Andorra

Because their runs go into some serious mountain terrain Andorra H3 only meet in summer and this year's hash season has been delayed 'We had originally planned to start the 2022 Hash Season this weekend. Even though we have a volunteer to set a Hash on the 7th May, we cannot guarantee any other Hashes for the rest of the month. So we have decided to delay the start until early June. Hopefully by then the weather will have improved too.'

Ed: Hi guys hope to hash with you this summer, Shakes

Trinidad

Dr Mike McGee, a long standing hasher in Trinidad, thought up the idea of a new Interhash Trophy which was created by the Interhash Trinidad committee as a gift to the global Interhash community. The IH Challenge Trophy (pictured right) will be transferred every two years to the winners of future IH bids.

'Forged in his native homeland, Scotland, this beautiful trophy boasts a pair of running shoes, cast in bronze and mounted on local Trinidad Cedar and records the historic list of all previous host of the IH, dating as far back to the original event in Hong Kong 1978.'

It was presented by the IHTT 2020 committee to the Goa 2022 committee, the new hosts of the IH22 at the Hilton pool party at the Outerhash event in Trinidad on April 2022.'

Thailand

From The Wild Wolf: 'During the next 14 months, I will organize five fun "Hash Bash" events in Thailand --- including one in Pattaya this July --- plus one in Vietnam and one in Philippines. Pattaya Hashers, individually or en mass, as has been the case for past Hash Bash events, are welcome to attend.

Note: Hash Bash = a fun 4-day hash event with entertaining circles with ice and long songs ... nothing to do with bicycles! For future announcements join our Facebook group: Wild Wolf Hash Bashes.' Cheers and beers!

I am taking a break for a while and the next issue will be August.
However, as last year, there will be a Special A to Z of Hashers edition around July.

USA

The new Houston H3 Mismanagement staged a Lunar Eclipse hash. 'There is a total lunar eclipse Sunday evening viewable from all North America. Houston weather is forecast to be clear so if you are outside, look up!' On-on, H Palms

Chicago H3 are planning a 3 day Celebration of Memorial Day. The main run will be on Sunday, May 29th in Labagh Woods.

Willy Wanka is the latest member of the Hash Founders club. She has been awarded Hat #308 for founding the No Strings Attached Hash House Harriettes in Tampa, Florida. They have been on trail since 2016.

Listened to RA's fascinating interview with Mellow Yellow Foreskin. He gave some interesting insights into the recent drop in number on the Washington hash scene. MYF pointed out that several hashers had departed for Florida, and not just for retirement, but younger people transferring on business.

Martha Colley Ruff celebrated her 100th birthday with a hash trail sponsored by her son Dancing Fool. Happy birthday to Martha and on on to Ruff Buff H5.

Internet

RA has added an interview with The Body, a 85 year old hash veteran and founder of Palm Beach H3.

England

London H3 have been very active recently. They were finally able to stage their trip to Ludlow and returned to stage a Hash for Ukraine event. Next up a Queens Jubilee trial from Wapping Station.

For the first time in many years Belgian Nash Hash will have to go ahead without hash veteran John Urine Jackson. 'Sadly, I'm facing some leg-related health challenges. Have a totally brilliant weekend! The beer-cupboard is well stocked, so I'll be drinking with you!' Get well soon wishes to a wonderful hash gentleman.

Laos

What appears to have been a causal meeting in a bar has led to the founding (some have argued re-founding) of a Siem Reap International H3. Siem Reap is the second-largest city of Cambodia and the capital of Siem Reap Province in north-western Cambodia.

The French colonial and Chinese-style architecture has won it acknowledgement as a World Heritage town.

500 runs

Compressed Fart of the Dubai Desert Hash and Brewers Droop of the Timur Puddle Jumpers have clocked up 500 hashers. It was a double celebration for Compressed Fart who also became a grandfather for the same time. On On!

Sweden

Stockholm hashers have been over to Tallinn to check out trails for Interscandic later this year.

U.A.E.

Creek H3 recently set a run from Jebal Ali Village, leaving those present to wonder how long this would remain a hash venue. Some of the lads there that evening could remember when this was a desert run. When your editor arrived, just 5 years ago, hashes set off from the meeting point and headed into open ground. When I left three years later, it had become a tarmac run that took you past the new IKEA super-store. Now the lovely old bungalows with their gardens, where hashers have traditionally lived, are to be demolished.

Cambodia

A long hash for Phnom Penh H3. To quote from their run report: 'It's been said that the most memorable hashes are those that run closest to disaster. Nothing quite like that happened yesterday, but it was a little more chaotic than usual, thanks to an 8km+ walk (!) and a 13km+ run. Three walkers got caught out in the dark and rain in a construction site no-man's land, requiring a search and rescue mission.'

Malaysia

I see my good friends Stuart and Nancy Wakeham (Nancy Boy and Kung Fu), formally of Dubai, have joined the committee of Petaling H3 as GM and Hasherdabery.

Qatar

ter. Dildo posted the map to point out that this was one more site that was no longer reachable in ever expanding Qatar.

Thailand

Pattaya H3 mismanagement have ruled that this year they will not change the meeting time between summer and winter. The pack will continue to gather at the Buffalo Bar at 15:00.

Philippines

Angeles City H3 had 79 runners/walkers on a May hash. COVID really is fading into the memory! The hash also had thirteen runners on the 196th Clark Run. 'Congratulations go to Lucia who smashed her previous best time with a time of 51.43. And congrats to Kudu on his 85th run and to Bush Wanker on his 99th.'

Germany

May saw Stuttgart H3 stage a successful champagne hash.

New Zealand

New Zealand has locked down for two years but you still can't keep a virus out! Due to a few members catching COVID Auckland Hash House Hussies 'have had an outbreak of common sense and cancelled this week's run.'

OUTER HASH

Those who travelled to Trinidad seem to have had a great time.
We will publish an account in the next issue!

Navy Hashes

While hashing in Brunei, on the BSB H3, the RNZN H3 arrived in town and joined us. Their hash horn was a rubber tube with a funnel tied to the end. When twirled around quickly it sounded like our hash bugle except blown by an elephant. Awesomely loud. Will send a photo of last red dress run.

