Making yourself at home in Trinidad is easy for the Interhash 2020!

Interhash 2020

We are happy to announce that the Trinidad Hilton Hotel has come on board as the Official Hash hotel for the Interhash 2020.

Pre bookings for rooms flew off the shelf, as we announced our Pre booking Hash Special last week, with 183 rooms being reserved under 2 hours, as hard core hashers rushed to make sure they got in on the hotel deals and be in middle of the action at the Hash Hotel.

Don't get all bent out of shape so quickly thinking you've lost your chance at the Hub Hotel, because another 116 rooms will be made available to you at special hash rates in April when the International booking machine goes in to action.

Keeping you all close and cozy.

We have also been working closely with hotels within minutes walk from the Hilton, which we would be launching on our website. Look out for deals from the Hotel Normandie, The Chancellor Hotel, the Kapok Hotel, the Cascadia Hotel and others as these rooms become available.

Register now at www.Interhashtrinidad2020.com

Pic of the Savannah taken from the Hilton hotel

Mismanagement has zoned the accommodation regions and would be unveiling these hotels, guests houses and Airbnb options in Zone 1, closest to the Hotel Hub, in the St Ann's/ Cascade area.

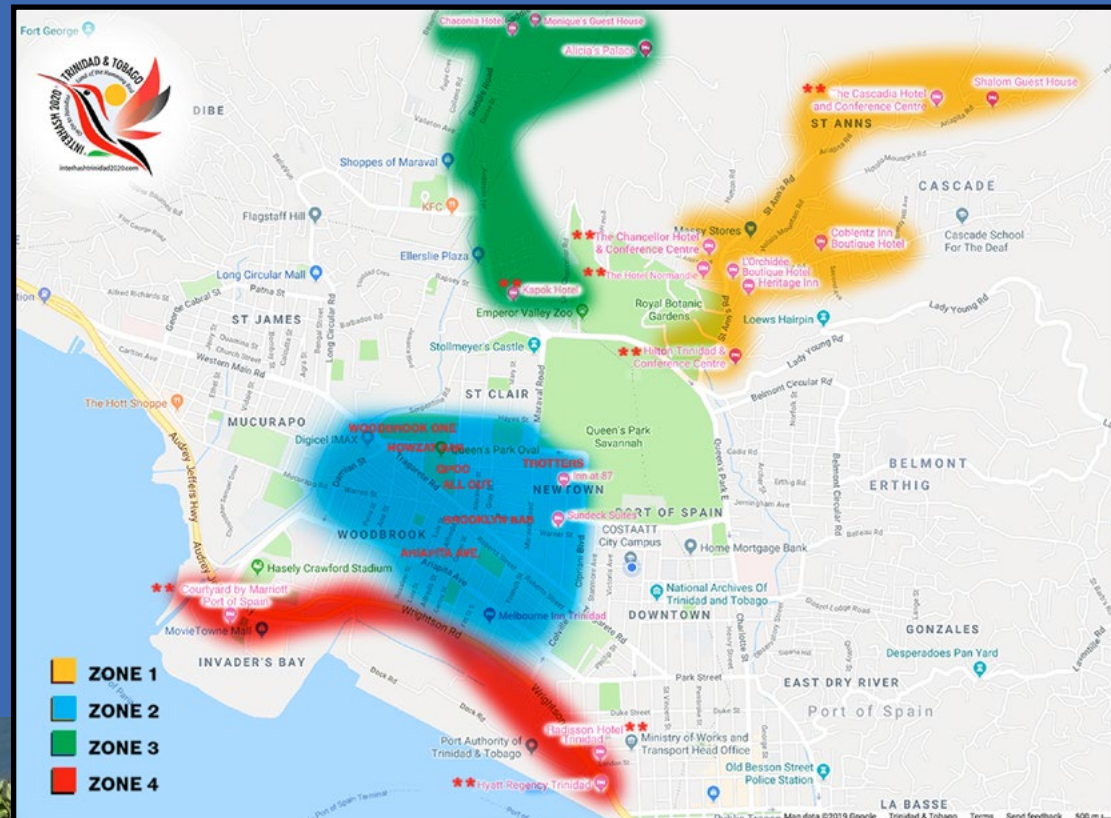

Zone 1: The St Ann's and Cascade area. - North of the Queens Park Savannah- Historical Living minutes walk away from the Hash Hotel

Home to the famous Pelican Inn/ Pub, where all who attended the InterAmericas here years ago spent many a drunken night. Sadly this Pub icon, which meant so much to us is no longer there and has been replaced by a hotel. St Ann's and Cascade are primarily residential areas that sit in the foothills of the sprawling; northern range, making them perfect for smaller comfortable and affordable hotels. The areas become more commercial as they get closer to the Queens Park Savannah. There you can find small businesses supporting the residents and the Tourism sector, with groceries, bars, restaurants, the Queens Hall, where many a local concert or play has been staged, as well as many historical buildings and sites, including the Prime Ministers House, the Emperor Valley Zoo, the Botanical Gardens, and the Presidents Grounds where many an exciting rugby game has been played.

Zone 2: The St Clair, Woodbrook and Ariapita Ave- West of the Queens Park Savannah – Guest House Living amid the Bars and Restaurants.

St Clair, is an upscale residential area, hosting some of the most beautiful historic homes and parks, including the Stollmeyer Castle and the Magnificent Seven.

Just behind these stately buildings, spread the Woodbrook and Newtown areas. Historically very quaint residential areas with the classic Trinidadian George Brown houses, they have become home to blocks of bars, restaurants and smaller guests houses littered along the famous Ariapita Ave. Local pubs and Sports bars, restaurants and other notable sites can be found in this area, including sprawling Sports Bars like Trotters and All Out which are the largest, located near the Famous Queens Park Cricket Club. Small local bars or 'Rumshops' such as Howzat Bar, just across the road from the cricket Club and the Brooklyn Bar are guaranteed spots for hashers during your stay here. Standing tall and high above all is One Woodbrook Place residential towers, where many can sign up for Airbnb and live high above some of the most popular bars and restaurants below, minutes walk away from all things Hash.

