*Roll out those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer.
Those days of trails, and travels, and beer.
Roll out those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer.
You'll wish that summer would always be here.*

It's finally summertime and the living is easy, especially if you find yourself hashing in the temperate zones of Asia, Africa, Europe or the Americas.

The last InterAmericas Hash in Portland is a hard act to follow, but Phoenix will put its best foot forward at this year's shootout at the O.K. Corral. The fabled days of the Wild West survive and thrive in American hearts and half-minds. Join a gathering of the tribes set to convene in the Arizona wastelands for some desert delights and a rising of the Phoenix.

If you'd rather be Shanghai'd in China, running drunk with an egg in your mouth, the Rusty Man Trihashlon is right up your alley. Harriettes typically outperform their male counterparts in this battle of the sexes. The event is touted as "Not for Pussies" but one might wonder why.

The infamous Lagos Away Team joined the hometown harriers and harriettes for a "Hashtounding, Beerful Sexperience". What happens in Lagos stays in Lagos, but encrypted leaks from unreliable undercover agents reveal incriminating behavior on the part of the usual suspects. Every word of this report should be taken with a grain of salt, followed by a shot of tequila.

Is your next hash hare assignment getting you down? Never fear, Hash Boy is rushing to the rescue with his EXPRESS HASH SERVICE offering "Everything you need to throw your next hash, delivered to your start in 30 minutes or less!"

Heading to Hua Hin in July, Granada in September, Japan Nash Hash in October, or Indochina Mekong Hash in Laos this November? Luang Prabang is calling you to Run for the Children. Check all the latest event updates, and don't forget to pack your runners.

Looking ahead to the next edition of Harrier Magazine, which will mark 15 years since our humble beginnings at Goa Interhash in 2002.

I look forward to seeing you on trail soon.

InterAmerica's Hash 2017

in Phoenix, Arizona

by Phoenix InterAm Committee

There's plenty of good hash country in Arizona and InterAm 2017 will feature 17 trails each day. All trails provide spectacular views of our beautiful state, with plenty of cacti and other pointy things that are created to hurt hashers. All trails are within a 2-hour radius of the resort in all directions from the mountains to the desert valleys. All trail details will be posted within the coming months as well as being available in the InterAm booklet and PDF (electronic) format.

We've also got hash runs scheduled for the week before and after the main event 7-9 October 2017. For more information check:

The Rusty Man Challenge is the brain child of members of the Distinguished Overseas Gentlemen of Shanghai (DOGS) Hash and Royal South Side Hash, Hong Kong. It was first run at the All China Nash Hash in Shanghai in 2013.

The Rusty Man is a Trihashlon of 3 events. It begins with a sit down full English breakfast with a double Bloody Mary. This is immediately followed by a 5km Hash with a full 500ml bottle beer DownDown at the start, at a beer stop each kilometre and at the finish. The last event is an egg & spoon race where the egg is carried in the mouth across an obstacle such as a fence, staircase, stream crossing, etc. It is not for the feint hearted and is a true Hashers' event where the drinking club has at last found a way to handle the running problem! Typically the Rusty Man is an early morning hangover run on the last day of the Nash Hash. The Hares, traditionally decked out in Hash kilts, brief the runners, reminding them that, although it is not a race, the Rusty Man is a Challenge. Hence, and in the words of Sean Connery from the Highlander movie, "There can be only one" winner. All other participants are by definition ..... Losers!

The RUSTY MAN CHALLENGE

As with all sporting events cheating is forbidden but it is highly encouraged. Such trickery might involve topping up fellow hasher's beer or adding extra vodka to their Bloody Mary, misdirection on trail and especially tripping Hashers on the egg & spoon event, not to mention egg volley fire from the kilted Hares as Hashers approach the finish.