Happy days

Addis Ababa

Dear Shakes

I hope this finds you well.

I keep meaning to write to you to update you with some news about hashing from Addis Ababa but keep forgetting and now it's probably too late to include the news that Addis Ababa will be celebrating 40 years of hashing on 28 and 29 May.

This has been postponed twice due to the conflict at the end of last year and then due to the fact that many Ethiopian Hashers were observing the Orthodox Easter fasting season which means no beer or meat.

However, will go ahead on 28 and 29 May in the lake town of Bishoftu, 40km from Addis Ababa and will involve a lakeside run followed by beer and lunch and a party with dinner in the evening at one of the hotels in Bishoftu. There will be a morning hangover run in the town and the group will return to Addis in the afternoon.

More details and registration can be found online.

Don't lose the beer bottles!

Shakes,

Like your story on the Dar Hash in 82.

Funnily enough the no bottle/no beer protocol was the same in Baghdad at the same time !!!

I worked for a Lebanese contractor, MIDMAC, and the 2 best maintained materials in our extensive fleet were the diesel tanker - which had 2 drivers and was permanently in the queue at the refinery/delivering diesel to the camp then back in the queue - and the BEER pickup !!!

Both were IMMACULATELY maintained needless to say.

Beer could only be collected from the brewery on your one appointed day of the week and when the stock ran out that was it. We sent our driver the night before and he slept in the cab at the brewery gate!!!

Half inching empty beer bottles was a national sport - ours were kept in a secure lock up at the camp but some others were a little careless !!! Dingbat - you'll recall the fun !!!

On On,

Bugfucker

The Hash House - DEMOLISHED

Alas, The Hash House did not survive long enough to witness the wondrous growth of the sport. It was demolished in the 60's, making way for highway development.

"The Hash House is dead, we mourn the death of the original Hash House murdered by Bulldozer and Demolition - Only the Peninsula Hotel next door with its bars and girls - remains to tell the tales."

Mark Olver - JM 1949, 1956 Surviving Hash Octogenerian

Found this on the Mother Hash website and it ties in with our feature on the old Hash House.

Does anybody know anything about the KL Peninsula Hotel?

Hash Bash

I am based in Thailand presently at Pattaya ... I am nothing to do with Goa InterHash ... I am just a keen observer of editorial mistakes!

By the way, while we are talking, I just launched my new website yesterday promoting my SEVEN upcoming "Hash Bash" events in the next 2 years ... I would be delighted if you did a short (or long) spread on me and my 7 events in your next magazine ...

Cheers and beers!

From: Rittam Mittal

As usual a great magazine issue. I have prompted where I could :).

Incidentally it is NOT Delhi Hash as a support kennel-- it is CAPITAL HASH HOUSE HARRIERS. OR CH3 NEW DELHI..

This needs to be corrected. Delhi Hash stopped running almost 20 years ago!!

Ed: Thanks for the correction!

Readers Letters

Alasdair Hepburn sent this for the letter page but it contains so much insight into hashing in Scotland we have featured it as a full length article.

HHHi Shakes,

My cunning plan to respond to having my letter feature in the issue, along with digging out a picture of Leeky Willie (as well as some choice anecdotes) clearly failed at the first hurdle, as assorted other stuff caught up, so my procrastination moved into high gear (if that isn't an oxymoron, or at least a mixed metaphor).

So first off, thanks for publishing my letter about t-shirts - complete with sample photos. And thanks for more of that letter in this issue. (I'll forgive the spelling mistake of my hash handle :-))

I see in the letters that someone has misread the exclamation mark that separated the 2-person hash from the tale of the wandering Welshman, Leeky Willie, and thus wondered whether Leeky was in two places at once. Or even two people.

In the A-Z section, what was interesting was that Leeky had managed to excise all mention of the time spent as an Aberdeen hasher (and visitor on some of the other Scottish hash weekends). Perhaps because the unwritten rule is "Don't let Leeky in the circle", as he will then tend to monopolise it, with stories that go beyond the realms of "letting facts get in the way of a good story" and into "will this tale never end?"

On the AberdeenH3 1700th, Leeky was testing my reflexes, by seeing whether I could take a photo and still catch the rugby ball he was taking round the trail (I think I managed it)

Another weekend, another Leeky...

On the GlasgowH3 1600th, Leeky found an abandoned shopping trolley. For some reason he reckoned the safest place was to crawl underneath it. GH3 stalwart Barcode took a picture, while Struth (originally TNGTH3, now AH3) looked on.

For The New Town H3 (TNT H3) 1500th weekend, it was held at Musselburgh Rugby Club, with the pack pitching their tents behind the dead ball line at the end of the pitch. After a full on Friday, and a sensational Saturday (partying hard on both evenings), most were needing a bit of a lie in on the Sunday morning, before breakfast and that day's trail.

Leeky reckoned that what the pack really needed was some early morning Tom Jones. So he moved his car up beside the row of tents, opened the passenger door, turned on the stereo and let everyone hear "Delilah" at maximum volume. At 7am. With "It's not Unusual" making sure that anyone who had slept through the first song certainly wouldn't sleep through the next, somehow he escaped without serious down downs (though see the unwritten rule above about letting him in the circle) Lucky for him that it was a lovely warm and sunny morning, or perhaps he may never have lived long enough to emigrate to Canada.

The Titanic H3 which Leeky is founding in Halifax, Nova Scotia, is due to have its inaugural run on 17 July. He explained to me that he chose the name as Halifax was where many of the bodies from the sinking of the Titanic were brought.

One of the best bits of your magazine is that it brings out the stories. Kipper, for example, had never got round to telling GH3 that he was in HoV-MRCH3, until he featured in the A-Z a couple of months back. And certainly hadn't got round to telling us of the London H3 protest trail outside the Russian Embassy!

Moving swiftly on...

At the 2018 Dutch Nash Hash (which was also Hague H3 2000th. As Glasgow H3's mother hash, it seemed a good opportunity to attend), there was some classy Celtic singing (from my other half, Stand and Deliver). And then there was Ma Bouche doing the chicken song. Just in case we got any ideas about culture on a hash weekend.