Zone 3: Saddle Road and Maraval Valley. -West of the Queens Park Savannah- Stay along the famous Saddle Road that leads you to some of our famous beaches, in small comfortable hotels close to our Moka Golf Club, Country Club, many malls and restaurants. Monique's Guest House and others all scattered on the main saddle road would keep you in the mix Zone 4: City living. -Three of our larger hotels are listed in here, the Hyatt Regency, the Marriot Courtyard and the Radisson Hotel, all minutes walk in to the City of Port of Spain and its Waterfront and Parliament buildings. Situated on one of the city's main thoroughfares, these hotels afford you the buzz of the city while keeping you minutes away by taxi from all things Hash. The Marriott Courtyard sits in the middle of Movietown , where many bars, casinos, restaurants, cinemas etc. can be found.

Stay tuned as we roll out these deals for you over the next few weeks , then we will unveil a few Airline surprises.

What? You haven't picked your Pre Lube option yet?

Editor's Notes

Greetings and welcome to the March/April 2019 edition of Harrier Magazine with the latest news about hashing all over the world.

In this edition we take you to distant corners of the Hash Universe with first hand reports about hashing in Hong Kong, the Ivory Coast, Jordan, Myanmar, and the USA, as well as the latest news on the upcoming Interhash in Trinidad.

ASIA: Our cover story features a unique Hong Kong hash that only runs during Category 8 typhoons. This hash is definitely not for the faint at heart, and its participants might even be considered a few cards short of a full deck. Safety Last may be a familiar cliché for some hashes, but the T8 Typhoon Hash takes this concept to a whole new level of real danger.

Myanmar's newest Nay Pyi Taw H3 held its inaugural Outstation Weekend in Bagan. Crumbling two thousand year-old temples created a scenic backdrop for this event near the new capital of Myanmar (formerly Burma).

The Sixteenth Philippine Nash Hash was held in Manila this year. The first day runs took us out of town to a volcano with an extremely steep 250 meter descent to the lake below. That treacherous trek was followed by long hike back up the cliff where thirsty hashers were treated to ample amounts of catered food and cold San Miguel beer.

MIDDLE EAST: Most hashers are familiar with the Hash Hymn "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot". But did you know that historic Amman, Jordan is the home of the Hashemite Hash? When you sing "I looked over Jordan and what did I see, Coming for to carry me home" you might think of the Hashemite H3 running thorough the ancient ruins of Petra. Thanks to our roving correspondent Quick Drawers for this candid report.

USA: Pennsylvania has a number of hashes, including the Harrisburg-Hershey H5 which has more than 800 trails under its belt. Thriving HHH kennels can also be found nearby in the Lehigh Valley H3 and the Nittany Valley H3. A number of lesser known chapters are also located along the main interstate highways if you have the opportunity to travel across country through America's heartland.

AFRICA: Our prolific Africa correspondent, Head Mistress takes us on a colourful journey to the lush tropical Ivory Coast. She joined the Abidjan Hash House Harriers, which runs every Saturday. The Pan Africa Hash is coming up soon in Freetown, Sierra Leone. Thanks to Head Mistress for another first hand report on hashing in the African continent.

Stay tuned for all the latest HHH news on our website and in the upcoming editions of Harrier Magazine.

We welcome your stories about hashing anywhere in the world, and news of your upcoming events.

On On and I hope to see you on trail soon

HASHING IN

by Aint Ze Bush

Run Number 10 - Pagoda Run
Run Number 11 - Hangover Village Run
Hares - Aint Ze Bush, Hot Plate & Room Service
Site - Royal KK Bagan

Run Number 10

It was an Incredible Trail running along & passing Pagodas which are nearly 2000 years old. The first Beer Stop was also in front of an Ancient Pagoda. The runners were off in a flash. The walkers were enjoying the scenery and stopping by to take memorable pictures. Bagan is an ancient dusty city where the Ayerwaddy River Flows from one end. The run was an 8 k.m. A to B ending at picturesque Shwe San Daw Pagoda. The trail went pass Dhamma Yan Gyi the largest Pagoda.

CONTENTS

Run Number 11

This was the usual Hangover Trail. Running through the villages and farmland. Also witnessed an old fashioned brick making factories. Short 6k.m. trail with One Beer Stop near a railway station.

There were 36 Hashes who participated. A memorable T shirt was handed over at the end of the run. Pewter Mugs from Royal Salangor were handed over to MMC. A few Hashes did the ballon ride next morning. Another group went up climbing Mount Popa. The weekend would not be completed without a sunset cruise. Which we also did.

Royal KK Bagan provided delicious food with a Saturday Night BBQ & music. Arthawka Hotel helped me with setting the trails through Pagodas. It was a memorable long weekend & One Of The Best Trails I have set.

HASHEMITE HASH

AMMAN, JORDAN

by Quick Drawers

pics by Quick Drawers, Chicken Shit and Petra

When the first 4 letters in the name of a country, spell Hash, you know the members of the Hash there will be a great group of hashers. Such is the case in the “Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan”. The Hashemite hash meets weekly, on Monday evenings, with a 6:30 PM (sharp) start time.

On Monday 8 Oct, there were 16 hashers starting out on runner and walker trails. The hare for the runner’s trail was “KGB” and he provided the two visiting hashers with explanations of their kennels specific markings. The hare for the walker’s pack was “Chicken Shit”. Both trails lasted just over an hour and ended back at the Dubliners Irish Pub & Restaurant (their designated hash bar), at just about the same time. Amman itself is not flat and consists of several decent sized hills which both groups encountered. Considering the dry Amman climate, thick green vegetation, muddy trails or other types of traditional shiggy are non-existent. Urban streets and sidewalks are the norm for trails here. Torches, as the local expats refer to them, are not normally needed on their well-lighted walkers’ trails; but, they are occasionally useful on the runner’s trails, to locate the specific spray paint color for the evening’s marks. Silvery gray colored marks, apparently took close attention to spot on the asphalt areas of the runner’s trail.

