THANK YOU !!

Thank you ! Thank you ! Thank you !

The TT Interhash committee would like to thank all the participants of the Interhash Fiji 2018 whose vote helped Trinidad and Tobago win the bid for 2020! We were overwhelmed by the warmth meted out to us by you, the organizers, the hashers, the other bidders, and the Advisory Committee alike, during our stay. As first time bidders, we appreciated your courtesy, sound advise, and the faith you have placed in us to host such a world-class event.

We are proud to be able to welcome you to our shores and offer you the best of "Sweet T&T" . On arrival home there was already a buzz about our win, with our fellow hashers making plans to create the biggest, most colourful and exciting hash in history.

What is a "Carnival of Hashes" without a Carnival element? We are very happy to report that we have partnered with one of the best Carnival bands on the island –"Hart's Carnival band" to bring more than one or two surprises your way .

Although we are keeping within the usual format, we are adding an adaptation of a Carnival Classic- a FREE bonus run on the Friday morning- pre-dawn "Jouvert " run. Join us for a 4am start and finish up, covered in paint, at an 'All inclusive breakfast party'.

As we look towards 2020, we are stepping up our game with our partnership with WIPAY, to offer participants a seamless registration and voting system, as well as the option to use their Rego bands for cashless transactions at participating bars, restaurants, grab- taxi services and much more. For those who will be choosing to explore the rest of the Caribbean, these bands can also be used while in the region.

With all the positive feedback we have received on line, the excitement is growing and we continue to be encouraged daily.

Stay tuned and join us in Trinidad on April 24-26 2020!

On on!

Editor's Notes

Thanks to Fiji for hosting a great Interhash 2018 where 1700 hashers from around the world explored the sights and tastes of this island nation. Plenty of Fiji Gold and Fiji Bitter flowed from start to finish of Interhash week while the aromas of curry and exotic spices filled the air. Some lucky hashers pre-lubed on a Fiji Hash Cruise to ensure they were properly acclimatized for the main event. A hotly contested vote for Interhash 2020 went to the Caribbean nation of Trinidad & Tobago for what will be the first Interhash in this part of the world. Stay tuned for regular updates on Sweet T&T, which will take place 24-26 April 2020.

Correspondent Quick Drawers journeyed to historic Belfast town in search of a hash rumoured to exist in Northern Ireland. Ancient castles, friendly pubs, and forested parklands create the perfect setting for hashing in the town where the ill-fated Titanic was built. Did QD find his pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, or was he foiled by leprechauns who left him kissing the Blarney Stone? QD puddle jumped from Europe to Thailand to run with the Bangkok Harriettes, before globe trotting to Fiji for Interhash. This guy definitely gets around as he shares his hashing tales in each edition of Harrier Magazine.

The infamous Angeles City Hash House Harriers will celebrate forty years of hashing this August. From the bars of Balibago to the hills of San Martin hashers are sure to find plenty of San Miguel Beer and fun times galore in the fabulous Philippines. If you can't make it in August, you could always visit in late February and early March for Philippine Nash Hash in Manila, Wild Wolf's Hash Bash in Palawan, and Bimbo's Birthday Bash in Angeles and Subic Bay.

Kuala Lumpur is where the Hash House Harriers began in 1938, and the home of Mother Hash, from which all HHH clubs sprang. Bush Diver ventured from his regular hash haunts in Angeles and Subic Bay to Kuala Lumpur in search of hash history and to meet up with several Malaysian hashers. 1500 hashers from around the world will meet up for the 80th Anniversary of Mother Hash, 16-18 September 2018. KL has a large number of HHH Chapters, many of which have runs scheduled for the week preceding the 80th Anniversary Celebration. There are also pre and post lubes in a number of counties before and after this event. One such post lube is Mekong Hash 2018 in Nha Trang, Vietnam, 21-23 September. See the latest updates on the 20th Mekong Hash direct from Dingo Dave and his pack of howling harriers.

Another birthday celebration, the Original Red Dress Run celebrates 30 years this September in San Diego, California. It is no surprise that San Diego is a major international Hash Hub, with its pleasant year round climate and 160 micro-breweries to suit the tastes of twenty HHH chapters in Sane Diego!

Old Farts Run... Follow the Leader

by Quick Drawers

The hash trail used for the Old Farts Run was basically a follow the leader hash. It provided hashers with the opportunity for short, medium or longer distances. Trail involved some streets of course, along with sugar cane fields, assorted farmland, creeks and local village areas.

An estimated 125+ hashers selected this trail for it's expected semi-flat run area. The bright sunshine, with an 80+ morning temperature and possibly even as a result of too much fun, during the previous opening nights festivities, could also have been big considerations!

Pack skirting around farmland areas

The pack was briefed by the Hare underneath a large tree in front of the venue before starting out. Once On ON, several motorcycle police ensured safe crossings for the pack, over several initial busy roads until the farmland and bush area was reached. There were no traditional checks on this trail; however, the sparse markings with small strips of blue, yellow and red tape, were not numerous and easily seen. This kept the pack pretty much together, in a follow the leader fashion.

After leading the pack out from the start initially, the hare then frequently provided guidance, whenever the pack failed to locate the next continuing marks. Most of the pack was cautious with their footing along the bush covered trail, which also closely paralleled 20-foot creek banks, a good way, before leading the pack directly thru several unavoidable water crossings.

The latter part of trial put the pack on small less traveled residential streets this time and eventually ON IN, back at the Prince Charles Park venue. They were rewarded with plentiful ice-cold beer, cold water and a light lunch.

Once fully satisfied, with the dirt washed off legs and soaked footwear, miscellaneous scratches treated, etc. the traditional circle was conducted. The RA of course rewarded the hares for providing the “Old Farts participants” somewhat more of a trail than they were possibly expecting. This was followed by various infractions being recognized, some deserved and even more being the inventions of the RA and packs lively sense of humor. All in all, another successful hash trail concluded.

One unique event which I would like to mention, occurred during Sunday evenings main program when the President of Fiji, Jioji Konousi Konrote also known as George Konrote, arrived by motorcade, to address the crowd with his warm personal welcome. His presence and encouraging words were very well received by the entire Interhash 2018 audience.

Thanks to the Fiji Interhash management team and all their supporters for a fine and well managed Interhash event.

The Real Taste of Fiji

Enjoy Responsibly

What happens when you get 85 hashers together and charter an entire cruise ship for a week? Well, contrary to the rumors, you do NOT run out of beer! You simply keep drinking as the ever-so-accommodating cruise line sends for a resupply run, not once, but twice! Yes, the Fiji Gold and Fiji Bitter were flowing freely, as was the wine, rum, and gin and tonics (although they did drink up all the tonic). It was a hasher's dream come true – blue skies, crystalline waters, soft sandy beaches, a lovely cruise ship, the most friendly and attentive crew imaginable, and some truly unique hash runs.