During lockdown, when there was no real hashing, Glasgow, like many others, resorted to doing something on Zoom. In our case, it was a random quiz, which we tried to keep as non-competitive as possible (which is another way of saying that random bonus points were handed out to even up the scores a bit). From time to time, we even had hash visitors, which made the quizzes a bit more like a GH3 trail - the current stats show that around 1,900 individuals have hashed with Glasgow in the 37 years it has been going, with many of them visitors. Ma Bouche dialled in from São Paulo for one of them, and then proceeded to treat her cat like a scarf.

Has the typo gremlins crept in, dropping a letter from George Wilkes? At UK Nash Hash 87 he decided that it would be a “fun” thing to set off a CO2 fire extinguisher in the region of someone’s nether region. Usually freezing one’s sperm is done once it’s outside the body...

As ever, the history is another interesting part. I liked Haz’s account of trying to make sense of all the early anecdotes, to pin down the first Mother Hash run. Even far more modern history can have issues - the GH3 10th anniversary t-shirt has a different date from the actual 10th birthday, leading some to quip that GH3 has two birthdays (like the Queen) - the official one, and the actual one. This means that Falklands H3’s founding in 1985 neatly slots between Glasgow’s actual and official birthdays.

Reading about all the unearthed hash history, with documents being discovered years later, I had always assumed “that will never happen to me”. Until my father, clearing out his house so that he can sell it, found a folder of one of my university course notes. Strangely, the folder contained more non-university stuff than course work, including a Glasgow H3 hash trash from 1987. Once I have ready access to a scanner, that can join the ever growing collection of my write-ups (which is just under the 700 mark, if the virtual trails are included).

Thanks again for another engaging issue, with my comments this time not being left until too late!

On on

Interhash

Note: Rail Jerker is a veteran hash gentleman. I myself had the honour of knighting him as Sir Rail Jerker on a Bangladesh Nash hash some years ago.

Interhash 2024

Without any intention of upsetting the apple cart, dare I humbly suggest to the Interhash Council to encourage the Babadag, Turkey, bid for IH2024, and any others, so that we have at least two "Interhashes" in 2024 - one in March in Turkey and the other in October in New Zealand. This will divide the hash world North/South and East/West hemisphere-wise, at the same time providing for congenial weather for both. It will make it easier for more hashers from neighbouring countries to attend and enjoy the IH experience, and also bring qualitative improvement through competition, rather than monopoly. .

There have been instances in the past of two such international events - the official IH and the alternate (call a rose by any other name....) - taking place in the same year with much success. The reasons for my suggestion (which I have been airing for years) should not be difficult to contemplate considering the economic and other changes in the post-Covid, post-Ukraine world.

On On! See you in Goa!

Russian Embassy protests

From: Uncle Gerry (Surrey H3)

Shakes, in your March 2022 edition you had a picture of UK Hashers outside the Russian Embassy on the 5th October 1984 holding a "fake" demonstration following police banning Moscow H3 from Gorky Park, and asking for anybody who was there to respond. I was one of those. However having read the April 2022 edition I congratulate Kipper for an excellent piece giving the background and details of his attendance. However he did not touch on the outcome, which was unexpected to say the least. This was meant as a bit of fun, just shouting out things like "Free the Gorky Five", and lots of very funny Banners. Thereafter the intention was to disperse and go for a few beers. However the Russians failed to understand our sense of humour and pressed the panic button. Within minutes half a dozen police vans from the DPG (Diplomatic Protection Group) arrived on the scene, disgorging a lot of police who rapidly headed in our direction. The Hash headed into the nearby Kensington Palace Gardens followed by police both on foot and in vans. Being that the Gardens had lots of trees and structures we were able to disperse without, as far as I am aware, anybody having collars felt. Also we were much younger and fitter then. Rumour had it that the police did find Henry Liddell (Hooray Henry) in a Pub having a quiet drink where they gave him a good talking to, but then let the matter drop once they understood the "joke" nature of the event.

So there you have it, the complete picture between Kipper and myself unless anybody else has anything further to add.

Russian Embassy Protest

It is possible, indeed likely, that the Moscow ban came after hashers crossed a red light in front of a VIP limo.

However, a more romantic version links the ban to events in Beijing. Around this time two men, claiming to be Finnish diplomats, joined the hash and started to chat up Harrietts.

Okay, we have all done that after a few drinks, but these guys gave themselves away by only focusing on plain looking women who worked for western embassies.

Investigations revealed that nobody had heard of the new hashers at the Finnish Embassy. The horrible truth had to be faced - the hash had been infiltrated by the KGB!

When given real piss down-downs at the next hash, the spies surmised that they had been rumbled and departed. However, KGB pride had been hurt and revenge had to be taken. Not understanding the independent nature of hash kennels, the KGB took out their anger on the Moscow group.

Jorge Hash Morphine Holgate passed away on the 22nd April. He had first hashed in Angeles City way back in 1982.

'He was a true hash legend and a great friend.'

HIP Jorge Morphine

Ed: Malibog printed this tribute to Morphine in his monthly hash trash. This summary has been edited.

Jorge Morphine not only was a Great Hasher but a great friend both of myself and my brother Rob Malibog since we first met in 1982 when he owned the 'Dungeon'

He had an illustrious film career in such box office marvels as 'Return from the River Kwai'. He played an American officer in a Delta Force blockbuster and guarded the Dagupan Bridge against the Japanese in 'Harimao'.

All this happened in the 1980/90's and we did not meet up again until 2014 in Angeles when Morphine had recent returned after a stay in Perth.

That was the last time we met but both Rob and I have some great memories during our times together in Angeles and on the Ach3.

Murder on the Hash!

from his window saw Jama (now 16) running along the riverside. He was being chased by a man on a bike, who caught up with him.

The man apprehended Jama and seemed to punch him several times. The attacker was heard to say something like 'why did you shoot at us?'

Seconds later a woman arrived and spoke to the attacker and they left, leaving Jama on the ground with three knife wounds.

Shortly after the attack the Oxford Hash came by on their weekly run.

The boy's body was found underneath the foot-bridge at around 7.50pm by a group of runners from Oxford Hash House Harriers. They performed CPR until paramedics arrived to take over. The teenager was pronounced dead by doctors at John Radcliffe Hospital.

