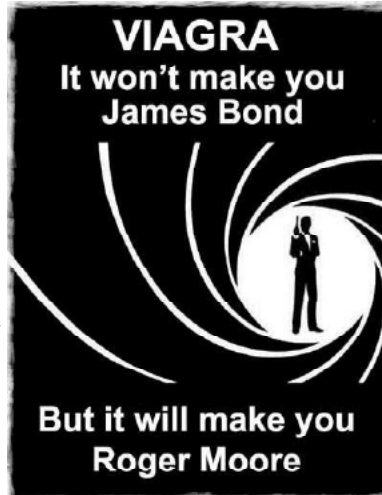

as I approached the receptionist's desk, i noticed that the receptionist was a large unfriendly woman who looked like a sumo wrestler. I gave her my name.

In a very loud voice, the receptionist said, "yes, I have your name here; you want to see the doctor about impotence, right?"

All the patients in the waiting room snapped their heads around to look at me, a now very embarrassed man. But as usual, i recovered quickly, and in an equally loud voice replied:

"No, I've come to inquire about a sex change operation, but I don't want the same doctor that did yours."

The room erupted in applause! Don't mess with old guys!!!