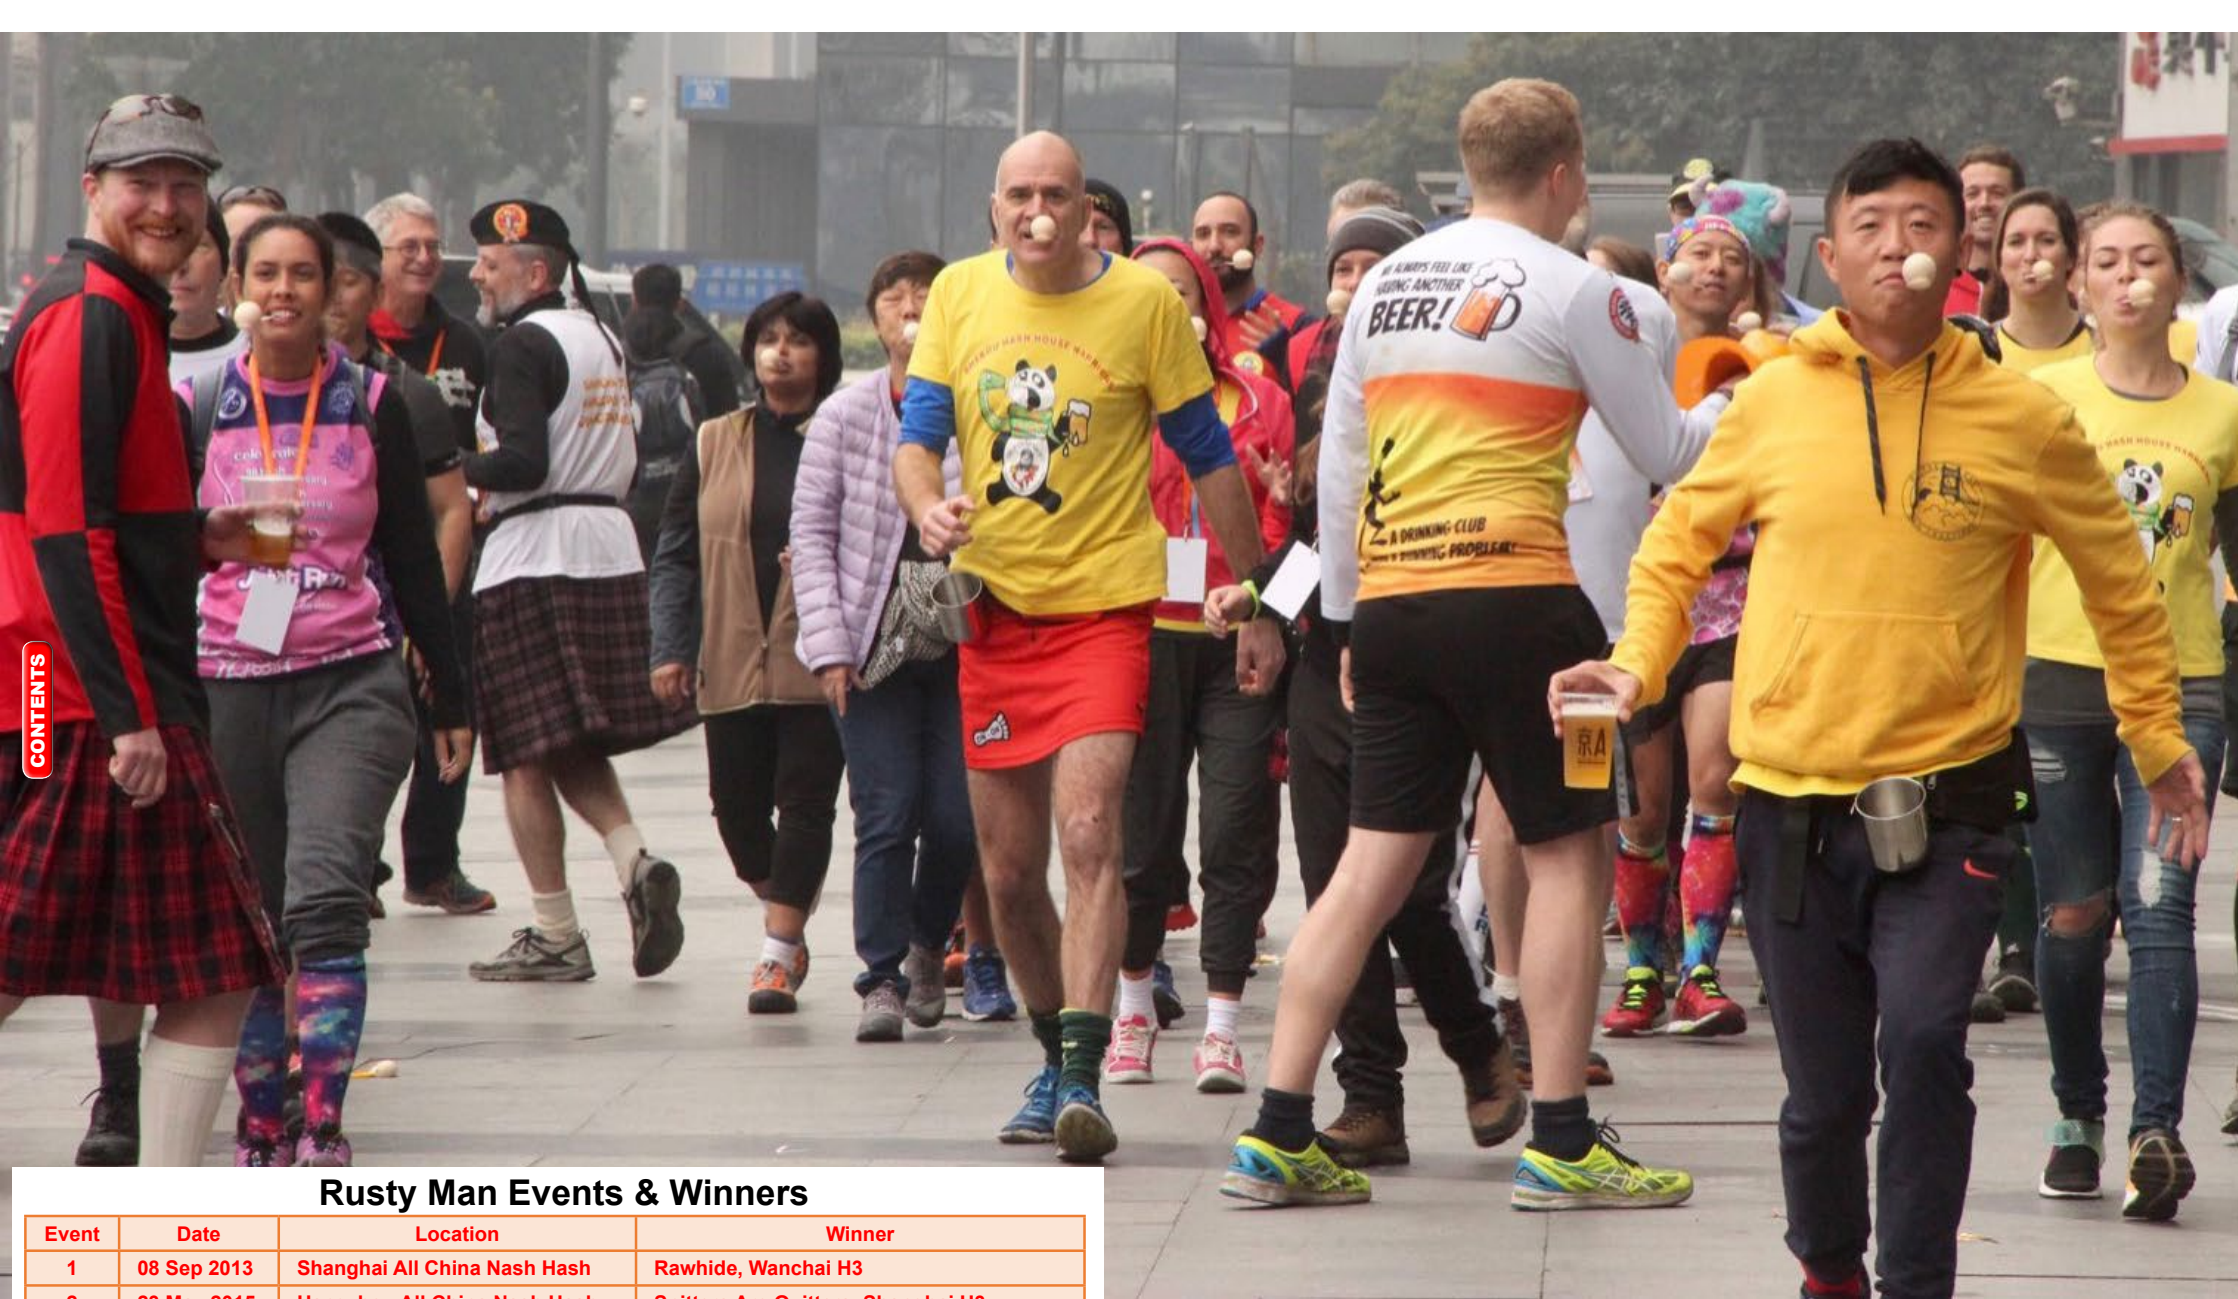

At the first Rusty Man there was only one Harriette competing and amazingly she won, setting a tradition which has stood the test of time. To date the event has only ever been won by a Harriette. Apparently no matter how much you give Harriettes to drink they just can't get rid of their running problem!

The Rusty Man has since been run a number of times across China and each event attracts more Hashers with the last Challenge in Chengdu totalling around 50 runners.

The Rusty Man will continue to run as part of the All China Nash Hash but if you are interested in running an event with your Hash then contact Haggis or Roomboy via Harrier Magazine and they will be happy to send details of how to organise your very own Rusty Man Challenge. Who knows, perhaps one day the Rusty Man will become as ubiquitous as the Red Dress Run.

AFRICA

Lagos

City in Nigeria

Lagos, Nigeria's largest city, sprawls inland from the Gulf of Guinea across Lagos Lagoon. Victoria Island, the financial center of the metropolis, is known for its beach resorts, boutiques and nightlife. To the north, Lagos Island is home to the National Museum Lagos, displaying cultural artifacts and craftworks. Nearby is Freedom Park, once a colonial-era prison and now a major venue for concerts and public events.

CONTENTS

The objectives were clear, Lagos H3 promised to deliver a Pan Africa Hash which was “The Ultimate Hash” a “Hashstounding, Beeriful, Sexperience” through “carefully planned and deeply thought through choice of venue, run sites, performance/skits and On-On Afters.” So how far did they actually reach these objectives?

Registration

This was “Hashstounding” – with a clear and frequent communication through a website, email and a What’s Up Group and arrangements for fast-track registration. Some payment issues but these were sorted out.

Run-Sites

A successful Red Dress run organised on Friday afternoon and sponsored by Coca Cola brought most of the streets on Victoria Island to a standstill as a sea of red hashers with some rather strange looking women passed through.

CONTENTS

Saturday and Sunday offered a choice of 6 runs from shiggy to beaches. The best sounding Tarkwa Bay run which involved a cruise on the sea to an island saw Head Mistress “Interhash” style going to the venue early to book the bus for the Addis hashers (but there were only 2 of us) before the masses arrived since there was only one bus which as predicted saw as many hashers as