The fun began as the hashers began gathering at the Port Denarau Marina. Drinks were flowing and warm greetings were exchanged as each new group arrived. At noon the group was allowed to board the ship, meet their new friends (the captain and crew), enjoy a lovely lunch, and resume the drinking. The ship cruised out of the harbor and on toward Tivua Island for a swim, snorkel, and a short hash run around the island, courtesy of Cockiss, who had thought to bring some orange surveyors flags to mark trail. The thoughtful crew provided a few coolers of beer as the group circled up in the warm ocean and watched some small black tip reef sharks patrol the beach. Then it was back to the ship for the first of many delightful dinners and an evening of socializing and getting acquainted with new friends.

The next day brought more sunshine, snorkeling, and beaches at Brothers Island. After a delicious buffet lunch, it was on to Naviti Island. The crew ferried the group ashore to the small village of Gunu for a traditional Fijian kava ceremony and lovo, or feast of meats and veggies cooked on hot stones buried underground. However, the first order of business was shopping, as hashers browsed and bought from the selection of handicrafts that the local women and children had on display. Then it was time for the group's Chief, Mu-Sick, and his bodyguard, Green Machine, to meet and greet the local chief and his retinue. There was much chanting, clapping, exchanging of greetings, and presentation and drinking of kava. Ceremonies completed, the guests were invited to partake in the delicious feast.

Day three was packed with activities. First up, a swim, snorkel, or paddle around the beach where Blue Lagoon was filmed. The men searched in vain for a nude Brooke Shields, but no luck. Meanwhile, the tide had gone out, and it took about 20 hashers to push the large tender boat off the beach! After lunch, it was time for a visit to a local school on Yasawa Island, where the children sang some beautiful songs in four-part harmony and then showed the group around their school. Next, it was time for a hash run! The pack circled on the beach for chalk talk by the hares, Crotch Thumper and The Hasher Formerly Known as Dr Taco. The hares took off, surveyors flags in hand, and led the trail through the village, across the rugby pitch, and then headed for the top of Mt Tamusua. The eagles made it all the way to the top, while the turkeys still had a nice climb for some photos before making their way back down for circle.

It was a hurry-up circle, though, as the group had to head back to the ship to grab swimsuits for a trip to the famous cave swimming hole at Sawa-i-lau. What a fabulous experience, to be able to climb up, then down through the opening, to arrive at an incredible underground grotto filled with water. There was even a swim-through to a second chamber, for those who were brave enough to duck blindly under the water and swim in.

Swimming cave at Sawa-i-lau

Evening brought another fabulous dinner, followed by hermit crab races, and more kava drinking with the ship's crew.

The following day brought a stop at Barbeque Beach, so named because there is absolutely no shade. However, the snorkeling was fabulous, with so many colorful fish, rays, and even a large barracuda. The ship then moved to another beach (with a little more shade) for the next hash run. The hares, RamPam and Betty Crotch Popper, led the group on a truly remarkable hash. The trail first wound through the dense bush along the beach, where the pack soon discovered a beer stop in the shade of the palm trees. After quaffing some beverages, the pack followed the trail out of the bush and onto the beach, where it continued On In to the water! The hares had told everyone to bring masks and snorkels, so everyone donned them and waded into the warm ocean to find a trail of little orange survey flags along the seabed.

It was quite comical to those watching from the beach, as every few moments a head would pop out of the water, yell "On On," and then dive back in. The trail ended in what was becoming a new routine – circle up while standing waist deep in the ocean, as the crew continued to bring beer from the coolers on shore. What a delightful way to do circle!

The next day the ship anchored off Monuriki island, where the Tom Hanks movie "Castaway" was filmed.

The captain had received permission from the local authorities for the group to have a hash run on the island, and who could resist that??? Cockiss was the hare for the steep climb to the top, involving the use of trees and rocks, as well as all four limbs. Some of the rocks were not very stable, and a rolling one nearly took out five hashers! Some made it to the top, and some chose to pursue the safer lowland turkey trail. All made it back alive, but nobody managed to find poor Wilson. There was too little time to do circle on the beach, so it was relocated to the pool on the ship, with Sunshine as the RA. A truly epic circle it was, as hashers were called into the pool for their down-downs. Some hashers chose to attend the local village church service, so they missed circle, but all were treated to another wonderful dinner on board.

Monuriki Island, site of "Castaway"

Going ashore in the tender

Day six took the ship to Waya island for another visit to a local school. The children performed several delightful songs and dances, and even got some of the hashers to join in. One of the dances had finished with one of the boys turning his back to the crowd, raising his sulu, and showing off his bright red underwear. So Turtle Dick decided to return the favor during his dance, and turned around, raised his sarong and showed us his...oops, guess he forgot the underwear! The children (and hashers) were very amused!! After a tour of the village and school, the hashers gathered for the last hash run of the cruise. The hares were Gatecrasher, Handle, Geestring, and Corpus-L. They had pre-laid some of the trail, but the little orange flags were too tempting for the children to resist, so several were missing or relocated. No matter, the pack still found the trail, once again leading straight up the hill behind the school. Up and up and up it climbed, finally arriving at a truly spectacular overlook, made more so by the fact that the hares had ferried BEER up the trail. It was a truly epic beer stop, and such a fitting final trail for this wonderful cruise. The pack even got a blast from the ship's horn as the captain spied them all on their lofty perch!

The farewell dinner was held on the open deck under a sky full of stars. The crew once again delighted the group with their singing and dancing, and invited all to a final kava circle.

As the ship sailed back to Port Denarau, the crew sang some more of their lovely songs, including the farewell song "Isa Lei." There wasn't a dry eye in the crowd. Everyone had become so close to these warm and beautiful people, and it was hard to say goodbye. Hugs were exchanged all around, as the hashers left the Reef Endeavour and her wonderful crew.

Many thanks to Mu-Sick for arranging this fantastic cruise, and to all those on board, hashers and crew alike, who made it so much fun. This was truly one to remember!!

Hashing with the Bangkok Harriettes

by Quick Drawers

CONTENTS

I once again had the pleasure of hashing with the Bangkok Harriettes on two consecutive Wednesday evenings (Nov 1st & Nov 8th), prior to and following the 19th Indochina – Mekong Hash event in Vientiane, Laos. Since it's not as easy to take photos of Hashers on trail at night, as it is during the day, I'll include some photos from both hashes with this short article. Both of these hashes were attended by approx. 30+ hashers.