Jerash Hippodrome

Amman Roman Amphitheater

Upon completion of the evenings hash, members purchased .5L glasses of their favorite cold beverage, from the bar inside, and then proceeded back out front, for the traditional circle led by GM "Bottle Dodger" and RA "Chicken Shit". The hares "KGB" and "Chicken Shit" were both rewarded for pack proclaimed good trails, along with almost everyone else in attendance, for one good reason or another! You know how that goes! Upon completion of circle activities and announcements everyone was back inside and ordering either beef or chicken burgers with a hearty helping of fries (pay as you go 4JD).

Speaking of the local currency:

JD = Jordanian Dinar,

1JD = approximately $1.41.

I wanted to mention this to give you a heads up for your planned visit to Jordan. The Jordanian visa upon entry costs 40JD. The one-day entry fee to visit Petra (which you know is one of the new 7th wonders) is 50JD. I would therefore recommend you purchase a type of “Jordan Pass” online, for only 70JD. This immediately provides you a savings of 20JD, plus includes admission to numerous other places of tourist interest within Jordan, such as Jerash, Ajloun Castle, Amman Citadel, the Amman Roman Amphitheater, etc.

You will enjoy the many interesting tourist sites within Jordan and the Jordanian people themselves, capped off with a great group of Hashemite Hashers. They will warmly welcome visiting hashers to their Monday night Hash. H4 GM “Bottle Dodger” can be contacted thru HashemiteHHH-owner@yahoo.com. Thanks Hashemite for a very enjoyable evening. I welcome the opportunity to hash with you all again in the future.

T8H3 - HK Typhoon 8 Hash:
"Probably the most dangerous hash in the world"

by Mark Hope

So another typhoon season ends in Asia, a particularly busy year with super typhoons hitting Hong Kong, Japan and the Philippines. It is the frequency of these storms that resulted in "typhoon signals" being introduced by governments in these countries; Hong Kong's first set of typhoon signals being penned as early as 1917. The scale increases with the ferocity of the storm that would affect that country, and for Hong Kong a "T8" effectively closes the territory with ferries stopped, overland train services suspended and most bus services parked until the signal lowers to a "T3". This also means, on a week day – a day off work!

The T8 Hash was formed by Tim Bywater-Lees and Tymon Mellor when typhoon Helen closed HK on the- 12th August, 1995, run from Kowloon Tong train station. Since then 26 more typhoons of a T8 or T10 (hurricane!) nature have resulted in T8H3 running a day time hash. The criteria for a T8 run is a little complicated and requires preparation in advance. Run location and the hare needs to be known in advance as storms do not work to a timetable!

Hong Kong Typhoon Hash

The guidelines for T8H3:

T8 raised before / at 8:00am meet at noon.
  No run if the signal comes down before 11:00 am  T8 raised after 8:00am and before / at 3:00pm, meet at 4:00pm. T8 raised after 3:00pm meet the next day at noon, if signal still up at 11:00am.  No run if the signal comes down before 11:00 am **

Simple?

Well, not when you factor into the equation of public transportation and road closures, as well as potential high winds, rain, and... flying objects! This is not a hash for the faint hearted. This is a hash that is spoken about in awe (and stupidity) and recounted many times by those that have had the privilege to run on one.

Dangerous?

Yes. Thrilling, of course. Challenging for the hare, always a “live hare” laying paper and flour trail for the hounds to chase, swirling winds and heavy rain typical conditions for a T8 hare.

The last typhoon of the 2018 season, “Mangkhut” (Thai for Mangosteen) reared its powerful head around the 10th September, formed into a Super Typhoon, and soon rolled over the north Philippines. Its track was predicted as a direct hit on Hong Kong in the early hours of Sunday 16th September. Saturday night the T8H3 GM, Hopeless, and the hare, Burning Lust, mobilized the potential pack via Facebook and WhatsApp. Sure enough, early Sunday morning, the T8 signal was up, and by now messages, emails and phone calls were a plenty, with “new member” requests to the Facebook group spiraling out of control – interest was piqued and people were keen to pop their T8 cherries.

But..... hurricane signal T10 was announced around 10am as winds picked up to over 140kmh and the some of the keenness and practicality of getting to the start of the run became reality. Twenty or more could not make the start of the run in Tin Hau due to roads being blocked by trees, such was the hammering HK was receiving at that stage.

But, at noon, 36 keen runners were ready as Burning Lust set off with his bag of shredded insurance claims! Was it windy? Yes, especially on the top of Braemar Hill. Was it dangerous? Yes, Lost in Translation suffered near concussion as a tree snapped in front of her off the broken catch-water. Was it fun? Absolutely! A "full blown" T10 run in high winds and flying debris adds to the adrenaline and kudos of being on a T8 hash. Was it something sensible to do? Of course not, but who said anything about hashing was sensible?!

Naturally, blizzard cold beers awaited the pack at the end of the run, Circle time after an exciting day on trail, just another hash, but..... probably the most dangerous hash in the world? This time around, 140mh winds and flying debris, well a good contender perhaps.

H5 Rocks

Central Pennsylvania Hashing

Harrisburg-Hershey Hash House Harriers - H5 for short - is a south central Pennsylvania-based hash that was founded in 1997 and lays live trails more than 60 times a year.

Hashes are held every other Saturday, the 22nd of each month – wear your tutu or do a down down, the occasional Wednesday – dubbed Takes it Up the Ass Like a Wednesday, and on full moons. The H5 full moon hash was founded by Deathwish and is called the Three Mile Island (TMI) Nuclear Meltdown Hash. Those trails are separately numbered but counted in H5 stats.

Sister Maria was among the founders of The Three Mile Island Nuclear Meltdown Hash, at the very first one was Deathwish, but it was Sister Maria, Screw and Fuzz Buster who were at the initial conference about founding the trail baded in Screw's idea..

Ernest, (Stick it in my) Socket and Webelo Scout or H5 at the OTB beer near.