possible trying to cram into a 47 seater bus. The trip and trail was lovely but the oversubscription resulted in not enough beer or snacks for the group. However, the next day this was corrected and beer and food were allocated in terms of the numbers signed up. Not liking the idea of falling into Nigerian shiggy or another urban run, I signed up for the Goshen beach run on Sunday where we were made to feel like Hash Ambassadors travelling in convey in buses owned by the Nigerian Navy and escorted by a few of them on trail to protect us from the street hustlers.

Venue

Similar to an Interhash event, a big stage and tent had been erected in Eko Atlantic City, an area of 10 million square kilometres of reclaimed land from the Atlantic Ocean. Every night a whole range of entertainment was put on ranging from cultural dancers, to DJs, live music and even a Michael Jackson impersonator which was “hashtounding”. There was plenty of beer on offer in cans and on draught of different varieties which didn’t seem to run out offering a ‘beeriful’ experience of Nigerian beer although soft drinks did. Food was offered buffet style and was controlled by vouchers and servers serving portions to make sure there was enough for everyone although the servers automatically assumed any foreigner did not want to eat the spicy Nigerian food (but delicious) on offer which was hidden at the end. One negative point was the rather disgusting porta loos which soon ran out of water and toilet paper.

Performance/Skits

There was a variety of acts from different hash groups and countries mainly involving cultural dancing from a particular country or singing hash songs. The Ugandans bought their traditional clothes to perform a cultural dance, Benin Hash House Harriers did a very good rendition of the hash song 'Everywhere we Go' and the only Ethiopian national hasher performed a solo dance to traditional Ethiopian music.

On – On Afters

These were arranged after the venue closed with the closing time getting later each night as the authorities released that the hashers were not as badly behaved as they were expecting. A different venue was chosen every night although visiting hashers were very dependent on the local hashers to provide more details or even escort them since addresses were not published.

Sexperience

No comment as what happens on the hash stays on the hash but hashers were well and safely prepared with Nigerian sized condoms including female ones being part of the goody bag.