Most tourists and visiting Hashers tend to stay near the Sukhumvit area of downtown Bangkok, which is about a 30 minute to 1-hour ride, in from the main Suvarnabhumi airport. BH4 hashes are almost never held in or near this area. Their hashes are held around the outskirts of Bangkok, in an attempt to incorporate some greenery and off-road terrain into each Hash. This time of year, their hashes start at 5:15 PM. Some members arrive at the run sites via their own transport; but, the rest and most visitors, end up getting there via first riding on the BTS (Bangkok Transit System Metro) and then sharing a taxi onto the final meeting point. This of course takes time, at this time of day, and it is always best to allow about 1.5 hrs. for this process. It is also recommended that you attempt to meet up with a knowledgeable BH4 hasher, vs. trying to reach a run site with a taxi driver, whose first exposure to a foreign language was with you!

Hashers chatting prior to opening remarks from the Hare

The Hare "Sheepshagger" providing pre-run comments

There is of course the normal sign-in and Hash Cash process and the greeting of fellow hashes one has not seen since the previous week or possibly much longer. This is followed by information from the Hare, on the days pre-set trail, marked with flour and chalk, and then the pack is sent off. The Nov 1st BH4 hash, hared by "Sheepshagger", covered mostly a highly urban area, with busy streets, small alleys, crossing of train tracks, etc. The majority of the runners were out about an hour which is again typical. There is no separate BH4 walker trail, so in that case its best to follow one of BH4's members familiar with that area. As a result of their past runs these veterans are able to correctly shorten the trail distance, allowing them to finish ahead of or in about the same time as the runners. At this time of year, it is always dark when trail is finished and flashlights are of course highly recommended while on-trail.

Hashers milling about at an early checkpoint vs checking

Hashers milling about at an early checkpoint

The Nov 8th BH4 hash trail was hared by "Senator" and provided an equal variety of dirt roads, elevated cement paths (approximately 4 feet wide beside unappealing Klongs = small canals), with shared usage by hashers and local residents both on foot and those on passing motorbikes, etc. and lastly thru some residential street areas. The run site for this hash was in close proximity to one of Bangkok's numerous colorful Temples. Hashers on-in at these A-A Hashes are always greeted with traditional light snacks and a variety of ice-cold local Beers and water.

The traditional circle is conducted after everyone has arrived back at the finish and had some time to refresh themselves with dry shirts and ample cold drinks. Near the conclusion of each weeks lively circle several male hashers are nominated for the "Tit of the Week" award. The winner of this nomination is then dressed up as a Harriette and rewarded with a cold beer, for their cheerful participation. Circle concludes shortly thereafter and the group is encouraged to attend the light informal dinner immediately following in the nearby rustic eating facility, notice I did not use the more formal term restaurant. Dinner always includes more cold beer, rice of course and several types of tasty Thai dishes. The very modest cost is shared at the end and hashers depart ready to return the following Wednesday evening to do it all over again. Just as it should be right!

Hashing in Belfast, North Ireland

by Quick Drawers

Belfast hashers on Sunday April 15th, 2018 were greeted by GM "Keen Knickers" and her co-hare "Dr. Purple Helmet", in the midst of what is termed "a soft rain". It's a misty light rain that will actually get you wet, but which is not readily noticeable when falling. This monthly winter hash (bi-weekly during summer months) was held in Hillsborough which is an 18th & 19th century type village, just a 30-minute train ride, from central Belfast. This village is home to Hillsborough Castle which is the only royal residence in Ireland. Today's hash attended by a dozen regular members, one virgin hasher, visiting Dublin H3 GM "Pubic Hair Dresser" and visitors "Choo Choo" and myself, started in front of the 18th century, St. Malachy's Church, just off the main street.

Hashers at start:
Dr. Purple Helmet, Keen Knickers,
Pantaloony, Pia, Pubic Hair Dresser,
Bloody Mary, Just William, Marylynn,
David, Liz and Choo Choo

The pre-set runner and walker trails both initially led thru the center of town with sufficient checks and good markings, to keep each group close together. Hashers soon found themselves entering an extensive park, thru one of its back gates. The park had what I consider to be ideal hash territory – a mature forested area with its pine needle soft ground and somewhat narrow game trails. This forested area surrounded the Hillsborough Forest Lake and its resident white swan population. Trail of course circled around the lake and re-entered the village in the opposite direction from the start. Trail traversed thru the main square and back down main street, to the car park near St. Malachy's church.

Dr. Purple Helmet and Belfast RA "David" jointly conducted an entertaining circle during a temporary lessening of "soft rain". Each hasher present seemed to have an opportunity to be recognized in the circle for one reward or another and just as the level of rain started back up again, circle concluded. The ON After location was only a short walk away into The Parson's Nose, Restaurant and Beer Garden, where everyone enjoyed their pay-as-you-go afternoon dinner with continued hash camaraderie.

As a bit of background, the Belfast hash was founded by Dr. Purple Helmet in 1987 and is presently the only hash in Northern Ireland. In addition to their monthly winter and bi-weekly summer schedule, they also hold other special hashes including one termed the "George Best" memorial hash after a well-known footballer that enjoyed running and drinking and had been named "Hard Liver". BH3 average pack size is 12-15 members with special events bringing in 20+ attendees. They can be reached via their Belfast hash house harriers Facebook page. For some strange reason the Belfast hash is not listed on the European Hash Directory Index, so hopefully that will be corrected by the site administrator, as well as much needed updates to many other outdated European hash contact information!

I'd like to extend my personal thanks to BH3 GM "Keen Knickers" and BH3 founder "Dr. Purple Helmet" for a very enjoyable hash along with their warm hospitality and Saturday's pre-hash drive around to see some of Belfast's tourist attractions.

HASHING IN THE PHILIPPINES

ANGELES CITY H3 40TH ANNIVERSARY WEEKEND

by Steve Roney aka Bush Diver

CONTENTS

17 to 20th August 2018

We are inviting interested overseas hashers to join our celebrations for this event.

The following is a schedule of events:

Friday evening will be an informal bar hop in the Fields Avenue entertainment district. The hashers will try to stick together and the event will probably end at either Rhapsody or LaBamba.

Saturday afternoon will be a men only BEACH Hash (British Empire And Colonies Hash) Usually this event is a short run or hike ending at a bar or hotel with a pool. There might be a nominal fee but usually the hashers only need pay for what they consume at the finish.

Sunday August 19 – This is the main event and it will begin on or before 3PM at our regular hash home Premiere Hotel. Jeeps will be provided to transport the hashers to the start of the trail. People with cars will drive themselves to the trail just like they do every other week. Tentatively there will be two trails circa 5 and 8Km. There will be a special anniversary shirt provided and some sort of meal at the on home. Cost is as follows Men P1000, women P750, Kids P600. No advance payment required.