CONTENTS

One of H5's highly attended summer trails - the Lipstick Lesbian Hash - was recently run on July 7, 2018, and is in its 7th year. Attended by about 40 harriers and harriettes, this trail is set by the three-some of Wishboneher, She Came, who is H5's hash cash and statistician, and Bang 4 Ur Buck, former GM and current hare raiser.

Trail started at the Water Way Bar & Grill in York, PA at 4 o'clock, NOT on the nose. Hash time. Opening circle was held on their deck with civilians looking on and asking the usual questions. Twelve minutes after the hares were off, the pack proceeded through town, across parking lots and sidewalks, over a dry, grassy canal bed where a shot near was hidden, through more city, then into an overgrown nursery, were a Christmas in July decorated fir tree hid the first beer near. Some hills and dails and a cemetery later, trail was again meandering though the sketchier sections of the city of York to the top of a parking garage.

While doing circle, a cop on a Segway, attracted by the commotion and hijinks, shows up and asks what we're up to, and ends up accepting a cold water and doing a down down on a robustly warm July evening.

H5's annual camp out is called Stinko de Mayo and is held the weekend closest to May 5 each year. It attracts 200 hashers from numerous neighboring kennels. Stinko features a 25-keg beer wagon, great food, a table of liquor, and Bushrat's famous Saturday morning trail. (At more than 160 trails hared, Bushrat has laid over 15% of all H5 and TMI trails.) He and his band of Stinko co-hares lay a challenging six-to-eight mile eagle trail, and a challenging three-to-five mile turkey trail through the local valleys and Appalachian Mountains and foothills.

Stinko's Friday camp crawl is a bounty of costumes fitting the theme. After Saturday's trail, a Hash Olympics is held, and GM Tour de Puke's Bubba, Central PA's drunkest band, rocks the classics on Saturday night. For information about the next H5 hash, check out H5's upcumming events page or join H5 on Facebook. H5 keep stats on who hared and who came to each hash. Awards and patches are given for milestones in attendance.

H5 is always on the way somewhere if you're traveling on the East Coast and gets numerous visitors, especially during the summer travel season. Nearby Pennsylvania kennels include: Lehigh Valley, the newly founded Rogue North, Reading, and Nittany Valley and several Philly hashes. Within a two hour drive are Baltimore Annapolis, Charm City and Old Frederick in Maryland, Hockessin in Delaware, Rumson and Princeton in NJ and the DC and Virginia hashes. Pittsburgh, Hillbilly, Flour City (Rochester), Ithaca and Syracuse are also within easy driving distance for road whores.

Harrisburg-Hershey H3 has run more than 800 trails, and the TMI full moon over 225. For trail runners, Keystone H3 has been revived and runs once or twice each month on a Sunday morning at 10. A female-only hash called S.P.O.T. (Susquehanna Pussies On Trail) also runs local trails and has an annual Manvitational event that invites harriers to run with the harriettes.

In recent months, work has been bringing me to Abidjan, the capital of Cote d'Ivoire (Ivory Coast) and last month I got a chance to check out both hash chapters based there which gave me a great opportunity to get out of the city into lush tropical landscape.

Hashing in Cote d'Ivoire (Ivory Coast)

Abidjan Hash House Harriers – Le Abidjan HHH

Being the weekly Saturday afternoon hash, I tried out this group first. They were very easy to find with run locations being posted on their website either on Thursday or Friday. This is important as the meeting point is at the run site itself. So armed with a printed out map and the hash contact phone number, I went onto the streets of Le Plateau, downtown Abidjan to find one of the local orange taxis to drive me out to Grand Bassam, Abidjan's nearest beach location and the run site.

After a 40 minute drive, my taxi driver called the contact number to get the precise location which was a small dirt road off the national highway leading to Ghana. This was easy to find as there was a big makeshift sign with HHH on it. After 10 minutes, there was a mass of cars and people parked under trees. I had found 'Le Hash'. There must have been around 150 people there from all over the world. A mix of languages could be heard with the main language French. I managed to find some Anglophones.

Eventually the GM called everyone to 'Le Cercle' and a massive circle was called. As usual, the Hares were called in to explain the trails and an announcement was made that special tea and chocolate were on sale. Then before the hash, could go, a call was put out for volunteer hares to lay the trail for next week. 3 people quickly volunteered and were applauded and then everyone set off. I think this is quite an efficient way of making sure a hash has hares for next week. Evidently, the hash trails cannot start until someone volunteers for next week.

The run was supposed to be around 15km and the walk 10km. It was flat and mainly sandy through estates of rubber, cocoa and coconut passing many small villages. It was all very scenic and the locals lined up to greet us. Both trails were well laid with fine shreddie so every hasher could walk or run at his/her own pace. There was no waiting around for everyone. There was even a 2km check back for the walkers but the award was a drinks stop including big buckets of local beer.

On returning back to the start, some cars were already starting to pull away. This is not a hash that does circles or 'On Ons' although their website implies that they do so this must have been done away with at some point. The idea seems to be to meet, do a long trail and then to go home. There were buckets of drinks and beer at the finish and some hashers hang around a bit to drink, socialise and sample/buy the local anti-malarial tea and chocolate but the majority had gone.

My second Abidjan hash experience the following week was similar although I no longer needed to rely on a taxi to find the way as got a lift from a fellow hasher. The hash was in the area of Bingerville and lots of hills this time but still very lush through forest as well as rubber, cocoa and coconut trees. Again there were big numbers but no circle or 'On On' after.

Abidjan H3 was founded in November 1981 by Andrew Martin and Rick Hodson. For the latest information on the next run location in both English and French, visit <https://www.abidjanhhh.org/index.htm>

Abidjan Classic Hash

This so called English speaking hash meets once a month usually around the third Sunday of the month and the run location is sent out through an email distribution list. They were very hard to track down as they had no updated online presence but I finally managed to track them down through a Nairobi hasher, missed them once in December as they changed the weekend and then caught up with them in the third week of January.