The loud bang was clearly a gun shot, and powder on Harun's hands suggested he had either fired, or was very close to, the gun when it was fired.

In November 2019 a man was arrested on suspicion of murdering the 16-year-old boy but was released without charge through lack of evidence.

In November 2021 a coroner ruled Jama's death was an unlawful killing. The case remains open but the police have no further suspects.

The Background

Harun Jama lived in Birmingham and, by all accounts, was a normal happy boy who liked football and computer games.

As a young teenager he liked to hang out at a local snooker club and this is where he seems to have met 'the wrong crowd.'

He was offered the chance of traveling to Oxford to sell drugs.

In December 2017 he was arrested for selling drugs in Oxford city centre. The police were the least of his troubles, for he had lost the drugs belonging to the gang back in Birmingham.

To pay for the confiscated drugs he was forced to make regular trips south, which must have been very risky as the Oxford police were now aware of him.

The Crime

A few weeks later, on January 3rd, residents along the Thames heard a loud bang. A witness looking out

Pan Pacific Hash

Pan Pacific is probably the least documented of all the international events and we were only able to put together this short report thanks to an article in a Papua New Guinea yearbook.

On On Magazine would love to hear from anybody who has ever attended any of the Pan Pacific events.

- The event took place in Vanuatu in June 1981. There was no indication in the report as to what edition of Pan Pacific this was.
- The first problem for the visitors from PNG was the cancellation of their charter plane. The charter flight was bringing the Vanuatu Rugby Club to PNG and the hashers had hired the plane that would otherwise be flying back empty. When the rugby team cancelled, only three of the 25 hash party could find, (or afford) an alternative flight.

- The three survivors had to travel to Vanuatu via Australia, where they hashed with Brisbane.
- They were met at Vanuatu Airport and refreshed with cans of Booth KB Gold, 'our staple diet for the weekend.'
- T-shirts and programs were handed out.
- Sydney brought the largest party, numbering 35.
- The early arrivals gathered at Ma Bakhers. It was a wild night, which continued with skinny dipping back at the hotel.

Friday

- Registration was at the Rossi Hotel.
- That evening the floor was covered in detergent to make an 'ice rink'.

Saturday

- It was out to a plantation for a 90 minute run 'too long, too hot and a lot of whinging poms but still a good run.'

Sunday

- It was a 60k drive out to a resort for a short run. Some stayed on that evening.

Monday

- A harriettes only hash.

Tuesday

- The harriettes again set the trail, but this time the run was open to the men.

Quote:

'the Sydney Harriettes provided many extra comforts. One group of three sharing a room was overheard saying that only one bed was occupied each night. There are many other such details forgotten to protect the innocent.

Vila laid on a great show - Thanks Vila hash.'

Glamour Singh - the world's oldest Harriet.

Thanks to: Ed "Hazukashii" Howell

Please join me in wishing GLAMOUR (the oldest active harriette), a HUGE happy birthday. Glamour turned 89 yesterday in Brunei. In the attached photos, she is surrounded by her hash mates, and they even wrote a song for her.

As a reminder, here is her story . . .

OLDEST HARRIETTE:

Rajendar 'Glamour' Kaur, born 9 May 1933, has been an avid hasher for over 50 years, and is the oldest active Harriette in the world of the Hash House Harriers. Her first hash was on the Brunei Men's H3 in 1966, during a short period when women were allowed to participate. Once the number of ladies had grown, they were encouraged to start their own club (and leave the men to their own fun), and the Hen House Harriers, the first ladies hash ever, were founded on 21 Nov 1966. Glamour participated on their first trail and was the first hen to achieve 100 runs, and the second to achieve 200.

Unfortunately, at one point in the 70s she moved to another town to operate a branch of the family business. Sadly missing out on the weekly fun, Glamour asked for the Hens to move their hash day to Tuesday when her shop was closed. They agreed, and Glamour was able to get back in on the fun, and the ladies hash has remained on Tuesday ever since.

Glamour states "There are so many things I enjoy about the Hash such as Halloween runs, 7and7 runs, Head dress runs, Pajama runs and so on." She has also travelled to hash events in Kuching, Kota Kinabalu, Bali, Tawau, and Labuan, and has "at least 60-70 hash t-shirts in her collection. Fifty years is a long time to be a member of one hash club. She said, "Many of the ladies that participated were expats, so contact has been lost with most of them." Although, she does keep in touch with two dear friends in the UK, who hashed with the Hen's in the 1990s, and both have returned from time to time to visit her.

Contributing to the hash, she has held positions as Grand Mistress, Egg Collector, and various other Committee positions. She still attends the Ladies Hash nearly every Tuesday, and has participated in over 1450 trails. Now at 89 years of age (and due to an old knee injury), she cannot run any longer, but is still a regular attendee to walk around and see her friends on the hash.

Tim "Buto Buto" Johnston - the world's fastest hasher.

Tim Johnston was one of the amazing group of British distance runners, including Bruce Tulloh, Basil Heatley, Ron Hill and later David Bedford, who made a global impact throughout the 1960s and early 1970s.

Tim entered the prestigious Bedales School at the age of 13 and in his first term won the Under-15s Wet Run (the two-mile, hilly road-run that everybody had to do when it was too wet for games). His time was faster than the one posted by the senior winner.

'That was Johnny, 'Bulldog', Vincent, four years older than me and the most brilliant boy in the school. He was so demoralised by my beating him that he abandoned running, and went on to become John Vincent, Professor of Modern History, whipping-boy of the Left on account of his columns in the Times and the Sun'.

On Parents' Day Tim broke the School Records at 440, 880 and Mile. He was twice Hampshire Schools Mile champion and narrowly missed a medal at the All-England Schools. This success led him to Portsmouth Athletic Club, at the time one of the strongest cross-country clubs in the country. However, there was no certainly Tim would turn to athletes as his greater love was cycling.

He moved to Cambridge University, where he trained with Australian miler Herb Elliott, the Olympic 1500-metre champion and world record holder.

Tim Johnston, in only the second marathon of his life, wins the AAA title at Cwmbran.