Overall

In my opinion, an amazing event Lagos Hash House Harriers! Thanks to Fucking Deep Hole, Chairman of the Local Organising Committee, GM Slippery Comer, Star Lady for the careful admin and communication and Eyeiful Tower and Galana P for their wonderful hosting and taking good care of all the foreign hashers.

Pan Africa 2019

Sierra Leone won their bid to host Pan Africa 2019. They will have a hard act to follow but it's good to see them back in the picture after the planned 2015 Pan Africa Hash had to be cancelled due to the Ebola crisis.

Grenada 1000th

by Saber Tooth

The Grenada Hash House Harriers are excited to announce their 1000th hash on the 30th September 2017 and want to invite you to join them for a one week celebration from the 25th September 2017 until 1st October 2017. The week of celebration is filled with non stop entertainment and activities for you including a wide variety of ceremonies, hashes, hikes, rum-shop crawls, island tours and limes, to suit all age groups and fitness levels.

Their 1000th hash week starts with an opening ceremony at Coconut Beach on Monday 25th September with food, beer and music. The Hash Master "Grab de Pussy" Brian Steele, might get to say a few words of welcome to the hashers in between "Cereal Killer" and "Cradle Snatcher's" opening ceremony shenanigans.

On the Tuesday morning there will be two choices of hikes (a challenging one and an easy one), both hikes will finish at Grand Etang for lunch. In the evening there will be Karaoke, beer drinking and other nonsense at Sea Port in Grand Anse.

Wednesday the 27th is the infamous and very much in demand Rum Runner hash, which entails boarding the Rum Runner boat in the afternoon, sailing to a secret destination along the coast of Grenada. Once there you will disembark, enjoy a hash that includes beach & bush trails and then you head back to the Rum Runner for an unforgettable after-hash party including food, music and drinks.

On Thursday there is a round-the-island tour, which includes a lunch stop at the north of the island in Sauteurs and a few rum shop stops near the end. On the evening of Friday the 29th there will be a Rum shop Crawl/Hash which will include a few games, competitions and other hash nonsense.

The main event their 1000th Hash will be held on Saturday 30th up in Chantimelle and promises to be a spectacular day. There will be more than 6 different hash trails to cater for every age and fitness level and all the trails are true countryside bush trails with no shortage of scenic views. There will be a steel pan band, DJ, food, drinks and many other surprises.

Sunday the 1st October rounds up the week of festivities with a Closing Ceremony, which will be held at Magazine Beach. There will be food, drinks, games, awards and the grand prize draw.

Bus transportation is available for most of the main events. For further information go to the Grenada Hash House Harriers 1000th hash web page: <http://www.grenadahash.com/events/>

- A REFRESHING HASHING EXPERIENCE

Hanyang Hash House Harriers & Harriettes (H5) of Korea is proud to offer itself as host of Pan Asia Hash 2017. The fact that there has never been any large scale hashing event in Korea means that, for most of the prospective participants, this Pan Asia will be a very refreshing hashing experience indeed.

We specifically chose Sokcho City as the event venue: on the fringe of this city is the world-renowned Seorak Mountain National Park which, for many Korean soap opera aficionados, has often been the surreal backdrop. The proposed dates are similarly selected, for late October ushers in the most spectacular autumnal colours, best highlighted by the rainbow hues of the maples.

Participants will get to savour the K-food phenomenon that has been taking the gastronomic world literally by storm. Be enamored by the extensive spread of Korean delights - the quintessential Ginseng Chicken Soup; the omnipresent mouth-watering beef, lamb, and pork barbecues; the huge varieties of fresh – and often live - seafood eaten either raw/sashimi-style, or prepared in dozens of off-secret recipes unbeknownst to other parts of the world. All these, and more, washed down with world famous brands of beers, or with the uniquely Korean soju and makgoeli.

The time is ripe for a refreshing change of scenery, of style, of food and beverage, and of a completely new hashing experience. We are a new troupe of organizers, backed by the provincial government, and supported by experience from the Motherland of hashing.

Give your affirmation for a refreshing change!

KOREA - THE VENUE OF CHOICE

- ACCESSIBLE – round trip as low as USD200-250 from most SE Asian cities
- AFFORDABLE – conveniently located rooms could be had for as little as USD35-40
- ASTHETIC – be enchanted by autumn at its full fall colours
- VIRGINAL – hash in assuredly hitherto never-before-hashed territory
- GOVERNMENT-BACKED – the provincial government is enthusiastically supportive
- GASTRONOMIC – pamper your sensory glands with inimitable K-flavours
- INTOXICATING – infuse yourself with the full range of uniquely Korean beverages
- COMFORTABLE – experience hashing in low-humidity at temperatures in the mid-teens
- ENTERTAINING – revel in live K-pop performances and cultural shows
- PERFECTION – enjoy the Koreans' relentless strive for perfection!

Thumper

1000th Run at La Union Hash Philippines

CONTENTS

By Edgar 'Laces' O'Neill

La Union hash celebrated a millennium event in May (2017) when Thumper, one of its renowned hashers, completed his 1000th run. Numerous visitors showed up for the event which was hared by Thumper himself and his long time hash partner, Peter Pumper. Invariably these pommies pair up to set runs. It was an amazing feat for Thumper to be even on his feet that day, much less set a run. Not because he's over 77, but Just two weeks earlier he was laying prostrate in hospital having one kidney removed ! It hasn't interrupted his hash schedule, though his imbibing has been curtailed a little.

I've always referred to Thumper as 'Fagin', the character out of Oliver Twist, because of his long snouted visage, a familiar sight to many on the Philippine hash scene. And with a fag stuck in his mouth, though alas no longer – doctor's orders since the onslaught of his present kidney problems.