This time the meeting place was a small resort restaurant on a lagoon. The group was a lot smaller being around 40 but the hash fee was more since this included food at the end. This was more of a traditional hash with a shorter trail, more mud, false trails and a drinks stop at a local bar. The trail passed through forest with a stream that had to be kept being leapt over and a very muddy trail leading to a pool of water to cross leading to a false trail. All hashers were required to do the false trail otherwise they would be charged in the circle.

The drinks stop was at a very simple local bar with a few tables and plastic chairs on the side of the road but plenty of beer. Hashers sat down and enjoyed the beer for around 45 minutes. Although it was supposed to be an English speaking Hash originally set up by the British Embassy in 2001 by Mike “Rajun” Cajun and Valence “Juicy” Herbert, a lot of French could be heard. On return to the start, as the sun was setting over the lagoon, a circle was called in English by current GM, Malawi Gigolo and followed a fairly predictable pattern of calling in hares, virgins, visitors, returnees etc before the charges started with the usual Down Down songs. They were drunk in small bowls which had to be worn on the head when finishing. Once the charges were over, hashers lined up for food which was a small buffet of local Ivorian food and sat down to continue socialising. This felt much more normal than the Saturday hash which attracts a huge crowd.

Abidjan Classic also seem to do full moon runs as one was set for the following Tuesday but alas I was off on a plane to my next adventure in Dakar, Senegal. To get on the mailing list, to receive the next information about the Classic Hash, sign up to the following email address list:

classic_hash@hotmail.com

Venue: We are happy to announce that we could win the Radisson Blu (Mammy Yoko) 4-Star hotel as a major sponsor of the event. We signed an agreement for the venue free of charge and discounted room rates.

Sponsors: The traditional sponsor of the FH3 is the Sierra Leone Brewery (a subsidiary of Heineken) which locally brews Star Beer, Mützig and Guinness. They live up to our expectations and will supply ample quantities of our staple food. It can be consumed bottled, canned or as draught; plans are under way to provide intravenous drips for the needy.

Other major and some smaller companies have expressed interest to sponsor the event. Negotiations are ongoing.

Runs: Freetown has lovely beaches and steep hills, so runs will be flat and hilly. Be prepared for some tough running (ambulances are on stand-by).

Visas: We are currently in negotiations with immigration to facilitate visas on arrival for PAH and will update you on this. Visa can also be obtained online, which is reliable and convenient but comes with an extra fee (www.visitsierraleone.com).

Travel: There are several international carriers servicing Freetown: KLM/ Air France, Brussels, Kenya Airways, Royal Air Maroc, Asky, Air Cote d'Ivoire, Air Peace, Mauritania Airlines (not sure all of them can be recommended; maybe you pack an extra parachute with some of them). Once you reach Lungi International Airport you have to cross over to Freetown by Speedboat. There are two providers (Sea Coach and Sea Bird) and they are both reliable. You will have to check-in the luggage and collect the luggage at the other side. Tickets are 40 USD or SLL 320.000 one way; this includes the bus transfer from the Airport to the nearby boat terminal; so come with some $-cash. We are currently negotiating for a reduced rate for the Hashers. Transfer from the Boat terminal in Freetown to the hotel will be arranged by the PAH and/or the hotel.

<http://wagh3.vpsite.se/INTERSCANDI-2019.html>

20 years ago this month, one of the best TV shows ever debuted on HBO

The year 2019 commemorates 50 years since the last year and demise of the Swinging Sixties. The Swinging Sixties was a youth-driven cultural revolution that took place in the United Kingdom during the mid-to-late 1960s, emphasising modernity and

Music was a big part of the scene, with "the London sound" including the Who, the Kinks, the Small Faces and the Rolling Stones, fun-loving hedonism, with Swinging London as its centre.

I was fortunate enough to have been apart of this being a Mod on my Vespa GS and later into the decade having my first experience with the Hash. Not the Hash I have embraced for the last 40 years or more but the other Hash that introduced me to 'A Whiter Shade of Pale' and 'Lucy In The Sky' Umm, this look was so different and unusual for the time. Have a look at both ladies. So different. Do you really wonder why she was looking the way she was. It was a shock to most parents back then. My god, just imagine what her face would look like if this same lady was walking down our streets today! The older ladies could never wear mini-skirts without their bloomers showing as the elastic was just above the knees. Similar to the way some 'men' wear their jeans.

It still influences shows and movies to this day.

Jimmy Greaves and Bobby Moore, visit Pinewood Studios 1966. with Sean Connery and Yul Brynner, nice shoes 007 ..

Yul Brynner started his film career in the 60's advertising perfume although it was well known that the smell of perfume made his violently sick, they even wrote a song about it and they sing the song most weeks at Liverpool football stadium, it's called, 'Yul never wore cologne'.

Fatties Looking Forward To Annual Visit To Gym

Treadmills and exercise bikes across the country have being reinforced and production of industrial strength lycra is at record levels as the January annual rush for gym memberships is underway, only to be cancelled within days.

With the UK in a solid first place in the European Obesity League, fatties across the land are looking forward to their annual social media orgy of self-prophesizing weight lost posts, vague earthly-hippie yoga mantras and a glutony of 'before' pics, taken shortly after dumping out their left over Christmas food leading up to the New Year.

Resident Burnley fatty, Hugh Jass, has been waiting for this moment since January last year. "I can't wait to get to the gym," he told The Hash Trash. "I've bought all new kit but I'm going to keep the labels on, just in case."

"I always wanted to get the perfect beach body, for the trips to Sunny Beach in Bulgaria or the Sunny Sands of Majorca. I never got round to joining the gym last Christmas, so missed the opportunity to do so, and now the gear I bought last year doesn't fit."

I've been meticulously putting together a healthy eating plan and exercise routine to kick the new year off. Bring on the new me!"

Although he has a better diet than most Burnley residents, when asked whether he knew what Kale was, Hugh assumed it was a greasy spoon cafe village near Skelmersdale.