RECORDS BY JOHNSTON AND HEMERY

TWO images sum up last week-end's AAA Championships. One is of Mike Varah wandering around the infield following his disastrous 880y heat, an expression of utter disbelief on his face. The other is of John Cooper hanging over the railings seconds after the 440y hurdles final, smiling hugely although a well beaten third.

That's what it was all about at the White City . . . the necessity to impress the selectors. Thus John Davies gave a victory salute in the 880y, even though he had lost the race. The important thing to him was that he had beaten all the other British Olympic contenders.

Mexico City was perpetually in mind as one weighed up each event, and never more distinctly than while watching Dave Hemery in action. His UK 440y hurdles record of 50.2 in none too favourable conditions was a performance of the highest possible calibre, one that only two or three other runners in the world might have been able to match. This, Tim Johnston's European 6 miles record and Lynn Davies' 27ft-plus foul were the standout achievements of a meeting that remained Tim gets headlines in Athletics Weekly, setting a European record while winning the AAA 6 mile championship.

'As we laboured through the Cambridgeshire mud, he'd tell me that when you were hurting you shouldn't slow down, but run harder. It might hurt, but you'd get to the finish quicker, and it would hurt the other bloke a lot more!'

By 1961 Tim was making a name for himself as a junior athlete winning the Southern Junior Cross Country title and finishing 12th in the National race. These were excellent result for a boy who would still have another year in this age group.

In 1962 he regained his Southern Junior title and was 3rd in the National.

1963 saw he move up to the senior ranks and he took this in his stride. He won the Inter-Counties (then a very prestigious race), the Southern senior title and was 5th in the National, earning him a spot in the English team for the International race. That summer he experimented with the steeplechase.

1965 saw Tim regain the Inter-counties title and he was second 2nd in the National. He was becoming noted for his fast finish and moved past Portsmouth team mate Cooke to take the silver medal.

In the summer Tim ran a 4:08 mile, which placed him in the top 50 British runners that year. However, the race that established his future path was a rarely run 30km track race. Tim's winning time was a world record and estimated to be worth a 2:10 marathon.

1966 saw him finish 7th in the International cross country race and he was 3rd man home in England's winning team.

Running for Cambridge University, he was a member of the team that broke the relay record from John of Groats to Land's End.

1967 saw him take 5th place in the National, helping his club to the team title. This race would be the end of the Portsmouth era, as two of their internationals were retiring and another key member emigrating. That year Tim was second in the International race, staged in Wales. The winner was Gaston Roelants, one of the most distinguished European runners of the decade.

On the track Tim won the AAA 6 mile title, with Lachie Stewart (a future Commonwealth champion second and Bruce Tulloh (1962 European 5000 metre champion) 3rd.

It was now clear that Tim had a good chance of representing Great Britain in the Olympics, which would be staged in Mexico City. Tim, seeing the problems of running at high altitude, spent much of 1967/68 in Mexico to acclimatise.

Appearing on the front cover of Athletic Weekly was a great honour. Tim managed it twice

He was back in the summer of 1968 to run in the AAA championships. The event would be staged over two days and Friday evening consisted mostly of preliminary heats and took place in front of a very sparse crowd. However, the evening did include the 10,000 meter final. It was a great race in which Tim took the lead on the 14th lap and put in 67, 68, and 69 seconds circuits to break the field.

His Olympic place was secure, but two weeks later he entered the marathon trails, winning from Commonwealth medallists Bill Adcocks and Jim Alder. Ron Hill, a future European and Commonwealth champion (and occasional hasher) was 4th but would go to the Olympics in the 10,000 meters.

Come the Olympic marathon Tim was very confident and was in the leading group at 15 km. These included Temu of Kenya and Wolde of Ethiopia, both born at high altitude, and old rival Gaston Roelants of Belgium. Around halfway Roelants dropped off and Tim seemed certain of a medal. However, at 25 kilometres the two Africans raised the pace and Tim started to suffer. He was now an isolated third, with a long way to go and the pack chasing. He eventually finished 8th.

Tim was now qualified as a solicitor and when he came back from Mexico he taught English for a while, before becoming a lawyer-linguist with the EEC Commission in Brussels,

Tim was still running, but was having trouble with his Achilles tendon. It was badly treated and he never really got back to top-level athletics. He missed qualification for the next Olympics in Munich but, in 1976, at age 35, came close to making the team for Montreal.

By 1980, Tim had saved enough to retire and travelled around the world before settling in Mill Valley, San Francisco, where there was an enthusiastic running scene. Now 40, he still built up quite a reputation in local races.

He spent several months in the Philippines. That, and a number of subsequent visits, would provide the background for a novel. It was also in Angeles City that Tim also took up hashing, acquiring the handle Buto Buto.

Back in Britain he entered the property market.

'This was the 80s, when you couldn't fail to make money, and that was the case right up to the point that Nigel Lawson [Chancellor of the Exchequer of the day], by manipulating mortgage relief and interest rates, single-handedly destroyed the property market and bankrupted me,'

Tim struggled back, finishing his Philippine novel, teaching English and returning to legal translation and editing, this time at the International Court of Justice in The Hague.

"I retired again at sixty-five, in 2006, then did a six-month freelance stint with the Rwanda Tribunal in Arusha, Tanzania — a truly shocking, eye-opening experience."

Tim passed away in October 2021.

Tim the hasher

Tim started to spend a great deal of time in the Philippines and Angeles City

He was given the hash name Buto Buto and regularly raced in (and usually won) local events.

Not sure if he hashed anywhere else - can anybody help?

Who is the fastest FRB of all time? The other contenders

The first FRB was John Wyatt-Smith, who ran with Mother Hash either side of the war. John had represented Oxford University at cross country.

Dan Dancing Dan Schlesinger recorded the fastest ever marathon time by an active hasher, 2 hour 11 minute 36 seconds for 3rd place in the New York Marathon. He used Seoul H3 runs as part of his training.

Ron Hill, a Commonwealth and European Marathon champion, occasionally hashed while attending running events around the world.

On the women's side Maya Yamoucha (Myers) is probably the fastest ever Harriette and was 6th in the Olympic Marathon and 2nd in the London Marathon. As a youngster she hashed with Bicester H3.