Monday August 20 - There will be a Subic Bay H3 outstation run starting at Premiere Hotel at a time to be decided later (Probably 3PM). The trail will be in San Martin on the road by Propo's house. The on home will be at Propo's house and there will be arrangements for food. The charge for the run and beer is P350 men and P150 women. There will be an extra charge for the food.

No advance payment is required, however we would like to get an idea of your shirt requirements and which events you are planning to attend. Include name gender, shirt size and what events you will attend.

Hashing in Kuala Lumpur Malaysia

by Steve Roney aka Bush Diver

Kuala Lumpur (KL) is where the Hash House Harriers all began. Anyone who has been in the Hash for any period of time has read the story about Albert Gispert and his 8 British army buddies that started the Hash by running or hiking in the mountains near KL back in 1938. After the run they met up in the Royal Selangor Annex (The Hash House) socialized and drank beer. These 9 men were the inspiration for the Hash House Harriers today. However, most Hashers are probably not aware that Malaysia today has the most hash clubs and the most members per capita of any country in the world. In Malaysia alone there are more than 100 hash clubs and many thousands of hashers that regularly run or walk with these hash chapters every week. Annual Nash Hash events draw thousands of hashers. The Malaysia Nash Hash in Raub back on May 4-6 attracted 1,800 people. The Mother Hash 80th anniversary in September 2018 already has more than 1,300 signed up.

In spite of the popularity of the Hash in Malaysia not much is known about it outside of Malaysia, Indonesia and Singapore. I am a Philippine hasher and before going there I asked many of my very experienced hash friends for information. Almost none of these friends had ever hashed in Malaysia recently and none really knew much of anything about the hash there. In spite of the size of the Hash I think that the various chapters get very few non Malaysian visitors. The Malaysia Hash Council has a web site (www.malaysianhashcouncil.com) which lists all of the various hash chapters along with the names and cell numbers of the general managers and secretaries. There are many more hash chapters that are not listed on this web site. Most of the Hash chapters do not have web sites and therefore it is difficult to find out much about them on the internet.

On the trail with the Batu Hash

The hash runs follow normal hash protocol. There is a run followed by drinking beer and then a circle. Usually there is food either served after that either at the run site or at a nearby restaurant.

There are two items absolutely essential to hashing in Malaysia, a cell phone with a Malaysian sim card and a good flash light. Malaysia is in the GMT+8 time zone so it usually does not get dark before 7:00 PM depending on the time of year. However if the trail is long you will probably be coming back in the dark. The trails usually are in government nature parks so they usually follow proper trails. However these parks are in the mountains, they are in natural rain forests and they are located in uninhabited areas. The trails are really beautiful and you will enjoy them a lot.

Many of the run sites are located quite a ways from KL Central but you can easily get there by taxi. Fortunately taxies are very cheap by international standards. All you need is a run address. Most of the taxis have maps on their I phones and can take you wherever you want to go. If you get lost you can always call the GM and ask for additional help in finding the location. Like stated previously the hashers are very friendly and will either give you a ride back to you hotel or make sure you have a way to get there. They will probably also give you a ride to the run site but I was too shy to ask and always took a taxi.

The Batu Hash House Harriers and Harriettes run every Wednesday at 6:15. It is a very large and popular hash club and attracts up to 200 hashers every week. I attended on May 16 which was their run 1500. There was a short trail of about 4 kms. and a long of 8 kms. The trail was not exactly easy but it was not that difficult either. After the run they served food at the run site. The socializing and drinking went on until quite late. My wife and I were the only visitors. All and all we met many very friendly people and we were treated very well.

The K.L. Dalmatian H4 meets every week on Thursday at 6 PM. It is a very small club and on the day we attended there were about 15 hashers. The trail went up a big hill with a nice view of the city at the top. I think the trail was about 5 kms. The GM is Black Jack T. Maniam. They do not have a web site but he was very helpful when I called him. Black Jack founded the Dalmation club and he also was a former GM of the Royal Selangor Club H3. According to him the two clubs are similar with the latter club being much larger. The Royal Selangor Club H3 has nothing to do with the Royal Selangor Club which is now a very exclusive private club for Malaysian business people.

Socializing after the run - Batu Hash

The Damansara H4 meets every week on Friday at 6PM. The hash chapter is named after a township of K.L with the same name and it is a large club with around 100 members. It has a reputation for having challenging trails. The day that I did the hash the trail was about 8 kms. and there were two hills. The second hill was high and the climb up was rather steep. For me the trail was no problem and I enjoyed it a lot. However a novice hasher might find it too difficult. After the run, socializing and the circle all the hashers went to a nearby restaurant for dinner. My wife and I were the only visitors.

I really enjoyed my time in Kuala Lumpur and the hash clubs that I visited. I give special thanks to Brian Scherr, Black Jack Maniam and Steven Lai the GMs of the aforementioned hash clubs for their hospitality and for making me feel really welcome. The Mother Hash is having their 80th anniversary runs on September 14-16 and I am looking forward to attending.

Hashing in Cape Town South Africa

by Julia Stanton, Africa correspondent

CONTENTS

There are two registered hash clubs in Cape Town, South Africa. Cape Town Hash House Harriers which was founded in 1982 runs every Sunday and Cape Town Wednesday which logically runs on a Wednesday evening. A few months ago I joined the Sunday hash for a run.

The run was located 45km south East of Cape Town and thanks to the hash's active Facebook page and messenger, I was able to get hooked up with a lift from one of the hashers. The trail was set on one of the hiking trails offered by Helderberg farm which as well as producing high quality wine and strawberries offers accommodation, facilities for barbecuing and parties as well as trails for mountain biking, 4 wheel drives and trail running.

There were around 25 hashers in attendance and about 15 dogs that had come to hash. Unusually, it was a morning hash rather than the usual Sunday afternoon hash as the idea was to have a lunchtime picnic for the On On. Plus, I think the hares also fancied a morning hash for a change. The hares had laid both a running and walking trail with various loops for the runners which meant they kept meeting up with the walkers. The farm is set at the foot of Helderberg mountain so fine views were to be had as the trail passed through strawberry fields, a lake and vineyards (although they were looking rather dried up due to the severe drought that Cape Town has been facing) The dogs either ran or walk depending on their owner's capability.

About 90 minutes later, we were at the On in which was a picnic site where various coolers were unloaded full of different varieties of South African beer and cider for purchase. The dogs were also taken care of with bowls of water. With beers in hand, a short circle was called with charges bringing everyone into the circle. It was then time for a picnic lunch with lots of delicious goodies.