"I'll be cutting down on the Big Macs and fries to one a day and the KFC's to two a week."

Although I hear chicken is key to getting fit, so I can't cut it out completely.

I'll also be making healthier choices with my drink, and instead of 8 pints a night, I'll switch to Vodka or gin and 6 pints to cut down on the carbs."

Flood barriers are being installed at one leisure centre in Lancashire to ensure that a repeat of the North West floods do not take place for the one day when the pool looks like mating season of the Elephant Seals.

Regular gym members treat the annual phenomenon as a viewing platform, to make them feel better about themselves, before the migration back to the pubs and takeaways finishes in February.

China Discovers Dark Side Of The Moon

China recently shocked the world by revealing its latest lunar explorer spacecraft had discovered an old Pink Floyd album. The extraordinary news means the Chinese have finally caught up with quirky British prog rock tastes from 1973. The Chang'e 4 spacecraft touched down on Thursday morning Beijing time, official China Central Television reported.

Moments later, the first sounds of the Dark Side of the Moon album were beamed back to boffins at the Chinese Space Agency. First Breathe, then Great Gig in the Sky, followed by Money.

British space expert Lorraine Fisher, 34, said: "The Chinese couldn't believe what they were hearing."

"Under a strict regime of state censorship, they had never heard of Pink Floyd before, let alone the Dark Side of the Moon album."

"The country has now taken prog rock to its heart and assumes all western songs must be at least 13 minutes long."

The album is one of the biggest selling albums of all time, enjoyed by generations of men in their bedrooms when they've got nothing better to do.

The mission heralds China's plan to become a global superpower in space exploration. It is already planning a new mission to Mars, where it hopes to prove if the rumours of the existence of a David Bowie hit single are true.

The Swinging Sixties

If the Fifties were in black and white, then the Sixties were in Technicolor. The 'Swinging Sixties' remain the defining decade for Britain.

In just ten short years, London had transformed from the bleak, conservative city, only just beginning to forget the troubles of the Second World War, into the capital of the world, full of freedom, hope and promise.

It was the centre of all excitement; the city where anything and everything was possible. And yet, does anyone truly know how it was possible for decades of change to take place in just ten years?

By the 1960s, the first teenage generation free from conscription emerged in Britain. Young people were finally given a voice and freedom to do what they wanted.

The parents of the Sixties teenage generation had spent their youth fighting for their lives in the Second World War and wanted their own children to enjoy their youth and be able to have more fun and freedom.

By the early 1960s, teenagers were already significantly different to those of a decade ago.

One of the biggest, defining aspects of the 1960s was music. Although rock and roll began having an effect on Britain in the 1950s, it wasn't until the early Sixties and the emergence of 'British Invasion' groups like The Beatles, that music truly began its revolutionary changes.

The Beatles are an excellent example of how music influenced the lives of young Britons. Although they continued the rock and roll genre of the 1950s for the early part of the decade, by 1967 Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band became the turning point in music and inspired other musicians, such as The Beach Boys and The Rolling Stones, to experiment with new sounds and develop innovative pieces of music. Their later albums included lyrics encouraging rebellion against the authorities, as was seen in 'Revolution'. Young people began to stand up for their beliefs and individuality.

This became one of the biggest aspects associated with the 'hippie' movement. People began to challenge and question authority, something that would have been unheard of a decade ago.

Recreational drugs were also synonymous with the Sixties and became more commonly used in the latter part of the decade. Images of the Woodstock festival show people high on marijuana and LSD, dancing in fields with paint on their face and their hair flowing free. It was very difficult for anyone in show business to avoid becoming involved in drugs in some way and as easily influenced young people looking for fun, many were encouraged to follow their idols and take hallucinogenic drugs. LSD made people feel happy and optimistic and helped bring about the 'hippie' movement. The effects of these drugs were also reflected in psychedelic art and films, bringing new, vibrant and exciting colours and patterns to the forefront. The 'Yellow Submarine' film with its combination of psychedelic pictures and music illustrates this perfectly.

Although Britain wasn't directly involved in the Vietnam War, British musicians such as John Lennon brought it to the attentions of British people through protests against the conflict. Songs like 'Give Peace a Chance' showed people the horrors and pointlessness of war and fans followed in the footsteps of their idols to pursue peace and freedom.

The Decade that Shook Britain

The Profumo Affair, a scandalous mix of sex, spies and government, captured the public's attention in 1963. The Secretary for War John Profumo was discovered to be having an affair with a woman who was also seeing a Russian military attaché. Profumo denied the affair but later admitted that he had lied to the House of Commons and resigned. The affair changed the relationship between government and press forever and seriously undermined the public's trust in politicians. The traditional deference to figures of authority was now gradually being replaced by suspicion and mistrust.

Fashion in the decade mirrored many of the social changes of the Sixties. Mary Quant became famous for popularising the mini skirt which became the epitome of 1960s fashion. The mini was designed to be free and liberating for women, allowing them to "run and jump". Her fashion designs used simple geometric shapes and colours which gave women a new kind of femininity. Women were free to wear more playful, youthful clothes that would have seemed outrageous ten years before. By the late Sixties, psychedelic prints and vibrant colours began appearing on clothes as the hippie movement gathered pace.

Feminism began to become a more influential ideology as more jobs became available to young women in the Sixties. This allowed them to move away from home and become more independent.

The contraceptive pill became legalised for all women in 1967 and gave them the opportunity to broaden their hopes and dreams far beyond motherhood and marriage. The Women's Liberty movement was in its infancy when in 1968 at a Ford factory in Dagenham, 850 women went on strike, arguing for equal pay with their male co-workers. This action resulted in the passing of the Equal Pay Act of 1970.

Furthermore, women were becoming increasingly involved in politics. For example, in 1968, Barbara Castle became the first and only woman to be appointed First Secretary of State and women began finding a voice in society and the running of the country.