Navy Hash

The German Navy visits Stockholm!

- Around 2004 the Stockholm hash was joined by two visitors from Germany.
- On welcoming the visitors it was discovered that one was Frank Lilly von Stupp Maginsky, the captain of a very expensive minehunter that had just sailed into Stockholm harbour. While Lilly was an experienced hasher, his college was a hash virgin. He was a nice guy, who was the ship's diver, a man who spent half his life in a decompression tank.
- After a good hash we enquired into the possibility of visiting the ship. Official visits were over, but the hash were invited to board the ship on Sunday evening as guests of the captain.
- About 8 hashers attended - Shakes and Nippy, Malibog and kids, Clever (now Sir Clever) Dick.

Anika (unofficial has name Princess Camilla) also came along, despite only having attended 2-3 hashes (which is still her lifetime total).

- After a guided tour we retired to the captain's cabin (which I was impressed to see had a HHH sticker on the door!) Here we downed beers, talked hashing and watched the lights of Stockholm shining through the porthole.
- It was a great evening.

CH3 2000th Weekend Event Write-Up

After 2 years of waiting, finally, on Friday 25th of March 2022, the Creek Hash House Harriers officially kicked off the weekend of event celebrations for their 20000th Run. Well, I say “officially”, the unofficial celebrations had commenced with a few hashy pre-lubes, starting with a Desert H3 run on the preceding Monday, a Barbies H3 run on Tuesday, a Hash Curry Club on Wednesday and a Creek H3 “normal” run on Thursday. Phew!

On Friday afternoon, the CH3 committee gathered in anticipation of registration in the hotel foyer. It was great to see many old faces from Creek hashes gone by, including a few who had taken long distance flights to join us; shout outs to Kiss Me Hard On and his wife Sux Me Hard On, Bonzo and his missus Feck Off, TOGA and his wife Jet Slag, and not to forget, Gladys. Another big thanks to the visiting hashers that also travelled long distance to join us for the first time: Hazukashii, Cum Brew Lay and Beer and a Bag Full of Dildos... good Times (possibly my favourite hash name of recent times!).

We sat and shot the breeze during registration while a few hashers popped in to pick up their goody bags of t-shirts, a shot glass, a beer coozie, all packaged up in CH3 branded bags.

Around 8pm, just shy of 40 of the hardest hashers, those attending all 3 days of celebrations, gathered in what was the first pub of the CH3 Mystery Pub Crawl! From there on, madness ensued. Much beer was imbibed at Headlines bar and then onto the Hookah Rooftop bar, where quote of the evening goes to Bonzo who, while looking at the stars in the sky and the wide vistas of Dubai said, “so, are we on the rooftop then or is there something else above us?!”

From the rooftop we had a quick pitstop for shawarma and falafel sandwiches at a local favourite street food cafe, the Al Mallah. Suitably fed we stomped onward to the Boston bar where the in-house Philipino band attempted to shatter our ear drums, before we moved onto the last “bar” of the evening at Di Mila, nightclub.

At this stage, all hell broke loose. With at least 5 or 6 pints inside them by now (or wine for the ladies!) one of our very kind sponsors, 3DB Events, bought a couple of rounds of Jägermeister shots for our pub crawlers. A large bundle of unmarked UAE Dirham notes was shoved in the DJ's hand and he was told, under pain of death should he should “not play any crap other than “70's, 80's and 90's bangerz!” Subsequently, there was carnage and cavorting everywhere; many a drunken hasher took the dance floor, with Ladyboy lying on it, shaking like an epileptic chimpanzee with Rhinosorerse sat on top of him. At this point, your scribe decided to mine-sweep the leftover Jägers and his memory became a little fuzzy...

On to Saturday the 26th and the Main Event of the weekend, the Creek 2000th Run. The 40 very, very hungover pub crawlers and an additional 15 or so fresh-faced hashers congregated in the foyer of the hotel awaiting a bus to the main run site. At this point, the CH3 GM was having kittens as the coach hadn't turned up (Ed: it wouldn't be a Creek event unless something went wrong!) but the situation was skilfully handled by Debbie. The hashers were duly dropped at the run site and chalk talk was given by the hares. A hash run around the streets of Jumeirah and Umm Suquiem followed, with a few false trails and a beer stop half-way in a children's park. Hashers, being children themselves, couldn't resist playing on the toys – Vomit and Camel's Arse, to name two! We then ran back to the circle site where more shawarmas and falafels were ready for hungry hashers, along with piles of nice cold Tiger beer and other boozy cocktails. A fantastic circle was RA'd by TOGA, welcoming the visitors and citing a few notable charges and down-downs for crimes on the run. There were some significant achievements to be awarded:

- 100 Runs – Called Away
- 100 Runs - Kate
- 200 Runs – Breaking Wind
- 200 Runs - Debbie
- 500 Runs – Shit'n'dale
- 800 Runs – Kiss ME Hard On
- 800 Runs – Bonzo

In true CH3 tradition, the Hash Shit was awarded for more serious crimes on the run....which was the GM Vomit for having forgotten to wear it on the previous two runs! The hares awarded the CH3 tradition of the (very large) Hash Prick to a lady – Rhinosorse.

From there, it was back to the hotel for a quick spruce up and then out for the CH3 Hash dinner at the Seafarer's Centre, a Dubai institution which even older than the UAE is as a country. Live music was provided by local duo Martin and Jo and a slap-up BBQ dinner and buffet was put on for the hash crowd. Much more beer and wine was drunk and good times were had by all. The errant coach arrived on time to take us back to the hotel and Ratshit lead chorus of singing on the way home with some fabulous renditions of bawdy hash songs.

As dawn broke on the morning of Sunday 27th March, many days of continuous hash and boozing had begun to take its toll on the assembled revellers. We gathered for the last hash of the weekend, the Survivors Run, and your scribe counted only 27 of the 39 registered attendees had made it. Many others were probably nursing hangovers as big as their bar bills by this stage. The 27 set off on a might arduous 2km run to the circle site, back at the Seafarers centre where the circle and final charges of the day were raised. Some excellent RA work by Dipstick nearly had the GM, Vomit, living up to his name as he was looking fairly green in the middle of the circle. He pushed through though to make it to the end of the circle, where proceedings were closed with a Helmeting! After whinging all weekend about how the CH3 had forgotten its traditions of the past, it was only fair that we followed those traditions and helmeted Shiteloaf to shut him up! There ended

Why should you hash?