The fun continued afterwards in a search with a few hashers for a vineyard open for wine tasting. With Stellenbosch only 12km away, it did not take long to find one and a pleasant afternoon was had sampling a variety of different South African wines.

Latest run information for Cape Town Hash House Harriers and Wednesday hash can be found on their Facebook page.

Pan Africa Hash 2019

Compiled by Julia Stanton, African correspondent

Some pics by Momo F. Turay

What is the Pan Africa Hash?

It is a three-day bi-annual running/walking, social and charity event that brings together all the Hash House Harriers (houses) in Africa. Hash, being an international organisation that exists in almost all the countries of the world, typically attracts visitors from beyond the African continent for such events.

Pan Africa Hash 2019 will finally be hosted by Freetown Hash House Harriers, Sierra Leone from 31 May - 2 June 2019. They were planning to host it in 2015 but unfortunately due to the Ebola outbreak, the Kenyan hashers stepped in at the last minute and moved it to Malindi.

Registration is now open at <https://panafricahash.com/>

Freetown Hash House Harriers (FHHH)

Article written by Emad Khoury and photos by Momo F. Turay

The Freetown Hash House Harriers (FHHH) was formed in the late eighties originating from the Sierra Rutlie Mines then referred to as the Mombibi Hashers. The growing interest attracted some expatriates in Freetown and has since gained greater ground and popularity in Freetown where it is now a household name.

The FHHH is managed by a governing authority called the Mismanagement Committee comprising of the Grand Master (GM), Religious Adviser (RA), Hash Register, Hash Cash, Hash Beer, Trail Master, Hash Food and council of past Grand Masters (Ex GMs). The Mismanagement Committee is elected into office for a year and is responsible for the running of FHHH. It meets as required to make strategic and Management decisions including, venues, calendar of events, determine registration fees, sanctions, recruitment and other external matters.

Members of the FHHH gather at various locations in Freetown every Monday afternoon mostly from 17:00 hours (after normal office hours) and stay around as long as they wished to socialise and network. The run starts at exactly 18:00 hours after registration (done regularly for every run) and last for one hour which is divided into various groups. The fast runners, slow runners, fast walkers and slow walkers all led by running and walking hares. The hares of the day are responsible for the trail which is either laid a day before the run or earlier in the same day before the run starts.

CONTENTS

All hashers must be clad in the hash uniform which is the Hash T-shirt sold on site and on very rare and exceptional circumstances Hash badges with FHHH logos are allowed for those without the hash T-shirt. At the end of the one hour run, there is a Circle. The Circle is a social tradition of standing around with the Religious Adviser in Charge. New members (commonly called virgins) are welcomed and introduced, hashers returning after a short or long absence (returners), those leaving or going away (leavers) and also important information from the Mismanagement (the governing authority).

It is also in the circle that hash names are given to members and to qualify for a name, you must have done at least ten runs with the FHHH and participated in the laying of at least a trail. During the naming ceremony, suggested names are solicited from the members present and at most three names are voted upon. The most popular name is given to the hasher through hash baptism. It is this hash name you shall be called during all hash gatherings and events.

In the course of the year, there is an upcountry run which is done outside of the Freetown in the provinces. This is determined by the mismanagement in consultation with the membership.

There is an End-of-month run commonly called the Family Hash which happens on the last Sunday of every month. The usual venues for this are the outskirts of Freetown selected along the beautiful beaches along the Peninsula of Western Area. Following the of the End of Month run is the Live Hare Run which is observed on the immediate Monday. The Hares for this run leave the other runners behind ten minutes to lay the trail on which to run and if the hares are caught, they will buy drinks for all participating runners but if not the hares get rewarded as a tradition.

The FHH have participated and hosted the West Africa Inter-Hash which brings together Hashers from across West Africa to one location and enjoy a period of hashing together. It recently won the bid to host the Pan Africa Hash for 2019 after a fierce and competitive bidding in the 2017 one that was hosted in Lagos.

Freetown H3 looks forward to welcoming you to Sierra Leone in 2019.

Details of their weekly runs are always posted on their Facebook page at least a day before the run.

Details to come.

Things are progressing well with the organization of the event and we are fully booked.

A WAITING LIST has been set up and any enquiries should be directed to General Erection: lawriewilson43@gmail.com

Keep this address handy, as it is going to be Hash Central during the event: BBQ Un In 206 Xom Con St. Nha Trang

We will be meeting there every day. Firstly on Friday afternoon for registration and goody bag collection, then Saturday and Sunday mornings to meet the buses to the runs and Saturday night for the main dinner and party.

CONTENTS

STOP PRESS

It is looking very likely that a red dress run will be organised by our 3 charities on Friday morning. Details to come soon. Watch this space!

ACCOMMODATION

We strongly suggest you book your hotel in the tourist district. If you use Sailing Club as a guide, then look at something within 500 meters. That is where all the nightlife and 'action' is. The area around BBQ Un In doesn't have much going on so, look at Agoda, Booking.com etc for the best deals for your needs and budget. The range is from backpacker hostels to 5 star and there will be something for you as there are literally hundreds of hotels in this area.

Looking forward to sharing a beer or 3 with you all.

BAD NEWS FOR IRON MAIDEN FANS AS DONALD TRUMP PUTS TARIFFS ON FOREIGN METAL

It will cost up to 40% more to listen to Iron Maiden in the USA, thanks to Donald Trump's new metal import tariffs.

Following confirmation that President Trump will put a premium on all metal (industrial and heavy), the band's fans were distraught to hear that the tariff would the band they love. "Fucking ridiculous," grumbled Jay Cooper, giving over his credit card details before Spotify would let him access The Number of the Beast. "Most people laugh at me for listening to Iron Maiden for free, they're going to laugh even harder now I have to pay-per-listen. "The best things in life are supposed to be free, so why am I being charged to mosh to the greatest band of all time?" Whitehouse spokesperson, Simon Williams, said, "the best band of all time would be The Pretenders, but I'll let that slide. "Anyway, it's high time there was a tax on foreign metal. For far too long, bands like Iron Maiden, Black Sabbath and Judas Priest have been ousting out good-quality American metal bands like Limp Bizkit." Jay Cooper sighed, "You could have at least picked Metallica..."

MACRON WANTS UK TO GIVE HIM HEAD IN RETURN FOR BAYEUX TAPESTRY

Monarchists were outraged, so soon after the Royal Wedding, by the suggestion by Emmanuel Macron, President of France, that the severed heads of the British royal family would be an appropriate gift in exchange for the loan of the Bayeux Tapestry to the UK.