Technological advancements of the 1960s drastically changed how people spent their leisure time. The increase in employment in factories and increase in money allowed people to spend more on leisure activities. Colour television and pocket transistor radios allowed people to spend their free time listening to music and watching TV. Every teenager owned a transistor radio allowing them to listen to pop music on the move. The microwave oven shortened the amount of time women spent in the kitchen, further allowing them more freedom and time to enjoy themselves. By the end of the decade, Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin achieved the impossible by becoming the first men on the moon in 1969.

It ended the decade on a note of optimism and the ability to dream for something bigger and better.

What a dream it was

The 1960s was a decade of rapid change. Blink for one second and you would have missed it. It was the period that finally allowed people the liberty and individuality people had fought for and what we take for granted nowadays. The sixties began bleak and restricted, but by the end, people were full of hope and optimism for a better future.

MALIBOG'S ANUL HANGOVER RUN IN THE DEAD CENTRE OF STOCKHOLM

On Up To The Memorial Knoll

This being the 27th Stockholm Anul Hangover Run the Hare's intentions were to give the Hounds a taste for their money and create a long 10K run. Leaving the confines of town the pack headed north into the large grounds of the Solna cemetery.

Unfortunately MaliBog the Hare had come a cropper the day before whilst laying the trail up the ice bound steep remembrance knoll, fell heavily on his side then proceeded to bounce down the hill.

Having recovered somewhat he dragged himself up on his feet and managed to continue the trail limping as he progressed like the Hash Martyr he is but in a moment of rare astuteness decided the better part of valour was to shorten the trail considerably by about 4K, find an alternative drink stop close by the cemetery then hobble his way home for a medicinal drunk. Fortunately the cautious pack had read the last minute guidelines and arrived suitable adorned with spikes so were able to manipulate the frigid ice-swathed knoll without life-threatening injuries.

Passing a strange roadway sign and a picture of a hare the pack delved deep into the cemetery and ascended the glacial memorial-knoll as the light began to splutter away and the ghostly images commemorating long lost souls were silhouetted in the decaying light. Sod this they said and proceeded down a steep embankment on threw a rubbish tip, one more hill arriving at the drink stop in time for the whisky infused mulled wine. Then a short course back to the on-home.

THE JOYS OF RUNNING THE STOCKHOLM HASH IN WINTER

Here the Trash presents a few photos of what you would have continuously missed on the Stockholm Absolut and Underground Hashes throughout the wintry and snowy polar month of January.

During the day it has been brisk and sunny but during the evenings when the sun settles down so does the temperature but being in a dry atmosphere the coldness it's not so noticeable as the climate has no dampness to penetrate your clothes.

Wearing ice dubs was recommended because of the frozen streets, something I should have been wearing when having my run at the cemetery but no I thought I knew better.

Donald Trump has spoken of how great it is that there's now so much pussy to grab when he next visits the House of Representatives.

Tweeting, POTATUS said, "Is it any coincidence that under his administration record numbers of women have been elected to the House of Representatives? I think not." There's way more than under Obama and Clinton. Not many people know this but I'm a huge feminist. Probably the greatest reason to live. Women love money and that's why women love Trump." One insider told us, "He is excited to see so many women elected to the House of Representatives. When he next visits it will be stacked with pussy crying out to be grabbed. Not only that, it's not wrinkled old mares like crooked Hilary who has never denied being a lesbian. I mean no offence but, Bill, I can see why you cheated. Some of these women are in their twenties and wear yoga pants to the office. They'll be able to debate POTATUS all night long." He went on, "It's great to see so many Hispanic representatives now. Everyone knows they have the sort of energy to go all night long."

GETTING READY FOR ST VALENTINES DAY

'Jesus Saves'

posters to be removed across the world, after he discovers he's no match for Gordon Banks

Gordon Banks glided through the Pearly Gates recently and has already demoted Jesus to the second-best saver, after making a brief appearance in the Paradise reserve team. St Peter, who asked the legend what he would like to do on arrival, said that he couldn't wait to pull on a pair of gloves and get started training for the first team. "Obviously we gave him his fitness straight back and we had his eye waiting for him and he just came in and got started, like the legend he is. We are all in awe of him up here and think that we will almost certainly beat the Norse Gods next Saturday." It is believed that Banks will replace former Soviet keeper Lev Yashin, who has been number one since he was signed in 1990. "We are building a hell of a team here now, if you'll pardon the expression, and we are delighted to have him with us. "His family, the football community and all of those who loved him in life, can be absolutely assured that he is having a real career resurgence and he's looking forward to them watching him play in the future. He's on cloud 9, so to speak! "He's come straight in as our number one and he's playing in the best team he's ever been part of. He's having a pint of golden nectar with Alan Ball and Jimmy Armfield at the minute, they are having a right old catch up. "Just remember down there, you haven't lost him, he's just slipped offside for a little while."

GROWING IN THE GRASS

A WINTERS TRAIL THRO' HAGA PARK

FRESH MEAT'S GO FINIS RUN

Few years ago we were at Blind Pew's Berserkers Full Moon run in Sickla when Pitt Bull Burger announced that his lady love is arriving from the US and would be soon with us and joining us at the circle. And that she would be fresh meat on the hash having never run before.

Having heard this I had no option to give her the name 'Fresh Meat' which must have been one of the quickest names given especially as she had yet to run a Hash.

Since then it's all been down hill as she met up with so many of the degenerates of the Stockholm Hashes being part of the Absolut, Underground, Marathon kennels and the first Bike/run/swim TriHashalon.

Sadly both Pit Bull and Fresh Meat had to return to San Diego in sunny California on some pretence of working, Pit Ball having ungentlemanly departed last month left FM with Haring her 'Go Finis' run with the help of Laid Bird as her co-hare.

As it happened the winter had just stricken us brutal and left a covering of that white stuff everywhere.

They decided in their wisdom to lay the trail in Haga Park where fortunately they had gritted the main pathways, unfortunately during the small hours the temperature had risen above zero so the ice melted somewhat only to freeze again over the grit which left the trail a slippery as the toboggan run.