Thumper has been in La Union Philippines for over twenty years. Hailing from Yorkshire, he had been a scaffolder for most of his working life in UK. Widowed at retirement he lead a reclusive existence for some years. But all changed when he came over to Philippines with a few friends in 1995. He liked the place and returned the following year and has been here since. He hasn't been back home once. Until a few years ago himself and his mate Peter Pumper went on an annual pilgrimage to Pattaya. To renew their visas and a bit of R & R thrown in— as if that were needed living here ! Of late he has become somewhat of a recluse again. Apart from venturing out to the hash, he remains mostly at home with 'she indoors', Di-osa, his missus here now for 13 years. And there's no truth in what he says about marrying her just to get an extra 20 pounds a week in his UK pension!

He got his hash handle 'Thumper' because he did literally thump a guy, one Americano, whose cockiness finally caused him to blow a fuse. But Thumper is one of the tamest guys on the hash scene, great for jokes, not excluding some mildly smutty - and some exceedingly smutty!

Frontera's Sizzling Fajitas

It was 1973 in Houston, Texas on Navigation street where a young tejanita named Ninfa first popularized the famous Tex-Mex dish now known as "fajitas".

We pay homage to Mama Ninfa everyday by making our fajitas the traditional way. Marinated overnight in Frontera's proprietary blend of authentic Tex-Mex spices and served sizzling hot with a stack of fresh house-made tortillas.

Real Tex-Mex only at Frontera.

Jim Edens in Fiji Bimbo was a special guest of Tourism Fiji and Nadi Hash who immediately fell in love with Fiji. He had a firsthand knowledge of what Fiji is all about, the people, hash community ..... He has a lot to say about Fiji and our preparations for Interhash 2018. Bimbo vows to return again later this year.

Prelubes and Postlubes

Original Green Tour (OGT) will manage several pre and post lubes. There are some exciting ones plus a Captain Cook Cruises for those who love to discover the hidden paradise of Fiji. Support from Ministry of Tourism and Tourism Fiji is overwhelming who are closely working with our committee to ensure the best ever Interhash.

Paradise Beverages formerly ka Carlton Brewery is the official hash beer company and Bimbo was accorded special welcome by their GM. Fiji Airways is on board as the official airline for Interhash 2018. They are very much in support, excited and happy to lend all their support who were also there in Bali last year. They'll be able to slot in extra flights to make sure all the hashers are in Fiji in good numbers from any part of the world.

Bidders for 2020

So far no one has officially informed us of their interest to bid for 2020 but we heard from the grapevine that Dubai and Trinidad/Tobago were keen. We'll be happy to include bidders on our home page so come on bidders!

The Hash Darwin Awards

Old Chaz, the chap on the right, in one of his sober moments, put forward the notion of "survival of the fittest", a concept that implies that the removal from the gene pool (usually by death) of its weaker members, thereby strengthens the survival chances of the remainder. However, here at OTI, we do not encourage the extermination of the less able, the feeble, or the intellectually challenged. Rather, we encourage them to become hashers! Further, this column aims to be a forum where the moronic misdeeds of hashers might be chronicled in pursuit of that noblest of pastimes, namely, having cheap laughs at other people's expense. With that in mind, I offer the following:

DARK TIMES BUT HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Charles Darwin

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands by it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman."

The great Thomas Paine wrote the words above at the time of American Revolution. I quote them here not in reference to any particular political crisis being visited on any one nation state but in reference to an issue a far greater concern to all those inhabitants of that great transnational community of drinkers, namely this: global alcohol sales are falling.

The global market for all alcoholic drinks contracted 1.3% in 2016, driven, horrifically, by a 1.8% fall in beer sales, the International Wine and Spirits Record (IWSR) reported. This happened despite global GDP increasing 3.5% in 2016, according to the IMF, who noted such economic growth usually correlates with increased alcohol consumption. And beer is leading the slide. Cider sales were also down 1.5% but, let's be honest, unless you are an old man in Somerset or a young thruster trying to get some girl's legs open by plying her with sweet fizzy garbage, no-one cares. Wine sales were essentially flat, falling by 0.1% and overall spirits sales nudged up by 0.2%

These then are the dark clouds. Only one small but glorious beam of light shines through: gin sales are up 3.7%. As a hardened gin drinker (though I note the hardening seems confined to my liver, the rest of me is softening at an alarming rate) this is great news but I feel as a hasher that we, the global hashing community, must do our best to resist this awful ebbing of the tide of global grog consumption.

One way is by advertising the many benefits that accrue from getting a few drinks down you. For s start, as any hasher will tell you, beer is a potent pain reliever. Indeed this observation has now been confirmed by science. Over the course of 18 studies, researchers from the University of Greenwich found that consuming two pints of beer can cut discomfort due to a variety of causes, including hangovers I note, by a quarter.

Their findings suggest that by elevating your blood alcohol content to approximately 0.08 percent, you give your body "a small elevation of pain threshold" and thus a "moderate to large reduction in pain intensity ratings". This is of particular importance to me since I strive at all times not to let my blood alcohol level fall below 0.08 percent. Some readers may be aware of course, that the legal blood alcohol limit for driving a vehicle in my native Australia is 0.05%. This had lead to two outcomes in my case: one, I live in Laos; two, I never drive.

More generally, however, researchers explained, "the findings suggest that alcohol is an effective analgesic that delivers clinically-relevant reductions in ratings of pain intensity” and that “alcohol can be compared to opioid drugs such as codeine and the effect is more powerful than paracetamol’.

I might add, from personal experience, that the pain-relieving qualities of booze extend beyond the physical. It can also be a great shield against the psychic pain of existence. When John-Paul Sartre famously said, “Hell is other people” he was known to have been stone-cold sober. Half a dozen glasses of Pastis later, he apparently said, “Yeah, some of you bastards are not that bad”.