"Just as the Bayeux Tapestry is a remarkable record of a pivotal time in British history, the decapitation of monarchs and members of their families is a tradition celebrated here in the Republic", said Macron.

The President has offered to lend the UK a working guillotine and several elderly crones with knitting skills. He suggested that the execution of the royals would draw a vast crowd and that the guillotine should be set up in possibly Trafalgar Square... to draw the largest number of spectators. French wine, baguettes and a selection of continental cheeses would also be sold, creating a carnival atmosphere.

The heads would be displayed on spikes in the Place de la Concorde, outside the gate to the Jardins du Tuilleries where Marie Antoinette famously said "let them eat cake".

"History in the making, both for the UK and France, developing our very special 'entente cordiale' in a way both visual and visceral", said the President.

However, staunch monarchists in the UK reacted with dismay and fury to the suggestion. "If this happens I will renounce my new blue passport, have a Brazilian and head to Lichtenstein", said Katie Hopkins.

Other royalists were equally dismissive, with Britain First setting up a 24 hour cordon around Buckingham Palace and vowing to protect "...her majesty and all who sail in her. God bless 'er and death to furriners...". said one dyspeptic spokesperson. Should Macron's offer be taken up by the government, The Hash Trash will be printing a special, commemorative memorial edition, containing vouchers with a special offer of 2 for the price of 1 with free popcorn.

STATUE OF LIBERTY PLANNING MOVE BACK TO FRANCE

Following a public falling out today between the President of France and the Dictator of the United States of America the Statue of Liberty has announced that she will be shortly emigrating back to France.

Lady Liberty, or La Liberte eclairant le Monde as she prefers to be known, is said to be keen to return to France where there is some actual liberty.

"I've been welcoming immigrants into the United States since 1886." She told the Rochdale Herald.

"The current administration isn't terribly welcoming to anybody these days and now that these clowns are falling out with the French, well it's only a matter of time that they find out where I'm from and ICE comes knocking on my pedestal."

The giant statue, built by the bloke who built the Eiffel Tower and designed by a German Italian naturalised Frenchman called Bartholdi was originally offered the job of lighthouse at the entrance to the Suez Canal but turned it down to work in America.

"It seemed like a good gig at the time. I quite like the seasons and you don't get much of a winter in Egypt. I thought at the time being a beacon of hope in America would have been a job for life."

"But this administration seems pretty set on trade embargoes, jingoism, institutional racism and a militarised police force. Besides I'm getting a long in the joints now and worried about all the medical and hospital expenses whereas it's free in France. The food is better in Paris too."

HUGE BOOST FOR BREXIT BRITAIN AS GALACTIC EMPIRE ANNOUNCES NEW DEATH STAR WILL BE BUILT IN ESSEX

Brexit Britain has received a massive boost this afternoon after a spokesperson for the Galactic Empire confirmed that the new Death Star will be made across a number of locations in Essex.

It is thought that the £156 trillion project will create more than 40,000 jobs, even in the event of a 'no deal' Brexit.

Their spokesperson said, 'Previous versions of the Death Star were built entirely within the European Union, and we believe that mindless Brussels bureaucracy and meddling led to the minor imperfection that caused the last one to blow up.'

'Juncker and his chums thought that it was perfectly acceptable to issue legislation that meant that we ended up with a ray-shielded particle exhaust vent leading straight from the surface directly into its reactor core that was so easy to torpedo, and our contacts in the United Kingdom have assured us that this won't happen.'

'We want to send out a message that Brexit Britain is worth believing in and join the ranks of other prominent Brexiteers in business such as Tim Martin who definitely has not spent too long staring at Endor.'

---ONON---
A spokesperson for the Department for Transport has confirmed that the popular road sign containing the message 'Give Way To Oncoming Vehicles' doesn't apply if you are driving a BMW. He said, 'The pre-defined rule of priority would usually need to be observed for the good of all road users at that point.' However, it is well-known that most people would prefer to sit back and watch in awe at this approaching marvel of modern automotive engineering.' This even goes as far as reversing over a single-track bridge while staring lustfully into the eyes of the sovereign-clad cocaine dealer behind the wheel.' 'Such raw beauty.'

FIRST POST-BREXIT BRITISH CAR ROLLS OFF PRODUCTION LINE

The future of British car making is secure despite fears it would implode after Brexit.

Delighted bosses today unveiled the first British-made model to roll off the production line since the country voted to leave the EU.

BRITISH BREXIT CAR

The Fiesta Farage boasts desirable sleek lines and can reach top speeds of 24mph. Downhill.

It has all the hi-tech gadgets that drivers have come to expect from so-called industry leaders in Germany and Japan.

Top of the spec list is air conditioning, which is activated simply by rolling down the window (electric windows not currently available).

It also has the latest engine stop-start technology to rival anything Audi or Honda can produce.

When the Fiesta Farage pulls up at a junction, the engine stops – not for any fuel-saving reason, but because it has broken down.

And it handles superbly, taking corners like they are not there (it simply ignores them and goes straight on).

Motoring journalists were in awe when the Fiesta Farage was launched at the East Anglian Motor Show yesterday.

And they believe the car – already given the sporty FF nickname – will be a new fixture in Waitrose car parks, where nine out of ten cars are Audis.

Lorraine Fisher, 34, who writes a motoring column for The Spectator magazine, said: “Doom mongers who voted to remain in the EU tried to claim Britain going it alone would badly hit key industries like car manufacturing.

“They said standards would fall and it would be like returning to the bad old days of British Leyland.

“But they will be choking on their words once they get behind the wheel of one of these beauties.

“Not only does the car look gorgeous with a beautiful finish, it handles like a dream and should also come with cheap car insurance.”

The Fiesta Farage, the first British-made car since the Trabant was reintroduced to Norfolk, starts at just £29,000 for the base model.

But if you want an engine and four wheels, you will have to stump up an extra £8,000.

NO GOVERNMENT IS BETTER THAN A BAD GOVERNMENT ITALY TELLS UK

Italian President, Sergio Mattarella has told the UK that Having no Government is better than having a bad Government following the Italian people electing to go with none of the above in the most recent election.

The Hash Trash couldn't get an interview with a Government spokesman. Instead, Italian farmer Ricardo Fumagalli told the Trash, “In Italy we have so much experience of bad Governments. We had one Prime Minister who was put on trial for being a member of the mafia and spent years ripping off most of the public with dodgy deals. He was even charged and found guilty of murdering a journalist.”

“We had Silvio Berlusconi. A man who had plastic surgery and now looks like a wax work. Everyone remembers the bunga bunga parties but nobody remembers that he was wearing a bandage on his head during a state visit. He made out that it didn't exist even though he looks like a pirate in all of the photographs from that time. It's just embarrassing. So we've decided to go without a Government for the time being.”