Anyway we all managed to reach the drink stop upon a frozen hill and then made our ways back to the On-Inn where home brew and whisky was served, down downs where given and some Scottish fans watched the 6 Nations game between Ireland and Scotland on a phone, Scotland lost. Good Hash and we will miss you so come back some day.....OnOnMaliBog

This Sporting Life

The American Government funded a study to see why the head of a man's Penis was larger than the shaft. After 1 year and $580,000, they concluded that the reason that the head was larger than the shaft was to give the man more pleasure during sex. After the US published the study, the French decided to do their own study. After $650,000 and 3 years of research, they concluded that the reason the head was larger than the shaft was to give the woman more pleasure during sex. The Australian Government, unsatisfied with these findings, conducted their own study. After 2 weeks and a cost of around $75.46, and 2 cases of beer, they concluded that it was to keep a man's hand from flying off and hitting himself in the forehead.

Wayne Rooney Arrested In America

American cop who arrested Rooney for public intoxication in January had just never heard a scouse accent before. The American police officer who arrested Wayne Rooney for 'public intoxication' at Dulles International Airport in Virginia has apologised after subsequently learning that this is how the footballer speaks all the time.

Police officer Chuck Williams, who arrested the former England and Manchester United captain, apologised saying, "With the strange slurred and gutteral utterings coming from his mouth, coupled with his inability to process simple verbal instructions, I assumed he was drunk - my bad. "Having done some research, I now realise that this is just his accent and normal mental capability. Also, I now see that the Beatles weren't permanently sozzled during each and every one of their TV interviews, as I had previously thought." In a statement, Wayne Rooney's lawyer Simon Williams said, "When I heard that Wayne had been arrested at an airport, I naturally assumed it was because he'd been found cavorting with an elderly prostitute or something. "But it appears to have been a simple misunderstanding on behalf of the cop, who had evidently never heard anyone speaking with a Liverpoolian accent before, as he immediately arrested him for public intoxication after hearing him say just a few words. "My client received a statutory automatic fine of $25 with an extra $91 in costs, which despite being innocent he was actually happy to pay. Mainly because it's just a drop in the ocean to Wayne - he earns more than that figure every time he touches the ball in training. "Plus he would have only spent it on booze anyway."

Superbowl

Shows How To Do Boring

The world's 'greatest sporting spectacle' took place during February in America. Both teams played as if they didn't want to win and go to the White House for cold burgers. The game lasted 50 hours. There was some shitty band playing at half time. No Janet Jackson nipples this time but there was some guy called Adam who showed his. One of the teams won and the other one lost. Did I mention that the game lasted 50 hours? I grew a beard while watching it.

Superbowl Rampant Consumerism

Marketing professionals are celebrating yet another a magnificent victory in yesterday's Super Bowl LIII, after securing unprecedented levels of coverage for their range of tawdry products. In a match between the New England Patriots and the Los Angeles Rams, which was won by one of them 13-3, all eyes were on the brands that could most successfully exploit their exposure to hundreds of millions of American wallets. NFL spokesperson Walt Gamington told us, "Each year we wonder where we are going improve on the previous year's successful extraction of income from US workers, and yet we continue to do so, time and again. "I think that's it's a testament to the skills of our nation's marketing professionals that even in such financially challenging times we were able to secure $5m for a 30 second commercial in the middle of a ball game. "We've got sponsored cameras, sponsored drinks providers, sponsored breaks, sponsored time-outs, sponsored lines on the pitch. "It's absolutely brilliant." Gamington continued, "We are running out of things to sponsor, admittedly, but I have faith in our nation's capitalists to wring several million dollars more out of someone in time for next year's event. "Each quarterback has eight fingers and two thumbs, so there are twenty sponsorship opportunities right there - you can have that one for free. "Tom Brady's right index finger - 'brought to you by Frito-Lay Sunchips' has a certain ring to it, no? "What about 'sponsored' sponsors? 'This McDonald's advert was brought to you by Ford' - that's surely an option? "Sure, there are some people who will tell you that the Super Bowl is an important sporting and cultural event in the US calendar - and I'd agree to a certain extent - so long as at the end of the day, commercial exploitation is the winner."

The Day The Music Died

FEBRUARY 3rd 1959

Soon after takeoff, late at night and in poor, wintry weather conditions, the pilot lost control of the light aircraft, A Beechcraft Bonanza, which subsequently crashed into a cornfield. Everyone on board was killed. The event has since been mentioned in various songs and films.

Many of you Mature farts on the Hash will remember this ill-fated date. I was just a mere 15 summers when I heard this newsflash. By then I had most of Buddy Holly's 45's in my collection, 'Rave On' 'Peggy Sue', 'That'll be The Day' and more plus two of Ritchie Valens 'Donna' and 'La Bamba' and the greatest of the Big Bopper 'Chantilly Lace'

Fast forward to when Rob and myself were running the 'Birds of Paradise' in Angeles City, Philippines., undoubtedly the best know Hash Bar in The World. During early 1883 I was back in England and managed to buy another copy of 'Chantilly Lace' plus the Jane Birkin/Serge Gainsbourg record "Je t'aime... moi non plus"

The infamous later rebuilt home of the Angeles Hash lasted almost 20 years seeing the birth of the 'Beach Hash' (British Empire American Colonies Hash), the 'AC Full Moon Hash' and the 'Pinatubo Hash Trekkers' plus organizing many entrees into the Manila Marathon, half marathons and 10k runs in the areas of Pampanga and Manila and twice the Hash Relay from Angeles to Subic Bay and back in aid of charity. Infamous for starting The First Philippine Nash Hash and being a part of InterHash Manila Unfortunately all good things must come to an end and during 2001 the doors were finally shut on this Hash Institution, but still most fondly remembered by many all over the world.....

Both of these records I put on our Juke Box at the Old BOP and both were played over and over and over again until they were almost worn out. The Hashers and the GI's playing Big Bopper's 'Chantilly Lace' not believing this was a white singer. Whereas the dancing girls loved to girate to the sensuous lyrics and the melody of Jane Birkin's 'Je t'aime'