Well, after 2000 runs you too can look like this!

ON ON THE CREEK!

the CH3 2000th weekend of celebrations, with much joy (and relief!)

Your scribe must say thank you to the many members of the CH3 committee that helped pull the event together and all those whom I can remember that pitched in in some way. In no particular order: Compressed Fart, Debbie, Heidbanger, Dipstick, Breaking Wind, Clog Bottom, TOGA, *F*cking Dipt-sick*, ShIteloaf (and Set Square Events), Spinal Crap (an 3DB Events).

All that was left was to sing the Creek song:

From the minefields of Fujairah
to the sand dunes of Dubai,
There's a buzz going 'round the Emirates that the Creek are up on high,
All the other hashes you can keep,
So boring they're a farce (yes, yes,!)
It's the Creek, Creek, Creek,
It's the one we seek,
Shove the rest right up your arse.
On On The Creek!

Letter M

Mac the Mouth

G. McAllister

Hamersley H3 (Australia)

A Hamersley veteran with 1600 plus runs (only hash founder Duffy has completed more). Was On-Sec on the second committee in 1979 and the 3rd GM of the kennel.

Mad Duster

Edinburgh H3, TNT (Scotland)

With over 1300 hashes on each of the two main Edinburgh kennels, Mad Duster is one of the most hashed hashers in the United Kingdom.

Madam No Blow Angel

Tornado Alley H3 (USA)

Started hashing in September 2006, having heard about it from a niece, who refused to take her along because she didn't think her auntie would enjoy it! Madam No Blow Angel turned up at a Tornado H3 anyway, and is now on 1000 plus runs, good going in just 15 years. Was also one of the founders of Wichititties H3.

Magic

Tim Hughes

Bangkok H3 (Thailand)

Timothy John Patrick Hughes, universally known simply as Magic, made a unique contribution to modern hashing. Magic was born in Staffordshire, England in 1944. A talented musician, he played with Bern Elliot and the Fenmen, who had a 1963 hit singing the Beatles song 'Money'. (Ed: I don't believe Tim was in the band at the time.) Tim then became a businessman, moving to Bangkok in 1969 as Managing Director of the Ford Motor Company. It was in Bangkok that Tim was introduced to hashing, joining Bangkok H3 in 1979 on their 112th run. He was appointed GM of Bangkok H3 in 1982 and first attended InterHash in 1984, where he headed the Pattaya bid to host the next event. Two years later Magic mismanaged the hugely successful InterHash Pattaya 1986. Soon after he left Ford to become a consultant in travel, conventions and hashing. However, less and less of his energy went into consultancy, as he became more and more a full time hasher and writer. His hash publications, Harrier International, Hares and Hounds and the World Hash Handbook, helped fuel the 1980s Hashing boom. He travelled the world to interview pre-war Hashers, thus recording much of our current knowledge of early hashing. Tim always had time for people, and became a hash guru who encouraged Cairns, Cyprus and Phuket (and probably others) to make InterHash bids. Magic also encouraged Milan to incorporate the Bordighera Hash. For all of this and more, Magic was awarded a PhhhD by a grateful Pattaya Dirt Road H3. Tim did have a life outside of hashing. He was an accomplished big-game fisherman, trekked the Himalayas and Andes, and continued his love of music. On 15 January 1998, while enjoying one his favourite Bangkok restaurants, Tim fell ill and suffered a cerebral haemorrhage. Tim was pronounced dead on 23rd January 1998 at 53 years of age. His grave-site overlooks the Chao Phraya River in his beloved Bangkok.

Magnum

Roger Moran

Yorkshire H3 (England)

Has clocked up 1046 hashes with Yorkshire H3.

Magpie

Tris Ockleford

Auckland Hussies (New Zealand)

Her brother, Phantom, took several years to get Tris to attend her first hash, but since then she has completed a record 1334 hashes with the Auckland Hussies and is still going strong. Hash travels include Interhash, Nash hash and visits to India, South Africa and Laos. Magpie recently won the Best Run of the Year Award, 'she's been trying for 40 years and as Trail Master effectively awarded it to herself!' Also clocked up 60 of the first 100 Mangawhai Heads H3 runs.

Maid Marion

Dave Parks

Petaling H3 (Malaysia)

Dave Maid Marion Parks started hashing in 1982 in Hong Kong and his career has taken him to London, Istanbul, where he was RA, and Copenhagen. He now runs with Petaling H3, where he was GM in 2003. He was the Operations Manager at InterHash

Man Magnet

Mackie, Gus

There was a spell when Gus Mackie was recognized and honoured as the man who founded Bordighera H3, the second oldest hash kennel in the world. According to the account, he had worked for the British military on the Malayan Peninsula during the 1930s and would join his brother on the hash when visiting KL. He spent the war in Europe and became a prisoner of war after being captured at Anzio. He later inherited a house from a mysterious aunt and settled on the Italian Riviera, where he persuaded the local expat community to form Bordighera H3. Gus was said to have died in 1971 and is remembered every year on the 'Ghost of the Coast Hash'.

Mackie, Rupert

Rupert was brought up in Kenya (or so the story goes). He went school in South Africa and University in England before coming to KL to work on the rubber plantations during the thirties. It was Rupert, rather than his brother Gus, who regularly turned out with the Mother Hash..

During the war he was captured by the Japanese and his health never recovered from his experiences in the prisoner of war camps.

Note: Whether the Mackie brothers existed or were part of a hash hoax is disputed.

Chiang Mai 2006. His wife Plastered was also on the IH 2006 Committee.

Maid Marion

Manilla Ladies (Philippines), Northern Beaches (Australia)

In the 1980s Maid Marion was living with her partner Scud in Manila and the first Manilla Ladies Hash set off from their house around September 1980. They left the Philippines in 1983 for Sydney where they continued to hash, Scud with the Posh Hash and Maid Marion with the Northern Beaches Hash. They have made regular hash travels, including to several Interhashes.