The psychic benefits of getting on the piss are particularly important for men. A new study conducted by the University of Oxford has discovered that for men, going out drinking isn’t just fun, it’s essential. According to the study, men must go out at least twice a week to stay healthy.

The study, conducted by Robin Dunbar, a psychologist and director of Oxford University’s social and evolutionary neuroscience research group, determined that men must physically meet with at least four friends, at least two times a week, in order to reap the full benefits of male friendship.

The apparent benefits of strong male friendships include a stronger immune system, the release of endorphins, an overall decrease in anxiety levels, and (apparently) even higher levels of generosity. (I might dispute the latter in the case of some hash men I know but the broader point is well taken.)

Dunbar goes so far as to recommend guys “do stuff” while they socialize, and that going bar crawling for a night reinforces a sense of teamwork and camaraderie. No shit, Sherlock.

“Bonds can be formed through a range of activities from team sports to male banter — or simply having a few pints with your pals on a Friday night,” Dunbar said.

What greater rationale for hashing could there be? As a man, running two hashes a week, which most towns easily run to, will produce physical and psychological benefits that cannot and should not be ignored. If a chap happens to live in a distant hardship posting that boasts only one hash a week then he will be obliged to get his mates out for a few jars on another night of the week. Not that he simply wants to, you understand. He must.

Now where does this leave the dedicated harriette? Well, running and drinking on the hash will help as much with her pain relief as it does for any male hasher and, as for the benefits to men of going out drinking and ‘doing things” with their mates, I await the study that shows the psychological benefits to men of going out twice a week with a bunch of sporty girls to like to run and drink. I know it makes me feel better.

So there you have it. Get out on the hash and get on the piss (if not on the ice). Your health and that of the world economy depends upon it.

SWEDISH FARMERS HIT BY GOVERNMENT LEEK BAN

Sweden's impoverished farmers will lose millions of crowns after Prime Minister Stefan 'Pug Face' Löfven announced a shock clampdown on Government leeks. He revealed how, under the façade and cover of the Liège, Belgium Beer Marathon several leeks that were recently used by the Stockholm Hash House Harriers where also used to leak leeks to the EU and to the media.

The popularity of the tasty green veggie had exploded in 2006 when publisher Julia Arsanje created her bombshell WikiLeeks site, which sent secret recipes flying unchecked around the internet. She is currently holed up in the Ecuador embassy in Brighton, where she is claiming lunatic asylum because Ecuador is the world's largest consumer of leeks.

An unnamed government spokesperson revealed these leeks were becoming particularly hard to stomach during the run-up to the Swedish General Election in 2018 and the Swedish Leek Growers demand for a future Swexit and forming an alliance with Wales.
"This has to stop now. Leeks of this kind are damaging to hard-working families facing difficult times, and we should all stick to the facts. I am personally setting up a panel to track down the source of the leeks."
"Besides as everyone knows, leeks and running are harmful to your wealth".
Adding "On returning to Sweden these Harriers as they call themselves will be extensively and thoroughly interrogated by SÄPÖ the Swedish Secret Police.

The Swedish National Farmers' Unions estimates the leek clampdown will cost Swedish members 45 million crowns a year. Stig Likström-Hårdkuk, who farms near Lökköping, said: "This is chuffing outrageous. It's a free country and people should be allowed leeks if they so wish."
He went on to admit he will not lose that much cash, since he only cultivates one field on his huge 1,500-acre farm. "The rest is classed as set aside land, and the EU subsidies are making me a fortune," he admitted.
Swedish Social Democrat MP Therese Svart-Kafe jumped to Mr Löven's defence. "You have to trust him. Leeks are cropping up everywhere causing problems – too many leeks fill people with hot air." "We have to trust the Prime Minister on this – he knows his onions."

MISSING ELDERLY LADIES SPOTTED IN BINGO HALL

West Sussex Police believe they are close to finding two elderly ladies who went missing from their nursing home - after the pair were photographed in a Worthing bingo hall.

Veronica Wood and Pauline Weller disappeared from the town's Sunset rest home (as revealed here in the Hash Trash) and have not been seen for days.

But now police have been handed a photograph of the pair enjoying a game of bingo on the seafront.

"At least we know they are safe and well. But we urge them to get in touch and go back to the home where staff are waiting to welcome them home," a police spokesman said. The photograph - taken by Worthing Gazette reader Bruce Foxton - is the only new image the police have of the ladies, who are aged 93 and 87. Officers have previously been circulating the photograph below in their bid to track the couple down.

FOUR AND TWENTY VIRGINS FROM INVERNESS ARRESTED

Four and twenty virgins who came down from Inverness have been arrested for fighting and outraging public decency.

The rowdy women told cops they were desperate to get a man before Saturday night, or they'd never have one at all. But as they roamed Brighton town centre bars trying to attract the attentions of Rugby Players, Brighton Hasers and other handsome men, it all kicked off with jealous local girls. A Brighton police insider said: "Unfortunately as the four and twenty virgins from Inverness became increasingly desperate they began flaunting themselves outrageously in the bars.

"This upset the local women and a mass brawl broke out. One virgin was even thrown through the doors of a pub like something from the Wild West. She was unhurt but we then had no choice and arrested the lot of them."

However, none of the Scottish visitors were charged and were sent back home to Inverness on the next available train, apparently without having achieved their unsavoury goal.

Well known Brighton hasher 'Bouncer' remarked: "These Inverness virgins were most insistent and were singing a very rude song as they roamed around town looking for a man. Had they found one, he may never have fully recovered."

In a surprise move, the Pope has announced plans to beatify Roger Moore, the popular actor who has very sadly passed away recently.

The Pope was a keen fan of the 1960s TV show and had a special appreciation of the halo that would appear above Roger's head in the opening minutes of each episode. "Moore's character in the series was above reproach, with good deeds aplenty and he always triumphed over evil and adversity", said his holiness, adding, "... he was also such a good looking bastard."