UK Government spokesman, Lemule Over-Promoted said, “Imagine how this country would have gone on without a Government to guide it?”

The Evolution of Italian Government

Members of the armed forces wouldn't have been offered the same opportunity for travel to exciting places like Iraq. We might never have had that vote on the EU that seems to have caused loads of problems that nobody could have foreseen. No, we need people like Boris Johnson to hold the country together. Pretty soon the Italian people will be back wanting a Government to offer solutions to their problems.”

However, not everybody agrees. Belgian writer Jaques Buchner said, “We had no Government for almost 2 years. It was a glorious time. People were able to get on without interference. The whole world didn't collapse and we didn't have to spend weeks listening to them make excuses for things.

Plus, it was way cheaper not having to pay their wages, traveling expenses and London Town Housing.”

Shaun O'Shaughnessie said, “It's definitely the way to go. Everyone told us the whole of society would collapse without a Government. I'd be forced to eat the neighbours, I'd have to use those tokens from Asda as barter and we'd be living in our own filth.”

The IMF seemed to agree saying, “This is brilliant. This will make re-negotiating the loans to Italy a whole lot easier and we might even be able to beat them at football.”

THE PRISON BREAK RUN

The Central Prison

UNDERGROUND HASH # 1236

The UH3 with Old 'n' Stiff as the Hare took us on a wild trail on Stockholm's Old Prison Island of Långholmen.

Fortunately everyone was on their best behaviour and no arrests were made.

Although some remarked the hare had laid some arresting arrows and should have been given a suit of the same and throw in the Nick.

Two drinks stops enchanted our visit to this once grief-stricken place which is now a hostel.

So in this modern enlightened world you have to pay to be slammed up.

A number of bridges needed to be crossed offering wonderful views of a Sunny and bright Stockholm before we reached the On-Home circle where our resident RA from West Sweden tried to gather some sort of order but very few took any notice.

Being Norwegian very few people do and regard them as a joke as we in England regard the Irish.

Visitors from Angels City Hash in the Philippines again made an appearance but were complaining about the hot weather???

Leaving the circle it was now time for everyone to cram into the rather small and hot Viet Cong restaurant.

Which leaves us to ponder an old Filipino saying:

How many people can you get into a small restaurant?

One more!.....OnOnStrMaliBog

'SAFE HANDS' LIVERPOOL GOALKEEPER HANDED NEW BREXIT ROLE

Theresa May has put Liverpool goalkeeper Loris Karius in charge of Brexit negotiations because she needs a safe pair of hands.

The Prime Minister was impressed by the way Karius handled the pressure-cooker atmosphere of the Champions League final against Real Madrid last night.

Karius showed a safe pair of hands, and can have done absolutely nothing about two of the goals against the Spanish side. Gareth Bale's overhead kick wasn't too bad, either.

A Downing Street spokesman said: "We need a safe pair of hands to manage Britain's Brexit negotiations."

"Loris Karius has shown he has nerves of steel and will ensure we get the result we need from the EU."

"He won't let anything slip through his fingers."

Liverpool fans, who had traveled to Kiev in the Ukraine in their tens of thousands for the big game, were aghast that their hero was being snapped up by the Government.

Supporter Lorraine Fisher, 34, said: "He's our goalkeeping God, and we'll be sorry to lose him."

"But Britain's Brexit negotiations with the EU need to be handled with care, and Loris is the man you want in a crisis."

Karius will be invited to Downing Street next week for a cup of coffee with Mrs May. He will be handed a large napkin in case he spills it.

DAVID BECKHAM UNDER FIRE AFTER TATTOOING HIMSELF DURING ROYAL WEDDING

Critics have hit out at soccer legend, David Beckham, who was spotted tattooing one of his legs during Saturday's royal wedding ceremony at Windsor Castle

The former Manchester United and England icon was spotted by a BBC camera with his trousers pulled down to his knees and was clearly seen using a piece of sharpened bamboo and a bottle of Indian ink to etch a crude ship's anchor tattoo with, 'Harry and Meghan', in a scroll underneath it on his upper thigh. Beckham defended the move, saying that he uses tattoos to remember important moments in his life. Before stopping to look at a small tattoo on the inside of his arm, before adding, "Ah, yes, Momento, that's it."

FEAR AND ABJECT-FAILURE NAMED IN ENGLAND WORLD CUP SQUAD

Manager Gareth Southgate has today named Fear, Abject-Failure and Useless in his 23-man England World Cup squad.

He has gone for experience as he tries to manage the expectations of fans ahead of this summer's tournament in Russia.

Fear and Startled will form the backbone of the England defence, while Useless, Dim-Wit and Feckless will be expected to score the goals to propel England to World Cup glory for the first time since 1966.

The midfield engine room will be masterminded by veteran team captain Abject-Failure, who will run around alongside Panicky and Spineless.

Unveiling his squad at a press conference at Wembley, Mr Southgate said he would be sticking with his tried and tested goalkeeper, Bungle as his number one choice.

But second-choice keeper Butterfingers is expected to keep Bungle on his toes.

Southgate, 47, said: "Everyone knows what England fans expect of us in Russia."

"We have reputations to uphold and I have picked what I believe is the best 23-man England World Cup squad to enable us to crash out at the group stage as usual."

The Three Lions have been drawn in Group G along with Belgium, Panama and Tunisia, and start their FIFA World Cup campaign on June 18 against Tunisia.

It is widely expected they will only manage a draw against Panama and lose to Tunisia and Belgium, with Dim-Wit missing a last-minute penalty to save the day.

Skipper Abject-Failure, who has already won an amazing 545 caps for England, said: "We go to Russia knowing what we have to do. England expects."

He added, "I also need something to keep me occupied during the duller parts of the ceremony, and Victoria insisted I couldn't bring my crayons."

The criticism of Beckham's behaviour is reminiscent of the outcry that ensued after Prince Andrew's daughter, Eugenie, was spotted in a pew at the back of Westminster Abbey having her pubic hair fashioned into a heart and dyed pink during the wedding of Prince William and Kate Middleton in April 2011.

BRIGHTON H7 40th ANULVERSARY AT THE BRIGHTON BLUES RUGBY CLUB

Red Horse and meself travelled from Stockholm for the 40th Anulversary Hash and we were not disappointed. About 150 strange hashers set up camp in the Rugby Field on the Friday while some ventured into Brighton for the pub crawl we stayed drinking the free beers. Saturday was a blistering hot day and after all the lies from the Hares about it being rather flat we made our ways up and up the Sussex Downs and after a long trek found the Sip Stop by and by the famous Jack and Jill Windmills. Looking across we could see Wolstonbury Hill looming in the distance and we were informed that was the way to go, up up and over.