Malibog

John Denny

Angels City (Philippines), Stockholm Full Moon (Sweden)

Malibog means 'horny' in Tagalog and is therefore a reasonably common name for Philippine Hashers. The most famous Malibogs are Rob and John Denny, the Malibog brothers, who for many years were co-owners of the Birds of Paradise (BOP) Bar in Angeles City. (Ed: Considered by many old hands to be THE greatest hash bar of all time.) After leaving the Philippines, John had a second hash career in Sweden, where he ran with both the Absolut and Underground and was a leading figure on the Full Moon Hash. He retained links with England, often guesting on the Chichester or Brighton hashes. He is editor of a monthly hash trash that has a worldwide distribution.

Malibog Kalbo

Rob Denny

Angles City H3 (Philippines)

In addition to co-owning the Bird Of Paradise Bar, Rob was Joint Master of InterHash Philippines 1990. He claims to have been the first person to introduce hash bribery to the Interhash process by handing out free T-shirts to the Grand Masters! The BOP survived the closure of Clark Field (and the departure of the American air force) but was finally driven out of business by the eruption of Mount Pinatubo. The Malibogs set a hash through the knee deep volcanic dust just a couple of days after the main eruption. (It was a hundred metre dash to the next bar with mouth and eyes covered!) When the bar closed Rob moved on to other exotic spots, where he worked to support his hashing.

Was on the very first Baghdad hash and one of only four survivors still there for the 150th. The 150th Year Book has him down as completing 123 runs. Perhaps most famous for organising - and winning - the first ever Baghdad Marathon in a respectable 3:03.36.

Marsbar, Marwan

Balikpapan, H3 (Indonesia)

In a remarkable display of loyalty, Marsbar reached 1000 runs with Balikpapan H3 on their 1136th run.

Marmite

Underwood, Britt-Marie

Stockholm Underground (Sweden)

Married to Termite. The couple started hashing in Taiwan in 1985 and on returning to Sweden attempted to form a Stockholm hash. They were posted away before it could become established. They returned in 1988 and have hashed with both the Absolut and the Underground hash ever since. The last Stats showed her number 1 on the Absolut and 2nd on the Underground with a total of over 1500 hashes.

Mase

John Mason

Hamersley H3 (Australia)

After forty years of hashing, he has 1800 plus hashes to his credit, placing him in the top four of a notably loyal kennel. Was a regular committee member during the 1980s and GM in 1986.

Mattress

Molly Kirgis

Pattaya H3 (Thailand)

Founder and first GM of the Pattaya Hash. There is a profile of her in a Pattaya H3 yearbook, but it is difficult to extract a few facts from the bullshit! She seems to have been an American married to a German. She might have been involved in the medical industry (?), husband might have been involved in a railway project (?). The couple probably started hashing in Bangkok. Molly set the first two Pattaya hashes and when she departed had competed 45 runs and set 9 trails.

Mazadabator

Don Marker

Cairns H3 (Australia)

Completed 523 of the first 600 Cairns H3 hashes.

Megasaruarse

Edinburgh H3/TNT (Scotland)

First hashed around 1988 at the age of 17 with Surrey H3. Her sister, Hot N Delicious was a Aberdeen H3 hasher. In 1994, whilst backpacking in the Southern Hemisphere she found herself at Interhash in Rotorua, where Megasaruarse received her famous naming at a Guernsey Boys H3 hot tub cocktail party. Returning to Sydney she ran with the Sydney Harriets for two years and became the On Sex and started her career as a RA. In 1996 she returned to the UK and moved to Edinburgh. She has clocked up 550 r*ns with Edinburgh H3 and 650 with TNT H3 and has held numerous committee positions with both kennels. She is a joint GM of BRAS and Pants H3 and a master at finding breweries across the world that accept hashers in their underwear. Has now attended 10 Interhash events and numerous other world wide hashing celebrations. She has hashed in around 30 countries and was part of the Eurohash Scotland 2019 Committee and a joint Red Dress organiser.

Mellow Foreskin Cheese

Bill Wagner

Various Washington hashes (USA)

A lawyer by profession who, after some initial resistance was persuaded to join the Washington hash in 1992. Ran regularly but did not take on a committee position until becoming scribe around 1998. Soon afterwards, was in a bad car crash and had to take notes from the circle while on crutches. Now a noted hash traveller and has been GM of Dooly Beach H3, Mount Vernon H3 and White House H3.

T-shirts -classics

Around 2018 Dhaka hasher Little-Shitaly set a run and offered a rather nice T-shirt. His own name appeared in the colours of the Italian flag and the names of all the other Dhaka hashers decorated the background.

There was a hiccup when it was noticed that the RA, Bozo the Clown, had been left off, but Bozo took the omission well.

The design was so popular that Shakes decided to reproduce the design for the upcoming DOBBIE (Dar Old Boys and Babes in Exile) Reunion Hash.

He procrastinated and the job was rushed. He gave the printers the old design and a list of new names to appear on the DOBBIE T-shirt.

When the t-T-shirts arrived the name of the hare had been changed to Dildo Dan, but the rest of the names were unchanged. They still bore the names of the Dhaka hashers and were therefore quite useless!

There was just time for Dildo to design and print a new shirt - the Sandy Balls DOBBIE T-Shirt - which is just possibly the most terrible hash T-shirt ever designed.

There was a slight profit from DOBBIE, so Shakes was reimbursed for the rejected T-shirts that still sat in Dhaka.

A year later Dildo came across to Bangladesh with a small party of Qatar hashers - I believe Baldrick and Linda-Lose-Arse-Hull were there - and he was able to give out the T-Shirts on the Dhaka hash. (Remember they carried his names and those of the Dhaka hashers!)

Hash Classic Photos

The Jakarta Pussy Hash is one of the great kennels and they regularly produce yearbooks. The photos here are from the 1984-85 and 1991-92 editions.

Below: The amazing Judith Prosser. The Pussy Hash was formed to stop her hashing with the men! Right: A great hasher Susantin Sinarno.

The bridges of Jakarta The girder bridge (above) was quite dangerous, I am not sure how there was never a serious accident.

Above: A great hasher, Pat Kraemer
sadly became sick and died in Singapore.