It has been a requirement since 1983 for one recognised miracle to have taken place in order for sainthood to be conferred.

"Frankly, it's a fucking miracle that such a wooden actor made so much money using only the power of one eyebrow", said the Pope.

CONCERNE AS UNITED KINGDOM FALL TO EASTERN EUROPE

There was consternation last night when it was revealed that the United Kingdom has dropped to 12 in the global drinking league tables.

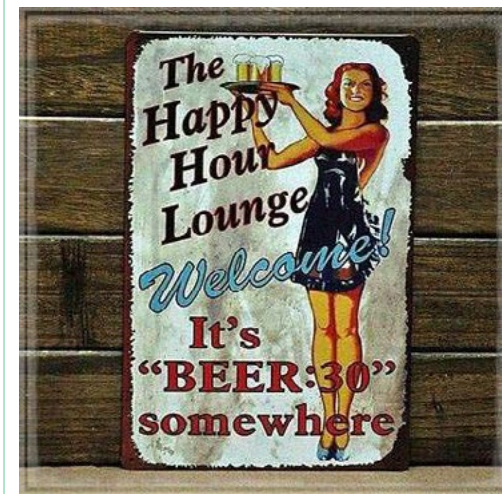

The country has always previously been able to rely on being a top 5 country looking to get to the semi finals at the very least of any drinking competition.

Speaking to the Herald Dr Frederick Seddon of Brighton Community University said, "It's hard to see what factors are causing this. Pubs closing and the smoking ban have all had an effect but beyond that it's difficult to tell."

Drinking expert John Biggins said, "One of the problems is young people just aren't getting into it early enough. Rarely do you see dad's driving to the pub and then leaving the kids in the car with a bag of crisps while they get on it for a few hours. Kids don't get into the habit of drinking that way. I also blame Premier League football.

In the old days you'd have Gazza in the dentists chair setting the example for youngsters. Now footballers are in the gym and selling fitness regimes. What sort of example is that?" Meanwhile Darren Oakham 62 said, "Drink driving rules are another problem. In the old days you used to be able to drink 4 or 5 pints then drive home.

Now with this PC rubbish you have a couple of pints and you lose your licence. It's not worth it anymore.

The other problem is political. All the countries that are ahead of us now used to be the Soviet Union. Now they're all separate it tilts the playing field. Liberal conspiracy if you ask me to do the UK down."

Noted drinker Nigel Farage said, "Immigration hasn't helped. Alright the Poles drink but most do minimum wage jobs and then send money home. Money that hard working Brits could be spending getting the drinking rate up.

Plus you have a lot of Muslims who don't drink and just turn pubs into mosques. It's all gonna have an effect."

Brighton Hasher In Spain Shocked To Learn That Spanish For 'Beer' Isn't 'Beer' Screamed Very Loudly

A 25-year-old Brighton Hasher holidaying in Spain has expressed his shock after he discovered that the Spanish word for 'beer' isn't just the word 'beer' screamed very loudly while pulling your right hand downwards in some sort of pumping motion. He made the discovery in the Costa Del Troto resort of Cunnilingus last month after a local barman just shrugged his shoulders at his second attempt to ask for a glass of Estrella.

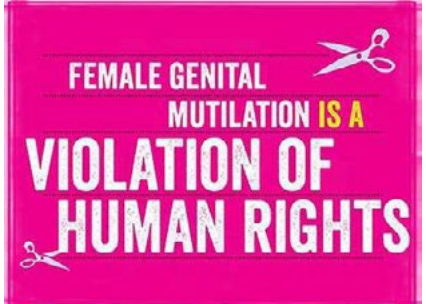

He said: 'I really don't know what else I could have done to get my point across. I thought that making a pumping motion to simulate the movement of someone dispensing a lager through a draught system would have made myself perfectly clear, but this particular bar only had bottles in fridges. In the end one of the locals had to intervene on my behalf, but that wasn't the end of my difficulties on the night. When I wanted to pay, I repeatedly ran my index finger across the palm of my other hand in a writing motion while shouting 'the bill please' at the top of my voice, but they just dispense it from a till system. If they want to carry on making money from us British people the very least that I would expect them to do is learn how to speak English. This guy must be incredibly shit at charades on Christmas Day. His poor family. However I found that people in Spain are clearly able to understand body language. As I approached a couple of hot-looking local girls, before I could even open my mouth one of them said 'no thanks, I'm not into sweaty lobsters.'

Theresa May has today unveiled plans to improve the diet of malnourished children in areas with high levels poverty. "This is a great policy that kills two pheasants with one load of buckshot" said the Prime Minister. "With the imminent reintroduction of Fox hunting, there will be plenty of fresh, slightly mangled meat to be donated to food banks; no more shall the withered offspring of the proles be forced to eat Corned beef well beyond it's sell by date; that is my vision for a Strong and Stable Britain." When asked how much meat donations can be expected the PM said. "Well, whatever is left after the hounds have had their fill, there is a pecking order in our society after all."