A Sip Stop at Church Lane, where we were left looking after the beer but later driven to the liquid lunch down at the farm. Flolled by a 3K hike back the the Start and the never ending circles, beers, wines and ciders, more beers and the CampBall*OnOnMaliBog*

GO OGLE PHONE APP COMES WITH UPSKIRT AS THE NEWEST MUST HAVE PHOTO MODE

The chaps at Go Ogle Apps were quick to capitalise on Parliament's decision not to outlaw taking an unwanted picture up a skirt.

The, ironically titled, Private Member's Bill proposed making up-skirting a criminal offence. The proposal failed to become law and was blocked by the moralising Tory, Sir Christopher Chope, MP for Jesus Christchurch.

The Go Ogle Apps chaps decided to capitalise on this by developing a photography app, to help others who think the nanny state was going too far in trying to protect a woman's right to privacy in respect of her private parts.

Once downloaded the Go Ogle App will add several new features to the phones existing functions. As well as the usual Portrait and Landscape modes, it will also feature Upskirt, Upskirt Flash and Lunchbox modes.

These three latest modes are designed for stealth filming. Purchasers of the new App will also receive a complimentary box of tissues.

Of course, the new app is not without its critics.

They claim there is something decidedly nasty about taking such pictures of a person's genitals and posting them on the interweb, whilst sad pathetic knuckle draggers knock one out. They claim this practice further objectifies and demeans women.

The Go Ogle chaps responded by denying their app is sexist, pointing out there is a Lunchbox mode and men wear skirts too. To which the critics replied, "There aren't that many Linford's around and you won't find much to snap in most men's trousers."

The new app is available in the Go Ogle Play store, tissues are sent under plain cover.

Exhausted after the amazing weekend and the Sunday Hangover run passing yet another Windmill we descended near Ditchling Beacon on the usual Monday Run.

There were some runners including some poser with a lame excuse as to why he didn't make the weekend.

At the BBQ I had the joy of meeting up with some of the fellas who started this hash 40 years past who I met on my first B7 Hash in 1982, great to see you keeping up with the Hash Traditions.

Brighton Hash is a running and drinking club that meets every Monday at 19:30 for a 19:40 start (unless stated below). Runs start from a different pub in the Brighton vicinity weekly. We follow a trail of chalk and paper, usually taking just over an hour to complete. New runners are always welcome, so check the list of up & coming hashes to see where we will be next. Most often pubs are chosen by their ability to serve a good selection of ales!.....

TRUMP'S WIG CRUELLY DETAINED AT US BORDER

The President of the United States Donald Trump's wig has been cruelly detained at the US border.

Trump was returning from a brief trip to Mexico at lunchtime on Wednesday when a border official took him to one side and asked if he was carrying an undocumented child migrant on his head.

A source said, 'Trump told them that it was his real Barnet, and this made them grow suspicious.'

The toupée was then removed and thrown into a cage while the coot-like President was taken away for further questioning.'

Trump later tweeted to accuse US border officials of treating his hairpiece 'inhumanely.'

He posted, 'Wiggy needs regular conditioning and massage. This is bad. Very bad. Terrible. It is terribly very bad.'

SQUIRREL RIPS OFF STOCKHOLM
HASHER'S TESTICLE AFTER WHILE
NAPPING ON THE GRASS AFTER A SAUNA

A squirrel ripped off a Stockholm Hasher's's testicle and buried it after he dozed off after a morning in the sauna. The nude victim was fast asleep on his sun lounger when the pesky grey squirrel seized his nuts. It ripped away the man's right testicle with one bite – and he awoke in agony to see the rodent running off down to the bottom of the garden.

Yummi Yummi Hash Nuts

our brave Hasher howled in agony, covered in blood, the squirrel calmly buried the testicle next to a tree.

Taking a sauna after a long training session for the Stockholm Marathon is becoming more popular by the year, and the victim from the Stockholm area, who obviously wishes to remain anonymous, was known to be one of hundreds of keen runners who like to un-wind during the weekend with a sauna, a quick dip in the Baltic (no pun meant) and a doze in the sun.

A spokesperson for Danderyd Hospital, confirmed: "A man was treated for a bite injury, apparently caused by a squirrel. "People really should remain clothed in the garden – last year a seagull ripped off a sunbather's testicle in Huddinge."

The Hash Trash understands the man's wife heard his screams and rushed outside to see him writhing in agony.

She poured him a beer then called the ambulance, and told neighbours no one could believe what had happened.

One local said: "The poor man will have a story to tell his grandchildren one day. Thankfully he's already had kids so there is no problem with that."

Dr Ian Brown, 34, an animal behaviour expert from Stockholm University, said: "Squirrels are very active at this time of year. "They are busy hoarding food as well as being a little aggressive as they are looking for a mate. "They can give a nasty nip, so they are best avoided. Clearly the animal thought it had got hold of a tasty walnut."

Clearly a new Hash Name reflecting his loss should be a coming once he has been able to run again. Little Hitler would be one appropriate name.

On a lighter note: Our brave Hasher, being a one bit short and sore is unable to run the Stockholm Marathon. so anyone feeling fit and with the balls to run, in more ways than one, please contact the Hash Trash.

PRINCE HARRY FOUND TIED TO A LAMPOST WITH L PLATE ON HIS ARSE
AFTER RED DRESS RUN IN DUNDEE

The soon-to-be Duke of Sussex was hurried back to Windsor after being found in Dundee with a traffic cone on his head.

Friends of the Prince are reported to have written 'Good Luck!' on his chest in permanent marker and shaved one of his eyebrows, which was painted on for the wedding ceremony. Palace insiders report that Harry, who was so inebriated he couldn't remember his own name, was sobered up with an 'old royal concoction' featuring raw eggs, Worcester sauce and Tabasco – a mixture last used to get his mother upright enough to get down the aisle when she realised she was actually going to have to marry Charles.

Royal watchers report it is a mystery how Harry got to Dundee, although a missing helicopter and a dozen empty cans of special brew at Chelsea barracks may offer some clues.

It seems that certain members of a famous Highland Brigade are also members of the Dundee Hash House Harriers and took Harry along for a good night out at their Red Dress Run "Obviously the Queen is furious with him," insiders told us. "If a senior member of the Royal family is going to get messily drunk and run around the streets on their stag they should be somewhere classy, like Edinburgh or Cheltenham.

"Her Majesty had hoped for Harry's stag to be about as wild as William's, when he was in bed for eight thirty with a mug of cocoa and a copy of 'Country Life' as usual."