Human Race To Sue God for Placing A Playground Next To A Sewer And Sciatic Nerve Design Flaw

Lawyers for the human race have today started legal proceedings against God, the alleged creator of man over a series of design flaws in the human body. America's biggest law firm, Latham & Watkins, are expected to sue God the almighty through the Vatican for a staggering 23 trillion euros, one of the biggest compensation claims ever undertaken. "Like an architect responsible for a building design, God needs to answer up for all of his mistakes when he created humans," stated William Vogue, Chairman and Managing Partner at the firm, "His malpractice has left billions of people suffering". Not only will Latham & Watkins sue God for his poor location of the sciatic nerve, but also a list of other problems, including:
 The Close Proximity of our Genitals to our Rectum
 The Extremely Narrow Human Birth Canal
 Achy Knees and the "Blind Spot" in Our Eyes.
 Our fondness for sweet, salty, and fatty foods.
 A Single Set of Adult Teeth and Donald Trump
 "We aim to tackle the sciatic issue first, before tackling the other issue's separately," Vogue added, "God could be looking at 150 trillion dollar settlement when we're done with him". It is understood that Pope Francis and a team of Vatican lawyers are to attend a preliminary hearing in August 2017, in a bid to reach some kind of out-of-court agreement, but due to the high compensation being sought, the trial is assumed to go ahead. To begin, Latham & Watkins are to first sue God for locating the sciatic nerve directly beside spinal discs, causing excruciating pain for victims when a disc bulges or herniates. "You know what, fuck this guy, we're going to sue him for those crappy weak discs too," Vogue concluded. And who but a bloody holy idiot would place a playground next to a sewer? In a parallel case a motion of gross negligence has been started at the High Courts for you not informing your countless millions of followers that this is so very very wrong.

God was unavailable for comment.

Victoria Beckham's aspirations to become really "posh" were finally realised when it was announced that she will be awarded an OBE in the New Year's Honours List. Mrs Beckham will be recognised for her contributions to austerity Britain, in particular her ability to make her small talent go such a long way.

Victoria, it is reported, had been chagrined to just miss out on this year's Nobel Prize for Literature. Pipped at the post by grizzled old folkie, Bob Dylan, she had been tipped to bag the prize for her insightful bestsellers about eating disorders and the wearing of high heels.

Further disappointment came when her son, Cruz, failed to obtain this year's Christmas Number One despite screeching at a microphone just like his mum.

International genius and future President of the US, Kanye West, interviewed through a slot in the door of his upholstered study, suggested she donates the award to Beyoncé.

City built on rock and roll 'dangerously unstable' A city that was built on rock and roll in the eighties has been declared 'dangerously unstable' by safety experts.

"Cities need solid foundations," said Professor Eleanor Gay, a world-renowned expert in both building cities and rock and roll. "Rock and roll, for all its many qualities, simply can't function – from an engineering perspective – as that foundation."

Simon Williams is a founding resident of the city.

"I remember when we built this city on rock and roll," he said wistfully. "We could have either built it here, on the rock and roll, or just on the other side of the hill on a load of sedimentary stone."

Initially, we were quite keen on the area of sedimentary stone, but then Marconi played the Mamba and we listened to the radio and... well, I think anyone can understand why we built this city on rock and roll."

Professor Gay went on to describe what could happen.

"Well, someone could steal the stage which, if you just want to dance there, isn't great, but the worst-case scenario for a city built on rock and roll is that you end up knee deep in the hoopla, which sounds awful."

Mr Williams, however, remained positive.

"I suppose, if we really need to, we could build a new city. In fact, there's a couple of great sites about ten miles away, one's a foundation of metamorphic rock, and the other's got a foundation of 90s R&B.

"I'm sure we'll make the right choice."

Glastonbury organisers have called off the festival on the first day due to a worrying forecast of pleasant weather, describing the current sunshine as 'not in keeping with the classic Glastonbury experience'.

Disappointed revellers are currently filing out of the site and getting back into their cars, noting with sadness that this is the first time they have left the venue not caked in mud and having left their tent and possessions somewhere in a field loosely resembling a first world war winter battlefield.

Glastonbury site manager Simon Williams told the press, "The cancellation shouldn't surprise anyone. Look at the clear blue skies and searing sunshine – hardly Glastonbury weather, is it?"

"We want people to enjoy themselves, and we all know that can't be done without standing knee-deep in an unpleasant and concerning mix of mud and piss and those endearing pictures of young music lovers up to their ankles in brown muck from the overflowing Portaloos."

"Can you imagine what it would be like to walk around the site on dry ground, and to try and enjoy listening to the bands in relative comfort with dry feet? That would be terribly underwhelming."

He went on, "There is a possibility of some showers on Sunday, true, but without being able to guarantee the usual deluge and subsequent flooding of the camping area then I fear the punters will be disappointed."

Festival-goer Eleanor Gay shrugged, saying, "That makes sense, I suppose. The music might be amazing, but if I can't circulate a video of me wearing a poncho and the tiniest of thongs and diving head-first into three-foot-deep mud, piss and spew to the sound of drunken cheers, then my friends won't believe I've had a good time. "And that's what really matters, isn't it?"

The Eagles, who won a Grammy for their album Hotel California, are currently in the middle of a legal battle with a Mexican Hotel which shares the name of the band's 1976 album and hit single.

This new lawsuit seeks reparations from the band for the use of the name 'Eagles' and subsequent album and merchandise art featuring breeds of the bird of prey, such as the North American Golden and Bald Eagles.

Members of the band declined to comment, but a representative of the birds of prey gave the following statement to the Herald.

Man Took At Least An Hour To Overtake Cyclists

A motorist has complained it took him 'at least an hour' to overtake this group of cyclists today.

Jeremy Smith, 54, said he was driving along Sundbybergsvägen when he came up behind the group of four ladies, apparent members of the local Stockholm Bash Hash also known as 'The Drinking Club with a Cycling Problem' who were enjoying a Sunday ride.

They were two abreast and it would have been difficult to overtake. In the event I stayed behind them for at least an hour until I was absolutely, 100 per cent sure that it was safe to do so, Mr Smith said.

He claimed the group was going around eight miles an hour, and even with no other traffic around so early on a Sunday, he thought it prudent to stay behind them.

Thankfully I am quite patient, Mr Smith, an insurance broker, said., I was happy to sit back and enjoy the countryside views. However, my wife did wonder why it had taken me so long to get the paper and milk and plans to get to the bottom of it.
